Five Catholic Colleges Melodize Here at Seventh Annual Festival

The seventh annual Indiana Catholic College Festival will be held on campus Mar. 28, with five schools participating. Others in the festival are St. Francis, St. Mary's, St. Mary-of-the-Woods, and St. Joseph's Colleges.

Following ten-quartet presentations by each college, the groups will combine to sing "Deep River," spiritual, and "Stauroi Miter," by Giachinno Rossini. The Rev. Lawrence Heimann, C.P.P.S., of St. Joseph's College will direct and Mr. John Yonker, St. Francis College will preside at the organ.

ND Choral Club Appears Mar. 11

Notre Dame's Glee Club will make two appearances on campus, Sunday, Mar. 11. The group will sing at 2:30 p.m. and again at 8 p.m.

Marvin's Bel Canto will join the Bel Canto in singing "Gently In Slumber," Schuman, and "The Song from Norma," Gold.

ICPA Executives Draft Final Plans

Final plans for the fourth annual convention of the Indiana Catholic Press Association will be formulated by the executive officers at a meeting on campus Mar. 8.

At Taylor University, Mar. 8, the convention will feature a panel of university presidents and publication representatives discussing the merits of campus publications. Prominent journalists will conduct the workshop periods throughout the day. Awards will also be presented for outstanding work on college publications.

ND Choral Club

Notre Dame's Glee Club will make two appearances on campus, Sunday, Mar. 11. The group will sing at 2:30 p.m. and again at 8 p.m.

Marvin's Bel Canto will join the Bel Canto in singing "Gently In Slumber," Schuman, and "The Song from Norma," Gold.

The afternoons production will benefit two groups, the Notre Dame Scholarship Fund and the Indianapolis Catholic Mission Fund.

Proceeds of the evening appearance will assist the local Notre Dame choral scholarship fund which assists four students financially each year.

Tickets for grade and high school students are $1, college students, $1.50 and adults, $2.

Following the evening program, a reception will be held at the home of Dr. Paul Mulher for the Glee Club and the Bel Canto.

The production will be presented May 20.

The King and I

The lead roles in the forthcoming musical "The King and I" were announced recently.

The King Joe Kempf
Anna Rita Moeller
Lady Thiang Pat Palmer
Tuptim Barbara Simen
Loise Lisa Tham
Michael Cantrill

The production will be presented May 20.

Indiana Thespians Perform

With Prof. Hawes Critic

Pygmalion and Galatea will be Marion's entry in the 43th annual Indiana Catholic Play Festival to be held on campus Mar. 5-8.

To date, six groups have announced selections of plays. They are: "Pygmalion" by Richard de Hohr (St. Joseph's); scene from "Istantart" by Walter Kerr, St. Mary of the Woods; "The Hope" by Eugene O'Neill, Catholic Theater Guild of Indianapolis; "The Brave of the Century" by A. E. Gross, Jr., Catholic Theater Guild of Indianapolis; "A View of the Red" by the Rev. Francis L. Kenzel, various interpretations of old and new drama.

The primary purpose of the festival, besides being a means to develop a broader interest in contemporary theater arts through various interpretations of old and new drama.

Sister Mary Edgar, head of the Spanish department, operates the master console, confers with a Spanish student who has signalling one of the booths.

2½ Years' Efforts Unveiled

Before Dignitaries Feb. 20

Official opening of the 2½-month language laboratory, equipped to provide the newest in teaching techniques, took place Feb. 20. The ceremony included an address by Monsignor Francis J. Reimer, president; a press conference; and a demonstration of the laboratory in operation, presented by Mr. Robert C. Merchant, West Lafayette, Ind., designer and producer, with the assistance of faculty members.

President Guests

Guests at the program and the lancheen following it, included Dr. Maximilian M. Patrick, associate director of Lilly Endowment, Inc., which contributed $12,500 toward financing the project.

The Very Rev. James F. Galvin, S.J., president of the University, attended.

Press representatives present were the chief editors: Patrick Raymond Butler, of The Crisis; Mr. John Acklemire, assistant editor of the Indianapolis News; Mr. Frank O'Sullivan, chief editor/editor of the Indianapolis Star; and Mr. Richard D. Peters, of the Indianapolis Times.

Recorded Permits Soil Evaluation

The laboratory consists of electronic devices by means of which the student hears and repeats material recorded in a foreign language. He listens through ear-phones, and as he repeats into an individual microphone, his voice is recorded on a disk or tape. He then plays back his own recording and hears himself as well as the model he is imitating. Thus he can evaluate and correct his own speech.

A national "first" is Marian's multiple-tape control which permits the instructor to operate the 2½-month recordings simultaneously and to relinquish control for the individual work with tape playback, stop, repeat, and similar operations.

Aural As Well As Oral Features

Into the preparation of the laboratory have gone two and a half years of science study and planning on the part of the administration and the modern language chairman, Sister Mary Edgar, Sister Mary Karen, and Sister Maria P foreers.

A six-weeks summer institute, a conference on materials and techniques, visits to language laboratories at other universities and colleges, consultation with professional and technical authorities, and evaluation of the equipment available on the market — all played a part.

The Lilly grant, by supplying the initial sources of support, was a decisive factor in launching the program.

Cynicen (Pat Palmer) upholds Pygmalion (Robert Moran), still enchanted by Galatea (Marie Mastrussero), a statue of his own sculpturing. The play, Pygmalion and Galatea, is being given Feb. 25 and 26, Mar. 3, 5, 8, 11, and 12, at 8 p.m., in the college auditorium.

Vol. XXV, No. 5
Marion College, Indianapolis, Indiana
February 23, 1962

Language Lab Addition Includes Nat'l 'First'
The Mellotones, at the invitation of the Kent State Student Council, will entertain on April 19 at 8:30 p.m. in the Student Center.

Dr. Charles Wilber, dean of the College, will be the speaker at the Kent State University Student Senate meeting on April 15. His topic is "The campus of the future." Dr. Wilber will also address the Student Senate on April 23.

The Kent State University Student Senate met on April 12 to discuss the proposed budget for the 1963-64 academic year. The budget, which totals $1,577,000, includes $973,000 for direct costs and $604,000 for indirect costs. The budget is expected to be approved at the next meeting of the Student Senate, scheduled for May 3.

The Kent State University Student Senate met on April 12 to discuss the proposed budget for the 1963-64 academic year. The budget, which totals $1,577,000, includes $973,000 for direct costs and $604,000 for indirect costs. The budget is expected to be approved at the next meeting of the Student Senate, scheduled for May 3.

The Kent State University Student Senate met on April 12 to discuss the proposed budget for the 1963-64 academic year. The budget, which totals $1,577,000, includes $973,000 for direct costs and $604,000 for indirect costs. The budget is expected to be approved at the next meeting of the Student Senate, scheduled for May 3.

The Kent State University Student Senate met on April 12 to discuss the proposed budget for the 1963-64 academic year. The budget, which totals $1,577,000, includes $973,000 for direct costs and $604,000 for indirect costs. The budget is expected to be approved at the next meeting of the Student Senate, scheduled for May 3.

The Kent State University Student Senate met on April 12 to discuss the proposed budget for the 1963-64 academic year. The budget, which totals $1,577,000, includes $973,000 for direct costs and $604,000 for indirect costs. The budget is expected to be approved at the next meeting of the Student Senate, scheduled for May 3.

The Kent State University Student Senate met on April 12 to discuss the proposed budget for the 1963-64 academic year. The budget, which totals $1,577,000, includes $973,000 for direct costs and $604,000 for indirect costs. The budget is expected to be approved at the next meeting of the Student Senate, scheduled for May 3.

The Kent State University Student Senate met on April 12 to discuss the proposed budget for the 1963-64 academic year. The budget, which totals $1,577,000, includes $973,000 for direct costs and $604,000 for indirect costs. The budget is expected to be approved at the next meeting of the Student Senate, scheduled for May 3.

The Kent State University Student Senate met on April 12 to discuss the proposed budget for the 1963-64 academic year. The budget, which totals $1,577,000, includes $973,000 for direct costs and $604,000 for indirect costs. The budget is expected to be approved at the next meeting of the Student Senate, scheduled for May 3.

The Kent State University Student Senate met on April 12 to discuss the proposed budget for the 1963-64 academic year. The budget, which totals $1,577,000, includes $973,000 for direct costs and $604,000 for indirect costs. The budget is expected to be approved at the next meeting of the Student Senate, scheduled for May 3.
Mike Noone scored the 35 points, a new gym record, the Tigers had witnessed before. This time, however, the home crowd went away happy as the advantage increased instead of shrinking. A balanced offensive featuring near perfect foul shooting was enough to top the high-flying Tigers. No one performance broke Rick Dunse's record of 44 a set a year ago. Cloak Federle added 20 points to that half during this second highest output of the season.

Richmond was the destination of the Knights the next evening as they took on the Goshen Goshers. Marian again built up a half-time margin of 38-25, but in the final 15 minutes, the Goshers fell a bit short and Richmond seized three points. However, the Knights had the final say and scored a 56-46 triumph over the Goshers. Although the Knights had 16 of their first 20 shots (speaking of streaks), the Goshers were not to be outdone as they sent Marian trailing by two, but the Knights were on top as they entered the half-time break. Once the Knights led at half time 41-36, it failed to withstand the second half. The Goshers came back with a vengeance as they scored in a first-half game, showing their proficiency at the charity stripe. Marian again built up a half-time lead of 49-44, but failed to withstand the Goshers' defense in the second half as the Rebels scored 55-43. Jim Watkins burned the Knights with 20 points for the victorious Panthers as Dave Peters hit a record breaking 33 points. Jan Brouillette took over, 53-51, with 6:08 left. The Goshers had 15 straight losses were by six points or less. Looking at it conversely, they would have won 15 games. Seeing it from another angle, the Goshers had dropped eight straight, 44-41, over the Rebels. The Knights won their fourth straight, 44-41, over the Rebels. The Knights lead was due primarily to their proficiency at the charity stripe as the team dropped 19 of 22.

Deadlocked at End of Regulation

The second half saw Marian miss their first eight free throws and consequently their lead diminished gradually until the score was tied with nine minutes left. After that tie, both teams scored a point each until the final buzzer. Neither team could control the game, but the tie at the end of regulation meant that both teams would be playing for the possibility to qualify for the tournament.

In the first overtime, each team hit for two buckets. With less than ten seconds to go, Marian had a chance to win. They dropped from 30 feet but the ball just missed (all from the free throw line). Marian proved fatal for the Knights in the second overtime scored eight points. In the third overtime, Hal Legate scored the only point for the Knights as the game was called. Marian won the game by defeating the Indiana University student nurses, 35-30. The victory avenged a conference defeat when Marian lost 35-30 to the Grubs. Marian hit 29 of 56 points, while Mike Backwell-Crubs hit 24 points. Marian again received a conference championship.

Marian's Knights are far from being a complete Westinghouse basketball team. When a team drops six consecutive games by six or more points, there are no records of indicating performance. The Knights' record, with no victories in the last six games, could be as lenient as eight losses instead of four wins and 17 losses.

Mike Noone, 5th ranking scorer in the state, drives in for another lay-up.

Intramural Playoff Games See Tigers Claw Chemists for Title by Dick Phillips

After featuring their first two games in the season, Cap-Hill Motors fans may have wondered if they were ever going to see another point scored in the game. The Cap-Hill Motors Chemists avenged a conference performance. The Knights' record, with no victories in the last six games, could be as lenient as eight losses instead of four wins and 17 losses.

Deadlocked at End of Regulation

The second half saw Marian miss their first eight free throws and consequently their lead diminished gradually until the score was tied with nine minutes left. After that tie, both teams scored a point each until the final buzzer. Neither team could control the game, but the tie at the end of regulation meant that both teams would be playing for the possibility to qualify for the tournament.

In the first overtime, each team hit for two buckets. With less than ten seconds to go, Marian had a chance to win. They dropped from 30 feet but the ball just missed (all from the free throw line). Marian proved fatal for the Knights in the second overtime scored eight points. In the third overtime, Hal Legate scored the only point for the Knights as the game was called. Marian won the game by defeating the Indiana University student nurses, 35-30. The victory avenged a conference defeat when Marian lost 35-30 to the Grubs. Marian hit 29 of 56 points, while Mike Backwell-Crubs hit 24 points. Marian again received a conference championship.
Track Team for Marian

by Mary Margaret Turk

Athletics in recent years has become a major activity on college campuses. Although in some cases this stress has reached an extreme, the main object behind competition is rewarding to both the individual and the school. As an “athletic” college, Marian has not suddenly advanced to the Big Ten ranks, although some of her students should have. In time this may be a reality but not by “Big Ten” measurements.

This month Marian students are interested in sparking a new sport to the already existing baseball, tennis, and golf—track.

David Mader

Professor basketball player and Marian’s List student does not feel it is a suggestion to broaden Marian’s athletic scope.

“Before arranging the question whether Marian should participate in the sports program. No one knows how to look into the question, can Marian hold a track team?”

It must be noted that during the track season Marian already has baseball, tennis, and golf—track. In addition, the services of at least 25 Marian men.

If a track team were established, it would require an additional 20 or 25 athletes as a minimum, presupposing that the interest is sufficient to be worth the effort. If these events were to be held, an additional 20 or 25 athletes would have to be recruited. The main object behind competition is rewarding to both the individual and the school, as an “athletic” college, Marian has not suddenly advanced to the Big Ten ranks, although some of her students should have. In time this may be a reality but not by “Big Ten” measurements.

Additional ideas by Carol Roedl, also a sophomore and Marian’s List student, are submitted to the suggestion to broaden Marian’s athletic scope.

“I am of the opinion that a track team would be beneficial to Marian. In order to increase sports, we can try to interest other students in the athletic program. If this happens, the sports program would also enable more men to participate in interscholastic sports. For all and every day men have been baseball, or football, which are Marian’s major sports. Track and field should have a significant meaning in favor of establishing a track team at Marian. However, if enough interest is shown, a team may be organized. We must consider that part of the students is interested in participating in bringing track to our school, and the rest of the students would be interested in playing track.

In Memoriam

Mrs. Ford L. Kellar ’60

Marian College mourns the death of an alumna, Mrs. Ford L. Kellar, Jr. (Marianne Segers, ’60), on Jan. 5, 1962, a graduate of the Esopus of Mary, after seven weeks’ hospitalization at St. Vincent’s. She had been ill since November.

Having inquired in biology, she was employed as a research assistant in the radioisotope service division at Veteran’s Hospital, West Textile Street. She had married to the late Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar. At the same altar before which she had pronounced her wedding vows, she and Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar, the late Mr. James F., a student at St. Vincent’s, after seven weeks’ hospitalization at St. Vincent’s. She had been ill since November.

Having inquired in biology, she was employed as a research assistant in the radioisotope service division at Veteran’s Hospital, West Textile Street. She had married to the late Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar. At the same altar before which she had pronounced her wedding vows, she and Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar, the late Mr. James F., a student at St. Vincent’s, after seven weeks’ hospitalization at St. Vincent’s. She had been ill since November.

Having inquired in biology, she was employed as a research assistant in the radioisotope service division at Veteran’s Hospital, West Textile Street. She had married to the late Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar. At the same altar before which she had pronounced her wedding vows, she and Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar, the late Mr. James F., a student at St. Vincent’s, after seven weeks’ hospitalization at St. Vincent’s. She had been ill since November.

Having inquired in biology, she was employed as a research assistant in the radioisotope service division at Veteran’s Hospital, West Textile Street. She had married to the late Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar. At the same altar before which she had pronounced her wedding vows, she and Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar, the late Mr. James F., a student at St. Vincent’s, after seven weeks’ hospitalization at St. Vincent’s. She had been ill since November.

Having inquired in biology, she was employed as a research assistant in the radioisotope service division at Veteran’s Hospital, West Textile Street. She had married to the late Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar. At the same altar before which she had pronounced her wedding vows, she and Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar, the late Mr. James F., a student at St. Vincent’s, after seven weeks’ hospitalization at St. Vincent’s. She had been ill since November.

Having inquired in biology, she was employed as a research assistant in the radioisotope service division at Veteran’s Hospital, West Textile Street. She had married to the late Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar. At the same altar before which she had pronounced her wedding vows, she and Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar, the late Mr. James F., a student at St. Vincent’s, after seven weeks’ hospitalization at St. Vincent’s. She had been ill since November.

Having inquired in biology, she was employed as a research assistant in the radioisotope service division at Veteran’s Hospital, West Textile Street. She had married to the late Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar. At the same altar before which she had pronounced her wedding vows, she and Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar, the late Mr. James F., a student at St. Vincent’s, after seven weeks’ hospitalization at St. Vincent’s. She had been ill since November.

Having inquired in biology, she was employed as a research assistant in the radioisotope service division at Veteran’s Hospital, West Textile Street. She had married to the late Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar. At the same altar before which she had pronounced her wedding vows, she and Mr. James F. and Robert Paul Kellar, the late Mr. James F., a student at St. Vincent’s, after seven weeks’ hospitalization at St. Vincent’s. She had been ill since November.