10-28-1953

The Phoenix, Vol. XVII, No. 1 (October 28, 1953)

Marian University - Indianapolis

Follow this and additional works at: http://mushare.marian.edu/phnx

Recommended Citation
http://mushare.marian.edu/phnx/31

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Campus Newspaper Collection at MUSHare. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Phoenix by an authorized administrator of MUSHare. For more information, please contact emandity@marian.edu.
Lecturers, Musicians Provide Trio of October Assemblies

Seumas MacManus, well known Irish writer and lecturer, addressing the students Oct. 27, gave the third guest program of the month.

A native of county Donegal, he began his literary career at 16, by writing poetry while he labored at farm tasks. Later he wrote for a weekly newspaper and then became the village schoolmaster. Fame and fortune came to him when he began to write down his heritage of folk songs he collected on the journeyings and residence there.

Lecturer Presents Alaska

"Land of the Midnight Sun" was the topic of an illustrated lecture by Edgar C. Raine Oct. 25. Mr. Raine's interpretation of the Northland was backed by 33 years of travel and residence there. During ten of those years, as representative of the United States Treasury Department, he visited annually every town and village in Alaska and many villages in Siberia.

The outstanding scene was Clare's defense of the convent against invading Saracen's, and the most touching was her farewell to her mother.

Marian Presents 'Shining Light' To Honor St. Clare of Assisi

Commemorating the seventh centenary of the death of St. Clare of Assisi, a three-act play, Shining Light, was presented on campus Oct. 11, at 8:15 p.m.

Settings for the play included the ancient Scif home, the convent garden, and the cloister itself. The historic event was Clare's defense of the convent against invading Saracenics, and the most touching was her farewell to her mother.

Faculty Participate In Lecture Series At Cathedral

New Chartrand Lecture series in adult education is being presented at Cathedral high school from Sept. 24 to Nov. 24. Two of the lecture courses are by Marian college faculty members.

Several months ago only the foundations of the administration and science buildings had been laid. Today steel girders and concrete pillars reveal the frames of offices and classrooms.

Administration, Science Hills Progress - cement moldings outline structure

Fame and fortune came to him when he began to write down his heritage of folk songs he collected on the journeyings and residence there.

Students Select Class Officers

Class elections were held during the regular assembly time. Oct. 7. Marjorie Hercules was elected president of the senior class. Assistant to her were: Fasty Miller, secretary-treasurer, and Alba Menzefiel, social chairman.

New Instructor Sister Mary Karen

A new faculty member in the modern language division is Sister Mary Karen.

News Briefs

Clare (left) in her palatial home, surrounded by her food mother Ortolana and her admiring sisters.

Agnes (at the window) and Beatrice (right). In these roles are: Judy Ruh, Marian Barbary, Penny Kelly, and Helen Logans.

Card Party, Nov. 19

Marian Guild Project

Annual fall card party will be given by Marian guild at the college Thursday evening, Nov. 19.

General chairman, Mrs. G. A. Busenmeyer, is sharing the planning and arrangements with three assistant chairmen: Mrs. Hershron, Mrs. David Mocari, and Mrs. M. Marjorie Waugh.

Sale of home-made candy and cake will be among the added attractions.

Proceeds of the party will be devoted to some project for the benefit of the college.
Faith of Today's Youth, Touchstone of Future:
Faith in God... in Country... in Family... in Self

The future of America can, in one sense, most certainly be predicted: for the ideals of today's youth will determine the country's tomorrow. Will the coming decades be a time of peace and genuine social well-being? A time when each will realize his true destiny? Or will the new generation know the effects of a youth without vision, now recklessly wasting its energies, blind of peace and genuine social well-being for the ideals of today's youth will determine the country's tomorrow.

Our Lady

By Patricia Miller

This is the first of a series of columns presenting Mary from the viewpoint of some of the saints.

"St. Francis of Assisi," according to St. Bonaventure, "had an unbreakable love of the Mother of God. Jesus Christ, because by her the Lord of Majesty became our Brother." Our Chapel of Our Lady of the Angels, cradle of his order, St. Francis wrote, "I will that this blessed place should be and remain a candlestick before the throne of God and before the Blessed Virgin burning evermore and shining." He requested to be brought back to it in his prayer.

Love of Mary was, for St. Francis, inextricably linked with love of Christ. His recorded praises of and invocations to her are many.

Perhaps this brief prayer, composed as part of the Office of the Faurical, expresses best his devotion to honor Jesus Christ, because by her the Lord of Majesty became our Brother.

"Holy Virgin Mary, there is none other like thee among women. Thou art and beloved Son, our Lord and Master. She graced with a look of the love of the living stones, built upon Christ our Lord and Master."

—Myrna Mivec

Phoenix Pledges to Underwrite Marian Aims

As Catholic Enter College Underway Year of Transition

With this issue the Phoenix begins the 17th year of publication, a year we hope will be successful for both school and paper. It will be another year to remember—a year of doing things in a woman's college for the last time, a year of building changes and campus transformations, a year when all of us will become a little older, a little changed in our attitude, and, who knows, a little wiser?

The Phoenix will try to report these changes and events when they take a place, in keeping with what will be our two objectives:

- To contribute to enlivenment of the Marian ideals
- To contribute to fulfillment of the Marian ideals

Tertiaries Give Award

Keep World Day

Sunday, Oct. 11, ordination day of the Feast of St. Francis Xavier was World Tertians' Day for us.

During this month also the Peace Award, given annually by the Third Order for distinguished service toward world peace, was awarded to Dr. Wu, noted Chinese government official and author, "Beyond East and West." The Interior Convicts among Catholicism's most noted convert.

Few people know that the Feast of St. Francis, held Oct. 4th, is also World Tertians' Day for us. Dr. Wu, noted Chinese government official and author, "Beyond East and West," is among Catholicism's most noted converts.

In Your Opinion...

What part can a Catholic college student play in city and parish CYO activities?

Loo Lied, Indianapolis—"Every Catholic college student should belong to CYO if possible. CYO needs older people who know their religion in order to work as Catholics, through CYO, into the world.

Mary, Catholic Indianapolis—"The student could get on a committee and help in dozens of ways to fulfill the purpose of CYO through CYO, through CYO, into the world.

Shelby Means, Indianapolis—"There are very few college students who participate in CYO. But, I think that a college student could contribute much since she might be able to offer advice and public speaking.

Monica Burke, Monroeville, Mo—"Our CYO has been so inactive that I don't think anyone could do it any good."

Mary Ann Frey, Middletown, Ohio—"Our senior group is comparatively new, but I can see plenty of opportunity for getting behind CYO, even when that means putting up quarters, sanding floors, and painting walls. It's great fun!"

T.Hit in the London of 1953

By Myrna Mivec

* * *

The Church and the New South by Stigler P. Ryan, Ph. D., touches on one of the vital problems of the day: the separation of church and state. He was recently asked what school his team was playing next. His prompt reply was, "Chrysler, the King.

A senior resident, seeing the unexpected "free day" announcement on the bulletin board last week, was so thrilled that she returned to her room, sat on the outside for several minutes, knocking on the door. You have to watch these seniors!"

cross Campus

By Judy Rebo

Bells toll the morning Calling to Mass, Blessing the days With the new building well on its way, and many new faces on campus, there are many things happening that never happened before.

Did you know that we have a hole in one of the dorms? Yes, the concrete pile near the chapel. (Underground tunnel to work school.)

Kindergarten, too, has its "first." Recently Elizabeth Dunklin, age 6, got on the wrong homeward-bound run—they just liked to ride in the station wagon.

"Have you noticed slight changes in any of the resident women lately?" It's the new look of 1953, created by the new "Furniture Movers" union.

In the first play of the year, Shining Light, Dr. Francis O'Hara's followers were represented by men "borrowed" from Father Fihhill at Alverna Retreat House.

Thanks, Pauline

When an entertaining alarm clock recently went off at 5 a.m., someone angrily asked the owner to get up and turn off the offender. The owner gently answered, "Peace to you both," and gently returned to slumber.

If you can be confusing. A junior grade student from Orchard school was recently asked what school his team was playing next. He promptly replied, "Chrysler, the King.""
June Graduates Busy With Teaching, Commercial Work, Graduate Study

School is still the major concern of many in the class of '53. Teaching in Indianapolis public schools is still the top item; those who have graduated are active in teaching, with the majority on the high school level. Some of the graduates have accepted teaching positions at the university level, while others have taken positions in the secondary schools. Graduate work has been pursued by many of the graduates, with a number of them obtaining advanced degrees in their respective fields.

The Phoenix

Dr. Larkin Donates 500 Volume Collection

A gift of 500 volumes from the personal library of Bernard J. Larkin, M.D., well known Indianapolis ophthalmologist, has been received by the college library.

Teaching, Chemical Analysis

In the high school field, Rita Sheridan is a history and Spanish instructor at Sharpiesville high; Marie Marzino, Spanish instructor at Mother of Mercy, Cincinnati. Music classes are keeping Audra Kraus busy at Lebanon school, Lebanon, Ohio. Experimenting in science, Mary La Method is doing analysis work at the Plimpton-Moore garmo laboratories, Zionsville.

Vacation Experiences Include Workshop, National Conventions

Faculty activities of the summer vacation included participation and attendance at conferences and national conventions. Menninger Foundation presented a series of short courses during the summer, and the National Catholic Welfare Conference has been held in New York City. A number of recent graduates have participated in these activities.

Class of '57, Class of Marys Score in First College Venture

Already the freshmen have memories—their class bus tour of Indianapolis, picnics, the faculty tea, their capping ceremony, and the first month of classes—all things of the past already. Two special events to be remembered are the freshmen initiation and the coke party given by the seniors to which they adopted their "little sisters."

Representing the largest student group on campus this year, the freshmen have 21 out-of-town boarders and 23 Indianapolis girls. Their class "boundaries" are New Mexico to the west, Southern Indiana to the south, and Ohio to the north.

Through their orientation program and guided by their class sponsor, Sister Marie Bernard, the freshmen are learning the "hows and whys" of Marys. A preview of coming attractions on the orientation program include lectures on personality, study habits, and library usage, and a film on grooming.

Unique is the fact that 23 of them have "Mary" or some title of Our Lady as their names. Five are plain Mary; three Mary Ann and Marilyn; two Mary Louise and Rosemary; and one each is Mary Jane, Mary Beth, Annie Marie, Mary Ann, Virginia, Lucinda, and Regina.

The freshmen seem to be well on their way to becoming a class to remember, especially for their willing co-operation at any time, for any project. Good luck to the freshmen!

Class of '57, Class of Marys Score in First College Venture

Alumnae Jottings

Alumnae Jottings

WEDDINGS

Margaret Moehn, '57, to Mr. Joseph Delaney, Oct. 16, St. Therese church, Indianapolis.
Alumae Chemists Discuss Careers

“Women in Chemistry at Work” was the subject of a Science club symposium Oct. 9.

At the invitation of the club, seven alumnae chemistry majors presented the cases for women's participation in their occupations.

Speakers and their topics included: Joan Woltjer Corrigan, ’48, “Pharmaceutical Control and Its Operation,” and Mary Lm Moohan, ’53, “Chemical Control Laboratory.” Both chemists are from Pitman-Moore. Representing F. L. Maley were Mary Carson, ’50, “Capacitors and Their Control”; and Joan Mortlock, ’50, “Chemistry of Less Familiar Metals.”

Brenda Mallen, ’46, from St. Francis hospital discussed the tasks of a hospital laboratory technician. On the program also were Mary Wessel Osburn, ’52, who spoke of “Quality Control” as it relates to Modernization; and Barbara Wood, president; Pat Doerger, public relations chairman; and Barbara Vossy, secretary-treasurer.

“Shining Light” . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

Bel Canto, Trio Sing

It was sung by the new Bel Canto ensemble, directed by Joanne Kluge, this ensemble and a trio—Joanne Kluge, Irene McCarthv, and Carolyn Zapp—separately contributed the other numbers.

Irene Kluge was accompanied, using the Minniness organ furnished by the Ashley-Wade Music company. Historic 18th century costumes were made by District 6 editor. The play was produced under the direction of Sister Mary Jane.

In the gray play, F. Phillip Marquard, O.F.M., director of the campus St. Clare Third Order fraternity, spoke briefly on the contemporary and world Third Order Day which coincided with the play date.

‘Shining Light’ . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

Bel Canto, Trio Sing

It was sung by the new Bel Canto ensemble, directed by Joanne Kluge. This ensemble and a trio—Joanne Kluge, Irene McCarthv, and Carolyn Zapp—separately contributed the other numbers.

Irene Kluge was accompanied, using the Minniness organ furnished by the Ashley-Wade Music company. Historic 18th century costumes were made by District 6 editor. The play was produced under the direction of Sister Mary Jane.

In the gray play, F. Phillip Marquard, O.F.M., director of the campus St. Clare Third Order fraternity, spoke briefly on the contemporary and world Third Order Day which coincided with the play date.

Open Red Cross Meeting Oct. 15

Proposes Intercollegiate Workshop

Red Cross unit opened its fall program Oct. 15 with an assembly meant to acquaint the students with the college's activities. The entire meeting was centered around a movie filmed at the Red Cross national convention in Washington, D.C., this summer. Service schools such as blood typing, blood donating, aid to the Gray Ladies, and home services were included on the agenda.

With the aid of Mr. Virgil Shep- pard and the Indianapolis Chapter of Red Cross, arrangements are being made to hold a meeting of college units here on campus this fall. The primary purpose of this meeting is to strengthen the organized units and to encourage other colleges and universities in Indiana to establish units. The officers of secretary and treasurer are being filled by Charles Ehrhard and Theresa McCarthv, new appointees.

Frosh, Sophomores Sponsor Fall Mixer

“Acorn Ambler,” sophomore-frasman dance, Oct. 16, was set in an atmosphere of autumn beauty. Campus sumac, maple, and oak leaves as well as acorns furnished wall and table decorations. Arrangements for the record dance were made by Dorothy Walsh and Marion Burdick, chairman and co-chairman respectively. Other committee leaders were: decorations, Judy Bade; refreshments, Joanne Hallowood; chaperons, LaVonne Moriarty; dates, John Abrams; tickets, Lil- lian Gonzalez and Mary Lou Cummins.

On the Rebound . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

Adorning lounge furniture additions, gift of the Student associa- tion; Rita Skillen, S.A. treasurer; Pat Doerger, secretary; Pauline Sielfar, president; and Mary Weshler, vice-president.

Thecla Runyan

Once again volleyball opens our fold of sports. Now soon will foot- ball replace our regular fall ac- tivities and “boys” monopolize the trophy cases. Only time can tell.

No future scores are predicted as yet.

Back to the present we find “sports night” in full swing. Intramural captains for volleyball are: Katie Bash, team I; Lee Lile- land, team II; Judy Rabie, team III; and Pat Burnett, team IV. Results so far are:

Team Won Lost I 1 1 II 0 2 III 2 0 IV 2 0 Varsity games already sched- uled are: opening games with Normal college Oct. 28; St. Vincent’s Nov. 4; and Indiana Central November 18. The “big team” has not been shown as there are so many out- standing players that Mrs. Cole- man Clark, physical education in- structor, is having quite a time picking “this” team. A.B.A. presid- ent, Katie Bash, says that var- iety players must be active mem- bers of A.B.A.

Flash! Due to the success of the A.B.A. dances, variety uniforms have been paid for.

Let’s make this an outstanding year of sports. Back the team by attending all varsity games. See you Oct. 28.

Legion of Mary

An additional service of the Legion of Mary this year is the sale of religious articles in the dining room every Thursday noon. On display are: chains, medals, statues, holy cards, crucifixion, and holy water fonts.

NFCCS

The NFCCS will be represented this year by Barbara Vossy, senior delegate, and by Ann Horner, the new junior delegate. Marian college contributions to the Scoop will be made by Clare Watson.

Third Order

Next officers of the campus Third Order fraternity are: Rachel West, prefect; Irma Klett, vice-prefect; Mary Elizabeth Kolos, secretary; and Mary Agnes Kodama, treasurer.

‘All Join Hands And Circle Left’

The lounge of Marian rang with laughter and music on Oct. 9. The cause of this joy was the begin- ning of the social year at Marian, a square dance sponsored by the Athletic and Recreational association.

Corn stalks, wagon wheels, and white barrels gave the place a predominant folk-dancing atmos- phere, while the caller, Mr. Henry Lohm, put everyone “into the mood” with his lively music and great variety of dances.

During the short intermissions, thely dancers revived their strength with cider and dough- nuts.

Campus Club Memo—Random

German Club

The German club's election of officers was held at a special meet- ing Sept. 26. Elected were: Ger­ trude Morran, president; Suzanne Coezer, secretary; Lee Lilelend, publicity; Gertrude Leonard, Jo- ann Hallowood, and Marian Pie- ter, activities.

The Rosary is being recited at 4:30 every Wednesday morning during October.

Home Ec Club

New officers of the Home Eco­ nomics club are: Clare Watson, president; Theresa Lowe, vice- president; Carol Wolp, secretary; Miriam Kern, treasurer.

The first activity of the club this year was the initiation tea for new members, Oct. 21.

Dual Editorial Staffs

Set Campus Precedent

For the first time in its 15 years of publication, the Phoenix will be under the direction of co-editors. June Brady and Rachel West, seniors, will edit the paper during alternating months. Each will work with a separate editorial staff, although reporters, business, circulation, photography, and art staffs will remain the same.

Pat Doerger, Joanne Hallowood, and Charlotte Ehrhard, with Ra­ chel, make up the editorial staff for the first issue. The November edition will be handled by Jean Ann Horner, Carolyn Zapp, and Judy Rabie.

Handling other staffs are Ther­ seae Lowe, business manager; and Emilie Murray, circulation man­ ager.

Campus Club Memo—Random

German Club

The German club's election of officers was held at a special meet­ ing Sept. 26. Elected were: Ger­ trude Morran, president; Suzanne Coezer, secretary; Lee Lilelend, publicity; Gertrude Leonard, Jo­ ann Hallowood, and Marian Pie­ ter, activities.

The Rosary is being recited at 4:30 every Wednesday morning during October.

Home Ec Club

New officers of the Home Eco­ nomics club are: Clare Watson, president; Theresa Lowe, vice- president; Carol Wolp, secretary; Miriam Kern, treasurer.

The first activity of the club this year was the initiation tea for new members, Oct. 21.

Dual Editorial Staffs

Set Campus Precedent

For the first time in its 15 years of publication, the Phoenix will be under the direction of co-editors. June Brady and Rachel West, seniors, will edit the paper during alternating months. Each will work with a separate editorial staff, although reporters, business, circulation, photography, and art staffs will remain the same.

Pat Doerger, Joanne Hallowood, and Charlotte Ehrhard, with Ra­ chel, make up the editorial staff for the first issue. The November edition will be handled by Jean Ann Horner, Carolyn Zapp, and Judy Rabie.

Handling other staffs are Ther­ seae Lowe, business manager; and Emilie Murray, circulation man­ ager.

German Club

The German club's election of officers was held at a special meet­ ing Sept. 26. Elected were: Ger­ trude Morran, president; Suzanne Coezer, secretary; Lee Lilelend, publicity; Gertrude Leonard, Jo­ ann Hallowood, and Marian Pie­ ter, activities.

The Rosary is being recited at 4:30 every Wednesday morning during October.

Home Ec Club

New officers of the Home Eco­ nomics club are: Clare Watson, president; Theresa Lowe, vice- president; Carol Wolp, secretary; Miriam Kern, treasurer.

The first activity of the club this year was the initiation tea for new members, Oct. 21.

Dual Editorial Staffs

Set Campus Precedent

For the first time in its 15 years of publication, the Phoenix will be under the direction of co-editors. June Brady and Rachel West, seniors, will edit the paper during alternating months. Each will work with a separate editorial staff, although reporters, business, circulation, photography, and art staffs will remain the same.

Pat Doerger, Joanne Hallowood, and Charlotte Ehrhard, with Ra­ chel, make up the editorial staff for the first issue. The November edition will be handled by Jean Ann Horner, Carolyn Zapp, and Judy Rabie.

Handling other staffs are Ther­ seae Lowe, business manager; and Emilie Murray, circulation man­ ager.

German Club

The German club's election of officers was held at a special meet­ ing Sept. 26. Elected were: Ger­ trude Morran, president; Suzanne Coezer, secretary; Lee Lilelend, publicity; Gertrude Leonard, Jo­ ann Hallowood, and Marian Pie­ ter, activities.

The Rosary is being recited at 4:30 every Wednesday morning during October.

Home Ec Club

New officers of the Home Eco­ nomics club are: Clare Watson, president; Theresa Lowe, vice- president; Carol Wolp, secretary; Miriam Kern, treasurer.

The first activity of the club this year was the initiation tea for new members, Oct. 21.

Dual Editorial Staffs

Set Campus Precedent

For the first time in its 15 years of publication, the Phoenix will be under the direction of co-editors. June Brady and Rachel West, seniors, will edit the paper during alternating months. Each will work with a separate editorial staff, although reporters, business, circulation, photography, and art staffs will remain the same.

Pat Doerger, Joanne Hallowood, and Charlotte Ehrhard, with Ra­ chel, make up the editorial staff for the first issue. The November edition will be handled by Jean Ann Horner, Carolyn Zapp, and Judy Rabie.

Handling other staffs are Ther­ seae Lowe, business manager; and Emilie Murray, circulation man­ ager.