'Spiritualize Youth, Vitalize Nations'

Realists of today represent organized confusion, organized disorder. Pius XII called them "disembodied spirits." Their concept is the unhappiness, the futility, the meaningless-ness of an unmitigated materialism against which they rebel but in no direction. If they had a direction, it would mean hope for them which they would also respect.

They reject us because we have a hope, the Church. Do we reject them? Do we rebel against them? Shall it be said of the Catholic youth of America that we have not been able to meet the challenge of hard and dangerous times? Shall it be said of us that we have lost the spiritual capacity to vitalize our nation?

Understanding Chinese Eases World Tensions

"What's this? Learn Chinese in school? Why, don't we know our Russian yet?"

A recent news release comments that the school child might soon be oriented to the Chinese language. With the tremendous growth of Chinese population, the Great Leap Forward now projects itself into the American classroom.

True, China is a world power, even, as some speculate, a world threat. But can the world afford to be without this opportunity to understand its people, their culture, their thoughts, their aspirations? This opportunity is coming to America's school rooms soon for those children who are the future of this world.

We do not reject the teaching of China in the schools. On the contrary, we believe that as China's power and influence grow, it is imperative that the world learn more about China, its people, its culture, its history, and its future.

Outside Activities Help, Hinder Leadership

The Knox College Student, Galesburg, Ill., ran this senior's view of American undergraduates:

"I feel the present status of the undergraduate college is unfortunate. With graduate school comes a serious recognition of the terms 'individuality,' 'maturity,' and 'accomplishment.' With graduate school comes the end of a thousand-and-one 'outside' activities — committees, boards and the like. So the college remains as either a finishing institution for high school or a preparatory institution for graduate school..."

This point of view deserves thought and comment by every American student.

First of all, "individuality," and "maturity," are essential. But can they be attained, to a degree, by participation in "outside activities" and the like? Student, and consequently adult-life, leadership is a valuable result attained by just such participation.

Many clubs also present challenges associated with the member's major field. By "belonging," one can therefore learn while gaining social graces, as well. Cooperation, perseverance, and the like.

What better way to understand a people than through investigation of their writings? In translation, much of the original significances can be lost. So, perhaps this language experiment will prove a valuable new peace instrument.

Editor's Notebook

We've been asked to stress the fact that all students and their parents are invited to the entire Parents' Day programs. There seems to be a bit of confusion on this point, especially among the day students.

We hope to see everyone at Mass and the smorgasbord brunch. See page one, column five, for details.

Also, the Popes hope for a big turnout for the Beaux Arts Ball. This year it's to be a Halloween masquerade, as well as an informal costume mix or stag. Read about it, too, on page one.

While on the subject of giving organizations a boost, the Pop Club needs your help.

The Pop Club is featuring a series of three reunion dances, one each Saturday night. They are scheduled for Jan. 18, Feb. 15, and March 15. All Marian graduates and alumnae are invited to attend.

Letterman to Crown Queen Tonight

by Dick Simko

After two seasons of intensive building and planning, Walt Fields has the pleasure of directing backcourt basketball. Practice with what is considered to be a college-age squad. The Marian Knights, losing only center George Wanting from last year's team, are deep in experience, shooting, and physical depth. Walt Fields is speed, passing, and defense, Coach Fields hopes to retain the varsity into a winning combination.

The outstanding players in practice thus far has been bounding Bill Swarts. Moving into the center position from his old forward past, Bill has an abundance of variety of talent, shot, pace, and ways that are a sight to behold. Although limited in size of him in the cramped confines of the keyhole, Swarts moves with grace and sincerity of a Bob Cousy. His tremendous rebounding should more than compensate for the loss of Wanting.

At the forward spots, there is a tight battle for starting honors between, Jim Schott and Bae Anderson. Field emerges from the game with the shooting and rebounding of Jerry Williams and Co-captain Pat Cunningham making it a worthy cause. newcomers Jim Stakeley and Bill Williams will see plenty of action the backcourt clash must for two.

At the guard positions, Coach Fields is blessed with an abundance of top-notch ball players. Co-captain Bill Murphy is back for his fourth season as a Knight. Bill has a shot that can only be called uncanny, defying any description other than the one's made in the hoop. Billy Janzen is an excellent defender and a fine outside shooter. Dave Field possesses the speed and driving ability which marks a good guard. Tom Mehaffey has been known for his fine passing of Tom Kelly sparked the most recent eye-catching addition in the system which Walt Fields has brought with him from Tony Hinkle.

With this almost unexpected acquisition in depth, Coach Fields will be able to substitute freely at any position without weakening the team. The team, as a whole, has on display awareness of the system which Walt Fields has mastered. Operation of both a heterosexual and driving ability which marks a good guard. Tom Mehaffey has been known for his fine passing of Tom Kelly sparked the most recent eye-catching addition in the system which Walt Fields has brought with him from Tony Hinkle.

The individual players are using their own initiative to operate inside the pattern without upsetting the basic design. Realization of their strengths and weaknesses and anticipation of moves on the part of teammates has added up to a smoother ball-handling and more efficient team.

The season opens with the City of Richmond Tournament Nov. 23 and 24, so set those dates aside and plan to be there for the opener. The final game of the season is set for the last-ditch rally and penetration of Tom Kelly sparked the most recent eye-catching addition in the system which Walt Fields has brought with him from Tony Hinkle.

Wara Announces Volleyball Season

Women's volleyball intramurals are played every Tuesday and Thursday evening, 7 p.m. in the gym.

Wara also discloses plans for a social event after the Christmas holidays. President Shelia McCann said announcement will be made formally when plans are completed for the affair.

Mr. Allen Donates Stereophonic Player

Most recent eye-catching addition to campus facilities is the hand-made mahogany stereophonic radio and record combination obtained through the instrumentality of senior Phil Allen. Donated by his father, Mr. Howard Allen, Jr., formerly with Magnavox, Inc., the floor console is complete with full-size speakers and diamond style.

The new music appreciation class, the need to add 200 students, and, as the record collection increases, students will be able to derive even more pleasure from the gift.

The purpose of this organization will be to promote school spirit and enthusiasm through athletic events and social functions, said Bay. "Mr. Fields and Mrs. Charles will serve in an advisory capacity."

Tentative objectives include promotion of transportation to and out-of-town games, and sponsorship of events in the Knight Club, and the cheerleaders, Club afterward.

Formation of a clawing block and organization of pep rallies are the next step. Sung in the Knight Club affiliated.

Music for the 8:30-11:00 affair in the Knight Club will be provided by the Squires. Tickets priced at 32 cents per couple, can be obtained from Jim Schott, Mike Siffertes, Dick Simko, Phil Allen, or in the Pez.

Bears, Rams Lead Intramural League: Vie for First Spot

After four weeks of play in the intramural football league, two teams stand out above all the others. The Bears and the Rams have both rolled unchecked to 3-0 records.

The Bears won a big game when they upset the previously unbeaten Giants, 18-6, after Paddy Cunningham's spectacular 80-yard dash had thrashed an overflow crowd of twelve, giving the Giants a 6-0 halftime lead. The running and passing of Tom Kelly sparked the bears in a last-ditch rally and they emerged from the game with their record unblemished.

The big win for the Bears was the 19-0 victory over the Carls. Dick Kallmyer, Bob Ayres, and Tom Mullen led the Bear surge as they rolled unchecked to 3-0 records.

For the Rams, the victory over the Bears was their biggest of the season. Coach Fields hopes to retain the varsity into a winning combination.

Radio Session Inaugurates Series

To teach students the operation of the auxiliary and professional in one atomic warfare, and the care of radiation victims in the target of the Radiobiological Instruments Operators' Course.

Recently inaugurated by the American Red Cross at Marian, the course will cover two hours once a week for five weeks. At present, students have mastered operation of both a gun counter and dosimeter — in addition to the art of detecting quantities of radiation.
