Pope Elevates President
To New Rank of Prelate

The college rejoins in the recent elevation of Msgr. Francis J. Reine, S.T.D., college president, to the rank of Domestic Prelate. Besides the new title and degree of honoris membership in the papal household, this distinction brings with it the privilege of wearing the "biretta," highlighting the missal at High Mass.

Most distinctive costume changes involve the addition of the chasuble, a ceremonial surplice-like linen garment; a shift in color from purple to amaranth red for services held in the black chasuble and to crimson red for the choir cassock; and the replacement of the long purple mantellone, by the short mantellone.

Morning Reke Reine has been a Papal Chancellor with the title Very Reverend since 1968.

Evening Division Faculty members receiving papal honors are: Msgr. James P. Cahalin, Ph.D., Archdiocesan Superintendent of Schools, received Domestic Prelate; and Msgr. Charles Kremer, M.S., secretary of the Archdiocesan Marriage Tribunal, Papal Chancellor.

Science Division
Employs Mr. Baker

Mr. John M. Baker, a native of Barrabyn, Ill., now resident in Plainfield, Ill., will join the faculty as teacher in General Biology and Investigative Zoology for the second semester.

A graduate of Southern Illinois University with a major in zoology and a minor in chemistry, he has spent the past three years at IU Medical Center in the research laboratory of the neuropathology department. He is co-author of several published research papers in this field.

South Campus Classes Begin

New music building, on South Campus, is ready for second semester use. Moving process, Jan. 29, involved the transporting of seven pianos.

Making possible by the combined effort of Marian's new music center, Sister Vivian Rose outlines other potentialities of the South Campus to Dave Mader, Sandy Mire, and Mike Canzella. (left to right).

Ball Highlights Pre-Lent Frolics
For Marianites

Sophomore class will present the annual Frolics' Ball, Feb. 9, 7-12 p.m. This is the last dance social function before the Lenten season.

Ballroom of The Continental will be the site of this semi-formal dance. Music will be provided by Nick Craig and his seven-piece orchestra.

Candidates are: Precy Tantilla, Natasha; Nancy Stipich, sopranos; Lois LeFever, junior; and Pat Miller, senior.

Tickets cost $3 per couple.

Christian Classics
Offered at Night

Two classes scheduled in the evening division for the second semester are of special interest.

"Christian Classics," a course formerly restricted to the education block, is being given for the first time to the general student body. Father Ajamie and the theology staff review works such as Cardinal Newman's "Development of Christian Doctrine" and "The Writings of St. Augustinus." A three-hour course in "Abnorme Psychology" has been introduced into the curriculum through the evening division. This course will be taught by Mr. Joseph Hingten, Ph.D., who is engaged in research at the Psychological Research Institute at the IU Medical Center.

Who's Who Welcomes
Ten Marian Seniors

Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, 1962-1963, will include the biographies of ten outstanding seniors, chosen on the basis of leadership, activities, and promise of future achievement.

Selected by a joint committee of junior and faculty members, they are presented in the following brief sketches:

Bob Hensel, Indianapolis, a mathematics major, is senior class treasurer and a member of the M Club, YCS, Players, and SRA. He was junior class president and has been a basketball player for four years.

Pat Sabelhaus, Tell City, Ind., business major, is president of the M Club. This year's captain of the Knights, he has been a leading basketball player for years.

Beth Sutherland, Ft. Thomas, Ky., chemistry major on the Honors program, is religious representative on the Student Board. A member of SCA and Sorority, she is president of ACS-CN. She has (Continued on page 4)

Marian PFA Slates
Feb. 6 Card Party

Parents and Friends Association of Marian College have announced their annual Blue and Gold Party for Feb. 6, at 3 p.m., in the mixed lounge. A special feature will be the unveiling of a colorfully AFS banner.

Admission for the event is $1.25.

Chairmen are: Mr. and Mrs. Dan E. Bosan, co-chairmen, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mivec.

AUFS Specialist, Hanessian, To Lecture on Polar Regions

Mr. John Hanessian, Jr., the first specialist to come to Marian from the American University Field Staff, in 1961, will return Feb. 19-22.

An authority on the polar regions, Mr. Hanessian will lecture on this topic as: International law and control of the polar regions; the native inhabitants and their life and work at a polar station. Also included will be an examination of the land reform of Iraq.

Extensive travels in the Arctic and Antarctic, supported by studies at Scott Polar Research Institute at Cambridge, and recent research in the Middle East have provided Mr. Hanessian with the data for his authoritative reports.

For the Marian students and faculty, the four-day lecture series will also be open to alumni and guests from local colleges, universities, and other interested groups.

Sales Tax Now Includes Schools

Because of a new ruling on the state income tax, schools are being taxed on a per pupil basis and will thus have to raise tuition. The tax will be 2 cents per $100 per student, with buildings being taxed at 2 cents per $100 per square foot.

In Memoriam

Nellie Burke, a 31-year-old mathematics teacher, died today in an automobile accident. She was the wife of Mr. Burke, a mathematics teacher at Marian College.

Febr. 16-23 Brotherhood Week

The week of Feb. 16-23 has been designated Brotherhood Week. It was chosen by the National Conference of Christians and Jews to recognize the contributions of Jews to our nation's culture.

Preparations for Lent

By a happy coincidence, Forty Hours Adoration will be held in Marian Church, Feb. 9-11, immediately preceding the forty days of Lent. As in the past, this event will be held in the church. The Saturday night of the first week will be a special observance, with Adoration beginning at 10:30 Mass. The services will conclude with Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent.

This time, right before Lent, is well chosen, for it enables one to spend an enjoyable evening of prayer and reflection.

In Memoriam

Miss Elizabeth M. Day '64, to Mr. John W. Crusoe '64, St. Patrick's Church, Indianapolis, Jan. 25.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

FYI

For the first time in about four years classes at Marian were cancelled because of snow. More than 21 inches of snow and deep drifts prevented many students and faculty members from getting to school.

Three students, including Sister Karen, sang, were debating whether or not to call off classes. Just as we were about to decide, there was a knock on the door. We opened it, and there was Sister Karen. Classes can go on.

School did end for the day at 2:10, much to the distaste of many Tax 2000 students who spent hours getting home only to discover that their class was cancelled.

FYI

Sincerest apologies go to Ann Delmas who fails from Los Angeles (the home of the Indians) and not from San Francisco as incorrectly reported in this column last time.

FYI

Congratulations go to the 1964 Homecoming Committee, the Clubs, WALK, McClub, and all who worked so hard to make this year's Homecoming the best.

Also we congratulate the senior class for winning the "That's competition and the Indiana Catholic Press Association. The "That's" were certainly a credit to their school and added spirit to the festivities of Homecoming weekend.

FYI

We regret to announce that beginning this month the supplements, Collegiate Di- vast, will not be distributed with the Phoenix. Because of the low subscription, the decision was made to discontinue it temporarily.

This seems to be the month for congratulations. Father Joseph Dolley, of the history department, received an honorary LL.D. from the Instituto Pedagogico de Religion in Caracas, Venezuela.

An anecdote was silently accepted by the players and the drama department, hosts of the annual Marian Drama Festival. The executive secretary and the directors of four of the ten plays were Marian students.

Opinion Poll

What About Early Posting of Exam Schedule?

by Bill Willameer

Marian students have divided opinions on the early posting of exam schedules. Some feel that posting the exam schedule before the semester begins is a good idea, while others feel that it is not.

Judy Koeck, a sophomore, echoed the thought that the exam schedule is a good idea. Judy began to review early, during Christmas vacation, and said that she found it helpful to have a posting exam schedule earlier put me in the mood and inspired me to get down to educational business." Because Judy is an out-of-town student, she was glad that plans for her class could be made early now."

Sue Charbonneau agreed with Judy, yet she said that the early posting schedule was a bad idea. Sue felt that it forced her to study earlier, which she did not want to do.

Sister Christine, of the Sisters of Providence, also did not think that the early posting schedule would help her. She added, "I think the new policy has actually helped them prepare for semester exams. As a student, I think it is a good idea to have an exam schedule before the semester begins."

Mike Schaefer found the early posting didn't help him to start studying early—just to start worrying two weeks ahead of time.

Carl Goldhaber, sophomore, who was enthusiastic about the early posting. Carl declared that the new policy enabled him to begin organizing his notes, and he added, "It has also enabled me to plan my time and how long to study for each exam."

Seniors Mary Ann Gaynor and Loveita Matrejek did not think that early posting actually helped them prepare for semester exams. As a student, I think it is a good idea to have an exam schedule before the semester begins."

Frank Wagner, senior, was in favor of the early posting because it facilitates preparation. Frank feels it enables one to clear out steps and gets to an idea of how to approach exam organization.

Andy Wagner found early posting beneficial, "whether or not you take advantage of it, because this way you can build each subject."

Dianne Ahern and June Breuck, juniors, didn't think that early posting helped them a whole lot, but agreed that it may sometimes help the students who asked for early posting. June echoed the opinions of her fellow classmates when she observed, "We have finals in every course. It does not matter whether we are first or last. They all require study.

An introspect freshman, Joanna Mouch, and Hal and Richard our class teacher, loves the exam schedule, "It was a great idea, and it's really helped her. Judy began to review early, during Christmas vacation, and said that she found it helpful to have an exam schedule early."

Sister Christine, of the Sisters of Providence, also did not think that the early posting schedule would help her. She added, "I think the new policy has actually helped them prepare for semester exams. As a student, I think it is a good idea to have an exam schedule before the semester begins."

Diane Ahern exclaimed, "My plans for semester break will be made after 2:30, January 26"
Honor Student, Donna Tatro Tests Smoking Effects on Rats

Donna Tatro, senior honors student from Rouxville, Indiana, completed her honors project of studying the long-term effects of smoking on the uptake of Iodine 125 by thyroid gland of rats.

So many other students have had similar projects or have discovered similar findings. Her conclusion is that smoking causes the thyroid gland to be overactive, leading to an increase in weight of one result.

Under the direction of Sister Mary Rachel, she started her project at the beginning of her junior year and completed it the following summer and completed it recently. She summarized her findings and conclusions as follows:

The experiment was divided into two phases. The first two phases involved determining the normal food consumption of six rats and then recording how food consumption and body weight developed during a test period of exposure to cigarette smoke. The results of this experimentation showed that there were no significant differences between the two groups and the test group lost weight under a period of decreased food consumption. When the rats began to increase their food intake, however, the growth rate of the test group continued while test group continued to lose weight.

This result impetus to the hypothesis that smoking causes a metabolic upset in the body and results in increased body weight was being established.

To study the activity of the thyroid, the isotope tracer method was used in which a radioactive substance (Iodine 125 in this case) known to be taken up by the thyroid is introduced into the body. By means of a scintillation counter, a special type of radioactive detector, the amount of iodine 125 is determined and measured in comparison with a control group. Thus the percentage of radioactivity would indicate higher activity of the gland. The result of the phase was that, within 10 days, the four cases out of four, the rats that had been shown to be active, was the control group.

The completion of her project was the final step in the honors program of 1963-64. She was a participant since her sophomore year. Donna received the program.

For the last two years, she has served as a member of the Marian Board, President of the college.

For the past two years, she has served as a member of the Marian Board. President of the college. She has been associated with Marian for 14 years, her daughter, Sister Mary Audrey, G.S.F., having been a 1946 graduate.

Knights Take Homecoming Tilt, 86-56

By BOB HENSEL

Well, our boys did it. The Marian Knights capped a perfect, homecoming week with a crushing 86-56 victory over visiting Con- centin College of Ft. Wayne. And in the last 12 sec- onds of the contest a blitz-wide open as the Knights led 12 of 14 points, the game was never in question as the teams posted their fourth win in 10 starts.

TOP MAN in the scoring col- umn was sophomore Jim Choke, who tallied 21 points and pulled off 10 rebounds to pace the action which featured a blistering fast break attack. Jim's principle scoring help came from Rich Dean, starting for the first time this season, and Bernie Schneider with 18 and 11 points respectively. To the Knights scored at least once. The combined efforts of Rich and Jim also allowed our Knights to consistently control both boards which also gave us a 42-29 edge in the rebound department.

Concentin was pulling behind 44-24 at the half, switched from their man-to-man defense to a zone, and used the zone to pick up the victory. Center Schneider and George Greeneron hit six quick baskets, all of which came from outside which enabled the Saxons tact to man-to-man play.

THE GAME, although never in doubt, was a real crowd pleaser and 14 of the Knights saw action.

Marian built up its edge and midway through the second half pulled ahead at one time 70-58. Both teams tried valiantly in the closing minutes of play with only seven points being scored in one minute interval between them.

Errors avoided too with the Knights collecting 22 misses and the Saxons 20.

Concentration could never get a drive started and the Saxons' lead- ing scorer, Bill Wohlfeld, was held to only 11 points for the first half. Ft. Wayne team was led in scoring by reserve guard Darvin Kersten with 14, 12 coming in the last half.

THE SAXONS could only hit .291 from the floor due to the best efforts of this season's defense by Coach Bob Vladoiu and Vil Donis lead- ing 1-2 shots for the 47 average.

Congratulations Knights on a job well done.

ON WHAT MAKES A GOOD COLLEGE BASKETBALL COACH

ON HIS NEW POSITION — "I don't have the material, some of the players, and the coaching aids such as motion pictures and training. I'm happy with the job. The administration has been most helpful. School spirit is fine.

But Marian is an independent team. We have to take any ref they give us. The intramural league has only two undefeated teams. The Saxons, defending champs, keep rolling—"

James M. Renzulli, Jefferson City, Mo., who tallied 21 points and picked 11 rebounds to pace the action which featured a blistering fast break attack. Marian's Maids defeated St. Vincent's 15-12, 88-76, in the college gymnasium. As the interests grew, Marian packed the gym, the contest was a real crowd pleaser.

George Donn Frerich, Helen Roos, and Judy Farmer hold St. Vincent's at the minimum, as forwards Carol Rose, H. J. Jacobo, and Mary Margaret Turk kept the Maids' point total well ahead of the opposition.

Gym Classes Taught Game Techniques;
B-Ball Games Planned

Mr. Clark's gym classes have been lively and interested, techniques for a series of games to be played this season.

Following basketball season, the girls will play badminton with a tournament scheduled for the team competition.

At the end of the semester the girls will take their skills of their sports in the gymnasium.

Several students have requested use of the gym for private practices on Saturdays. Anyone interested in using the gym for private practices on Sundays paid by those individuals using the gym. The amount charged for use of the facilities would be reasonable, approximately fifteen to twenty-five cents.

Those interested in supervising on Saturdays, or anyone with plans or dates on the above plan, please contact Dan Armstrong or John Swanson. Suggestions are needed and appreciated for the completion of this project.
