The third proposal submitted was a modification in the room search procedures. Resident assistants would be able to enter a room without permission only in the case of a health problem, maintenance emergency, safety reason, disturbing noise levels, or other special instances in which there was reason to believe that a rule was being violated.

During the discussion of these proposals at College Council, Andrew Hohman, theology/philosophy, argued that peer review panels are generally harsher not fairer. He stated that they "may be swifter, hasten action, but are not necessarily fairer." He also believed that Felicetti has better things to do with his time than to settle discipline problems.

Bickel responded that peer are harsher, but these students would be given a structured set of sanctions to help offset that problem.

Hohman also questioned the fairness of the proceedings that allows the panel to have an advisor, Bickel, and not the defendant. He noted that this is particularly unfair to freshmen and sophomores students who often do not have any clue about how the judicial system works.

Joyce Johnstone, education, shared this view.

Bickel responded that "students can defend themselves. They are smart.

(please see JUDICIAL, continued on page 4)
Letters to the editor

The Lighter Side?

I've only been here at "Camp M" since January, so I'm still on the outside when it comes to knowing what makes Marian tick. I have, however, noticed a group of people working in this paper, called the "Lighter Side." Being a first semester freshman, I hardly think I am worthy of judging someone else's writing — but I know garbage when I see it.

Each week I get my copy of the Clar and eventually read the "Lighter Side." At first, I thought it might have been a bad week. It could happen to anyone.

Time after time, however, the articles were wordy and full of nothing. What is the purpose of this beat? Is it to make someone else express his creativity.

This rambling dribble is a tragedy because with some basic writing skills and fresh ideas, the piece could be wonderful. Unfortunately, we, the readers, are subjected to an amateurish, slipshod fragment, full of inside jokes and hidden meanings. I say to the writer — you are responsible to the readers. Listen as we speak or please be gone and let someone else express his creativity.

— Kerstan Bayless

"Major"

Pride in Marian College

Intermittently for over 30 years I have been affiliated with Marian College. My son, Patrick, graduated from here. My daughter, Pam, is a freshman. I am completing my degree and have worked here for 10 1/2 years. Being part of the Marian community has always been a source of pride for me. I feel that Marian guides its students to be successful human beings. One very good example of this is the fact that Laura Sears Dietzen, a 1987 graduate, and Patrick Webb, a 1988 graduate, have been notified that they have been chosen as two of the outstanding Rehabilitation Psychology graduate students at IUPUI. They were chosen from among 28 of their peers. Significantly, these two also won the Joseph N. Hington Distinguished Senior Psychology Award while here at Marian. It is a real tribute, not only to Laura and Patrick, but to Marian, the Psychology Department and the English Department (which Patrick also majored in). All of us are very proud of their achievements.

— Deandra A. Webb

Thanks from Clare Hall Board

I would like to thank everyone who helped with the Knighthly Music Awards. The show was a success because of the hard work and dedication of many people. Special thanks go out to the MCS (Marian and Vince), the judges (Dr. and Mrs. Felicetti, Dean Woodman, Karen Childers, Mr. Brouwer, and Mr. Freese), Cindy Kopenes, Tina Kunkler, all the participants, and the members of the Clare Hall Board. Thanks also to everyone who watched the show. Your support was very much appreciated.

— Diane Raver

Clare Hall Board President

Puzzle Solution

An afternoon of history

By Stacey Nicholas

On Friday, April 6, Marian College held a special reception for approximately 25, mostly retired, Sisters of Saint Francis. Students had the opportunity to interact with the Sisters during a dessert reception in the afternoon.

I skipped my history class to attend the reception (yes, Dr. D'Alvia now knows this) and I learned more than I thought possible. Sr. Marie Therese, who wrote the piece "A Vision of the Sisters," showed me how to raise African Violets, "very little water, indirect sunlight, and love." Sr. Rachel Schulske introduced me to Sr. Ruth Griewe who had been working in Papua New Guinea. I got a quick, but enlightening, history lesson on this woman who has no better word for the numerous trips he made to this land from her. She told a group of us about the consequences of pushing a primitive group of people inside the modern age. Imagine throwing gold nuggets to kill small game. She doesn't have to imagine it, she works with people who have experienced it.

But the sister that really captured my heart was Sr. Adelaide. She is 93 years old and, as she tells it, her sister is 110 years old.

— Kristine Abel

Easter reflection

The cover of the Liguorian had the picture of "Jesus with His Disciples," by Willy Wedel. The title at the bottom was "A Time For Joy." The issue came out during Lent, about the time that the Church commemorates the death of Jesus. A woman later sent a letter of complaint to the Liguorian. She felt that the remembrance of Jesus' death was not a time for joy.

I completely agree with her. Even though the thought of his crucifixion and trauma of his death is so very sad, it is still a cause for joy, since his suffering and death was the beginning, not the end, of the beginning of new life.

At the time of his death, life seemed very bleak and hopeless for his disciples. The man that they had put all their trust and hope in had been disgraced, condemned and killed by their religious leaders. All reasons for living, all hope for their life was gone. In the midst of their despair, Jesus rose from the dead and renewed their vision of the life.

This gives us hope for our own periods of doubt, despair, and pain. We know that Jesus suffered as we suffered, and he will help us overcome the dark, painful times as he did. Therefore, no matter how dark life becomes, how painful our suffering, how deep our despair and doubt, we still have hope in the knowledge that someday our suffering will end and that we will have renewed life and renewed hope in the Resurrection. This is why the picture of "Jesus Laughing" is appropriate during the time we remember his death. In fulfilling us that he overcame suffering, sin, and even death and that he will help us do the same. This is the promise of the crucifixion and the resurrection. This is the promise of Easter.

By Stacey Nicholas

On Friday, April 6, Marian College held a special reception for approximately 25, mostly retired, Sisters of Saint Francis. Students had the opportunity to interact with the Sisters during a desert reception in the afternoon.

I skipped my history class to attend the reception (yes, Dr. D'Alvia now knows this) and I learned more than I thought possible. Sr. Marie Therese, who wrote the piece "A Vision of the Sisters," showed me how to raise African Violets, "very little water, indirect sunlight, and love." Sr. Rachel Schulske introduced me to Sr. Ruth Griewe who had been working in Papua New Guinea. I got a quick, but enlightening, history lesson on this woman who has no better word for the numerous trips he made to this land from her. She told a group of us about the consequences of pushing a primitive group of people inside the modern age. Imagine throwing gold nuggets to kill small game. She doesn't have to imagine it, she works with people who have experienced it.

But the sister that really captured my heart was Sr. Adelaide. She is 93 years old and, as she tells it, her sister is 110 years old.

— Kristine Abel

The CARBON

Marian College

Indianapolis, Indiana 46222

Editor
dallice Hesgavagn

Associate Editor
John J. Mathis

Production Editor
Michelle A. Schmel

Business Manager
Doug Lecher

Advisor
Dr. Brian Adler

Staff
Stacey Nicholas, Tina Kucisky, Michelle Lepo, Michael Riab, Beth Peter, Lucinda Gitter, Donna Sanders, Rob Deans, Kimberly Allan, Nikita Miller, Troy Skier, Doug Lecher, Lance Coons, Susan Schuppan, Karen Murphy

Normally, I don’t do old people. Yes, I know that sounds horrible, but they scare me. Seriously, it forces me to realize that I’m not going to be 22 forever. But this experience brought some comfort and hope because those stories were active, exciting, and very alive. They were living life to its fullest, even if that meant a little slower.

Normal life after a time is the highest compliments for planning such a wonderfully educating and entertaining afternoon.

19 April 1990
OPEN HEARING ON CONVOCATIONS PROGRAM

How are we doing? Where are we going?

The Convocations Committee invites all interested persons or parties to attend one of the two open hearings on the Convocations Program at Marian College:

Thursday, April 19, 12:15-1:15 p.m.

Wednesday, April 25, 3:00-4:00 p.m.

Locations have not yet been determined, but will be published before these hearings.

The purpose of the hearings is to consider the current performance and future direction(s) of the Convocations Program.

Background: The Marian College Convocation Program was established by the College Council on December 9, 1986. The stated purpose of the program was "to enrich the general education experience of the total college community and provide a broadly based program of prominent speakers and performers." The program is administered by the Convocations Committee, a standing committee of the College Council. The current Convocations Program and the policy as it pertains to full-time students during or after Spring, 1988, can be found in the college catalog, p. 51, and reports of the Convocations Committee to College Council.

Current Circumstances and Issues. Several factors have led the Convocations Committee to call these open hearings. (1) The committee desires to set forth a comprehensive policy to cover full- and part-time students across the board at Marian College. (2) For the first time, students under the convocations requirement are approaching graduation. (3) Some students and faculty do not seem to grasp the goal or validity of the convocation requirement. (4) Each department or group of departments was originally to sponsor a convocation. The initiative ended, in a sense, the work was to come from the departments. In the first convocations such as these have actually been the case. More recently, however, the Convocations Committee has been saddled with more and more of the planning, execution, publicity, and other responsibilities of the Convocation Program. What was once the coordinator and overseer has become the prime mover and day laborer. Departments have been reluctant to sponsor a convocation they have also been reluctant to undertake promotion with students and the proposal of alternatives as needed.

The Open Hearing. The above background and current status of the convocation program is the context of this meeting. However, the open hearings themselves are to hear your concerns, convictions, suggestions regarding any and every aspect of the program. The committee does not intend to debate the issue in those public hearings. Please come. In the end the Convocations Program will only be as good as the people and the work invested in it.

Senior scholars present papers

Honor colloquium

MONDAY, APRIL 23, 1990

3:00-3:15 Michelle Coulomb

2:30-2:50 Beth Mauer, Frances Kepes

3:15-3:30 Beth Mauer, psychology

2:55-3:15 Michelle Coulomb

psychology/biology

TUESDAY, APRIL 24, 1990

3:30-3:45 Andrea Suding, psychology

3:00-3:15 Andrea Suding, psychology

4:00-4:15 Faith Norton, psychology

4:15-4:30 Julie Herstrith, psychology

Marian College

345-405 Shelly Leman, David Page

All presentations will be given at Allison Mansion.

4:10-4:30 Julie Herstrith, psychology

4:30-4:45 Andrea Suding, psychology

Thursday, April 26, 1990

3:15-3:30 Stacey Nicholas

THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 1990

3:30-4:45 Raphael Bayless, history

4:00-4:15 Ray List, psychology

4:15-4:30 Prudence Twigg, nursing

4:30-4:45 Wendy Dawson, biology

All presentations will be given at Allison Mansion.

The committee is invited to attend.

When final exams are over put Pak Mail to the test.

Packing up and holding for home is a multiple choice problem... but your best bet is to put Pak Mail.

Pak Mail is your party to package, ship, and Air your packages. We can handle packages of any size and weight in a variety of materials. The Pak Mail office is now open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

PAK MAIL

Colo. 441-8650

Pak Mail, Inc. 1245 E. Main

Upon returning to Marian, the one-time pre-med major devoted her- self to the pursuit of art--some of which was exhibited at the college last fall. Visitors may have noticed displays of her "underground" publication, The FRANCES Forum.

Class officers announced

1990-91 SENIOR CLASS

PRESIDENT: Judy Clem
VICE PRESIDENT: Sue Bradshaw
SECRETARY: Beth Peter
TREASURER: Mike Strum
COLLEGE COUNCIL: Brett Spaeth
BOOSTER CLUB: Anneke Brinkman

* the other Booster Club Rep. will be decided by a run off election between Angie Parker, Penny Williams, Dan Kelly and Mike Strik.

1990-91 FRESHMAN CLASS

PRESIDENT: Susan Tadra
VICE PRESIDENT: Cindy Fields
SECRETARY: Heidi Kajszynski
TREASURER: Mary Dockery
COLLEGE COUNCIL: Jerri Tiller
BOOSTER CLUB: Mary Weinapfel and Melissa Morris

PRESIDENT: Peggy Taylor
VICE PRESIDENT: Ann Carson
SECRETARY: Kim Sull
TREASURER: Julie Meier
COLLEGE COUNCIL: **
BOOSTER CLUB: Jodi Perkins +

 a run off election between George Uhl and Elizabethe Lohr will decide the College Council Rep.

+ the other Booster Club Rep. will be decided by a run off ballot between Angie Parker, Penny Williams, and Chad Marshall.
The Weekly Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS
1 Unhappy
4 That man
6 Foreign
11 Correct
13 Seller
15 These load
16 Speech
18 Agile plant
19 Therefore 21 Greek peak
22 Undergraduates
24 Lucre
26 Clock
29 High card
31 Small island
32 Travel about
33 Printer's measure
34 Dry
36 Highway

DOWN
1 Health resort
2 Gets up
3 Fullfill
4 Courageous person
5 Wipe out
6 Fier
7 Zodiac sign
8 Hostilities
9 Revised: abbr.
10 Public announcement
11 River in Italy
12 River in Italy
14 Mature
17 Fommer Russian ruler
20 Spanish pot
23 Note of scale
24 Green letter
25 Flowerless plant
27 Narrow opening
28 Stalactites
30 Fat of swine
31 Hope back
32 Express
33 Apothepists
36 Spinach
40 Want
41 Mend with 42 Aggregation of 44 Half as old
45 Hawaiian
46 Want
47 Destined
48 Trinkets
49 Is destined
50 Part of church
51 Actual being
56 Vegetable
60 ·Poem
63 Destined
64 Myself

ATTENTION STUDENTS PLEASE READ

Noises Off!
Peine Theatre
April 26-29
8:00 p.m.
Don't miss it!

CONTRACTS DUE
Attention students: Signed Housing Contracts, $20 check and Meal Plan are due in the Office of Residence Life (room 160, St. Francis Hall) by Friday, April 27, 1990. Any student who did not receive a contract should get one from the office as soon as possible.

Knotty notes

MCSNA will be having roller skating party on April 28 at Melody Skateland. All are welcome to come! Cost will be $3.50 per person. Bring friends, kids or parents. We will meet in St. Francis Hall Lobby at 6:30 p.m. See you there.

Attention spring cleaning! MCSNA is organizing a yard sale to raise money for our club. If you wish to participate by donating some "old stuff," you may drop it off at the nursing building. "Old stuff" must be able to be resold. For more information contact Julie at 241-6305 or Mary Jo at 239-3958.

Commutors! The MCSNA will provide for your picnic lunches at the MC Jambooree. You need only present your Student I.D. at the picnic.

Attention all students interested in the formation of a Marian Pre-Law Society. An organizational meeting will be held Monday, April 24, at 3:30 in room 315.

Summer Jobs: college students who received and used a Higher Education Grant and/or a Lilly Endowment Educational Grant at an Indiana college or university during the 1989-90 school year are eligible for jobs with not-for-profit organizations around the state. Contact the financial aid office of the State Student Assistance Commission at 232-2350 for more info.