12-20-1961

The Phoenix, Vol. XXV, No. 3 (December 20, 1961)

Marian University - Indianapolis

Follow this and additional works at: http://mushare.marian.edu/phnx

Part of the Journalism Studies Commons, and the Publishing Commons

Recommended Citation
http://mushare.marian.edu/phnx/76

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Campus Newspaper Collection at MUShare. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Phoenix by an authorized administrator of MUShare. For more information, please contact emandity@marian.edu.
Annual College Homecoming Commemorates 25th Jubilee

Theme of the 1961-62 Homecoming will be "Pride of the Past, Hope for the Future," and will be based on the 25th anniversary of the college.

Highlight of the two-day celebration will be the 1961 Christmas Madonna, which follows the dress-up dinner and dance at 8 p.m. Price of the evening will be $1.50 for students and $2 for others.

The Madonna tableau, Fantasy Climax Series Of Pre-Christmas Campus Observances

Enigmatic Poetess Here Jan. 18

Announcing the candidates...

Newspaper Descriptions Second Indiana Collegiate Personal Recruit Plan

Student Traces Steps of Homeland Independence

by Flaviana Joseph

Thousands of green, black, and gold flags were hoisted Dec. 9 throughout Tanganyika as independence, for these East African country held its first independence system since 1946, the former British protectorate. The latter of internal government assumption of internal government and full independence. The latter date was forward to Dec. 9. Unusual is the fact that the

New Bill Places Emphasis on Arts

Lecturer Rates Role of Arabs

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

Newspaper Descriptions Second Indiana Collegiate Personal Recruit Plan

Student Traces Steps of Homeland Independence

by Flaviana Joseph

Thousands of green, black, and gold flags were hoisted Dec. 9 throughout Tanganyika as independence, for these East African country held its first independence system since 1946, the former British protectorate. The latter of internal government assumption of internal government and full independence. The latter date was forward to Dec. 9. Unusual is the fact that the

New Bill Places Emphasis on Arts

Lecturer Rates Role of Arabs

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Priest in the Mass, in answer to the question of the students. "Why did God make us?"

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"

Prelate Offers Patronal Mass

"Choose a vocation in which you can give something," Archbishop Paul C. Schotz told the students, "to the best of your ability."

"Why did God make us?"
Coffee Sessions Stimulate Students to Serious Subjects

Mr. and Mrs. College Student met at opposite ends of a long table, pondering over a steaming cup of coffee.

In a little less than a four-hour period, the Pere had been magically transformed from an ailable student to a serious-minded group of concerned students.

Should Red China be admitted to the United Nations? This question was discussed in a recent YCS session. Since in many of the students' careers, the coffee hour has visually increased in popularity with the students.

In an exchange of opinions, students voiced their views on the present condition of the November YCS coffee. Begin in 1948, as a means of fostering closer faculty-student relations, the coffee hour has steadily increased in popularity with the students.

YCS President Ellen Burdette noted that, in the coffee hour's formative stages, various faculty members addressed students on topics with which they personally were acquainted.

"There was no coffee here," she laughed, by morning, "but we certainly had ideas". Idea of Discussion Hour.

In 1949 YCS members decided that the activity needed more life, so the idea of monthly discussions, with only a minimum amount of formalities, was initiated:

"What did YCS start the week while coffee hour?" Ellen stated that it was originated by a group of interested students aware of the problem facing the world. Now, if YCS would maintain control over the discussion, the president replied, "No, it was my idea and Mrs. College Student is free to take control at any time."

One point taken of the coffee hour is the International Affairs organization, which is in the process of formation.

Propaganda Not Necessary

The coffee hour is not like a class for one does not have to come prepared. To secure more interest in future discussions, typewritten sheets will be handed out with information and space for problems.

Quainted about the activity's success, Ellen responded, "The people who have been there come back."

Inductive of the coffee hour's popularity has been the fact that requests were received at the end of the year and the beginning of the year for its continuation. Also added that other colleges have been impressed by the idea and are considering initiation of inquiring something similar.

What better way would there be to start the year up to the big coffee hour than by participating in the January discussion which is to be on Federal aid to education?

Art Projects' Trio Molds Adaptable Statue of Virgin

By Paule Young

Since the beginning of the semester, marking the opening of Marian's 27th year, three ambitious and talented students of the art department have been diligently and artistically designing and sculpturing a firing-rod statue of the Madonna. The craftsmen are: Mary Mastroserio, Marlee Scheckel, and Marie Mastruserio. Superior initiative was needed to embark on this Special Project one on the Caribbean peoples, the Catholic Church, . . .

Students to Serious Subjects

Since the beginning of the semester, marking the opening of Marian's 27th year, three ambitious and talented students of the art department have been diligently and artistically designing and sculpturing a firing-rod statue of the Madonna. The craftsmen are: Mary Mastroserio, Marlee Scheckel, and Marie Mastruserio. Superior initiative was needed to embark on this Special Project one on the Caribbean peoples, the Catholic Church, . . .

"Coffee Sessions Stimulate Students to Serious Subjects"

Mr. and Mrs. College Student met at opposite ends of a long table, pondering over a steaming cup of coffee.

In a little less than a four-hour period, the Pere had been magically transformed from an available student to a serious-minded group of concerned students.

Should Red China be admitted to the United Nations? This question was discussed in a recent YCS session. Since in many of the students careers, the coffee hour has visually increased in popularity with the students.

YCS President Ellen Burdette noted that, in the coffee hour's formative stages, various faculty members addressed students on topics with which they personally were acquainted. "There was no coffee here," she laughed, by morning, "but we certainly had ideas." Idea of Discussion Hour.

In 1949 YCS members decided that the activity needed more life, so the idea of monthly discussions, with only a minimum amount of formalities, was initiated.

"What did YCS start the week while coffee hour?" Ellen stated that it was originated by a group of interested students aware of the problem facing the world. Now, if YCS would maintain control over the discussion, the president replied, "No, it was my idea and Mrs. College Student is free to take control at any time."

One point taken of the coffee hour is the International Affairs organization, which is in the process of formation.

Propaganda Not Necessary

The coffee hour is not like a class for one does not have to come prepared. To secure more interest in future discussions, typewritten sheets will be handed out with information and space for problems.

Quainted about the activity's success, Ellen responded, "The people who have been there come back."

Inductive of the coffee hour's popularity has been the fact that requests were received at the end of the year and the beginning of the year for its continuation. Also added that other colleges have been impressed by the idea and are considering initiation of inquiring something similar.

What better way would there be to start the year up to the big coffee hour than by participating in the January discussion which is to be on Federal aid to education?

Art Projects' Trio Molds Adaptable Statue of Virgin

By Paule Young

Since the beginning of the semester, marking the opening of Marian's 27th year, three ambitious and talented students of the art department have been diligently and artistically designing and sculpturing a firing-rod statue of the Madonna. The craftsmen are: Mary Mastroserio, Marlee Scheckel, and Marie Mastruserio. Superior initiative was needed to embark on this Special Project one on the Caribbean peoples, the Catholic Church, . . .

Students to Serious Subjects

Since the beginning of the semester, marking the opening of Marian's 27th year, three ambitious and talented students of the art department have been diligently and artistically designing and sculpturing a firing-rod statue of the Madonna. The craftsmen are: Mary Mastroserio, Marlee Scheckel, and Marie Mastruserio. Superior initiative was needed to embark on this Special Project one on the Caribbean peoples, the Catholic Church, . . .

"Coffee Sessions Stimulate Students to Serious Subjects"

Mr. and Mrs. College Student met at opposite ends of a long table, pondering over a steaming cup of coffee.

In a little less than a four-hour period, the Pere had been magically transformed from an available student to a serious-minded group of concerned students.

Should Red China be admitted to the United Nations? This question was discussed in a recent YCS session. Since in many of the students careers, the coffee hour has visually increased in popularity with the students.

YCS President Ellen Burdette noted that, in the coffee hour's formative stages, various faculty members addressed students on topics with which they personally were acquainted. "There was no coffee here," she laughed, by morning, "but we certainly had ideas." Idea of Discussion Hour.

In 1949 YCS members decided that the activity needed more life, so the idea of monthly discussions, with only a minimum amount of formalities, was initiated.

"What did YCS start the week while coffee hour?" Ellen stated that it was originated by a group of interested students aware of the problem facing the world. Now, if YCS would maintain control over the discussion, the president replied, "No, it was my idea and Mrs. College Student is free to take control at any time."

One point taken of the coffee hour is the International Affairs organization, which is in the process of formation.

Propaganda Not Necessary

The coffee hour is not like a class for one does not have to come prepared. To secure more interest in future discussions, typewritten sheets will be handed out with information and space for problems.

Quainted about the activity's success, Ellen responded, "The people who have been there come back."

Inductive of the coffee hour's popularity has been the fact that requests were received at the end of the year and the beginning of the year for its continuation. Also added that other colleges have been impressed by the idea and are considering initiation of inquiring something similar.

What better way would there be to start the year up to the big coffee hour than by participating in the January discussion which is to be on Federal aid to education?

Art Projects' Trio Molds Adaptable Statue of Virgin

By Paule Young

Since the beginning of the semester, marking the opening of Marian's 27th year, three ambitious and talented students of the art department have been diligently and artistically designing and sculpturing a firing-rod statue of the Madonna. The craftsmen are: Mary Mastroserio, Marlee Scheckel, and Marie Mastruserio. Superior initiative was needed to embark on this Special Project one on the Caribbean peoples, the Catholic Church, . . .

Students to Serious Subjects

Since the beginning of the semester, marking the opening of Marian's 27th year, three ambitious and talented students of the art department have been diligently and artistically designing and sculpturing a firing-rod statue of the Madonna. The craftsmen are: Mary Mastroserio, Marlee Scheckel, and Marie Mastruserio. Superior initiative was needed to embark on this Special Project one on the Caribbean peoples, the Catholic Church, . . .

"Coffee Sessions Stimulate Students to Serious Subjects"

Mr. and Mrs. College Student met at opposite ends of a long table, pondering over a steaming cup of coffee.

In a little less than a four-hour period, the Pere had been magically transformed from an available student to a serious-minded group of concerned students.

Should Red China be admitted to the United Nations? This question was discussed in a recent YCS session. Since in many of the students careers, the coffee hour has visually increased in popularity with the students.

YCS President Ellen Burdette noted that, in the coffee hour's formative stages, various faculty members addressed students on topics with which they personally were acquainted. "There was no coffee here," she laughed, by morning, "but we certainly had ideas." Idea of Discussion Hour.

In 1949 YCS members decided that the activity needed more life, so the idea of monthly discussions, with only a minimum amount of formalities, was initiated.

"What did YCS start the week while coffee hour?" Ellen stated that it was originated by a group of interested students aware of the problem facing the world. Now, if YCS would maintain control over the discussion, the president replied, "No, it was my idea and Mrs. College Student is free to take control at any time."

One point taken of the coffee hour is the International Affairs organization, which is in the process of formation.

Propaganda Not Necessary

The coffee hour is not like a class for one does not have to come prepared. To secure more interest in future discussions, typewritten sheets will be handed out with information and space for problems.

Quainted about the activity's success, Ellen responded, "The people who have been there come back."

Inductive of the coffee hour's popularity has been the fact that requests were received at the end of the year and the beginning of the year for its continuation. Also added that other colleges have been impressed by the idea and are considering initiation of inquiring something similar.

What better way would there be to start the year up to the big coffee hour than by participating in the January discussion which is to be on Federal aid to education?
High-scoring Mike Noone drives in for a lay-up during the Xavier-Marian game which went to the Cincinnati school, 94-47.

Marian Places Third in Earlham; Noone's 42 Points Top Tourney

by Jim Watkins

Marian's hardwood Knights tipped off their '61-'62 season by dividing a pair of tournament encounters.

Taylor engaged the Knights in their first contest of the season at the Earlham Tournament in Richmond. They had a distinct height advantage working in their favor, but the Knights stayed close during the first half. With a flurry of three baskets, they tied the score at 20-20 with 6:30 remaining.

After that brief visit to the "no man's land" it was time for that old reliable height advantage working in their favor. Marian stayed in the first half, but then Taylor砺ked and put the Knights ahead to stay, 41-39.

The lead back at 2:30 left just eight minutes left on the clock. Marian has tallied 430 points in its first seven contests while preferring a fast pace throughout the season. Mike Blackwell, averaging 12.0 points a game, is Marian's top scorer. The Grubs outlasted the Tigers 33-28.

\[
\begin{array}{c|c|c|c|c|c|c|c}
\text{Team} & \text{W} & \text{L} & \text{Pts} & \text{F/20} & \text{FG} & \text{FT} & \text{Totals} \\
\hline
\text{Grubs} & 1 & 1 & 60 & 60 & 45 & 45 & 45-44 \\
\text{Tigers} & 1 & 1 & 33 & 33 & 33 & 33 & 45-44 \\
\end{array}
\]

Byers is next in line with an 11.5 point average. Leading the Grubs' attack is Mike Blackwell averaging 12.0 points per game, while Jim Byers is next in line with an 11.5 point average.

Marian's 42 points tied the contest, and the record stands at 2-2.

14, for the championship. In first place action, the Chemists ran over the Trojans 60-31, while the Grabs outlasted the Tigers 45-27, and the Rebels trounced the Lions 43-15. First game jitters have disappeared as the season evidences through.

Marian's hardwood Knights tipped off their '61-'62 season by dividing a pair of tournament encounters. Taylor engaged the Knights in their first contest of the season at the Earlham Tournament in Richmond. They had a distinct height advantage working in their favor, but the Knights stayed close during the first half. With a flurry of three baskets, they tied the score at 20-20 with 6:30 remaining.

After that brief visit to the "no man's land" it was time for that old reliable height advantage working in their favor. Marian stayed in the first half, but then Taylor砺ked and put the Knights ahead to stay, 41-39.

The lead back at 2:30 left just eight minutes left on the clock. Marian has tallied 430 points in its first seven contests while preferring a fast pace throughout the season. Mike Blackwell, averaging 12.0 points a game, is Marian's top scorer. The Grubs outlasted the Tigers 33-28.

\[
\begin{array}{c|c|c|c|c|c|c|c}
\text{Team} & \text{W} & \text{L} & \text{Pts} & \text{F/20} & \text{FG} & \text{FT} & \text{Totals} \\
\hline
\text{Grubs} & 1 & 1 & 60 & 60 & 45 & 45 & 45-44 \\
\text{Tigers} & 1 & 1 & 33 & 33 & 33 & 33 & 45-44 \\
\end{array}
\]

Byers is next in line with an 11.5 point average. Leading the Grubs' attack is Mike Blackwell averaging 12.0 points per game, while Jim Byers is next in line with an 11.5 point average.
New Year's resolutions faithfully kept are frequently as hard to make as the proverbial “nail in the haystack.”

But Barry College, Miami, has brought to our attention a project in college that has a responsibility which we feel should supersede the dozens of meaningless resolutions made annually by the average day of calendar change.

As we glance at each day's headlines, we read of the serious crisis existing in the world today. The world today is OUR world and its problems likewise are very much OUR problems. If there is a time to meet responsibilities, it certainly is in the first of this New Year.

A minimum amount of contact with the outside world will tell us that in recent months President Kennedy has mobilized the money, man and power of our country to meet the threat. It certainly is due mainly to our mistaken notion of the outside world will tell us that, if we do not want to meet the threat.

As we glance at each day's headlines, we read of the serious crisis existing in the world today. The world today is OUR world and its problems likewise are very much OUR problems. If there is a time to meet responsibilities, it certainly is in the first of this New Year.

A minimum amount of contact with the outside world will tell us that in recent months President Kennedy has mobilized the money, man and power of our country to meet the threat. It certainly is due mainly to our mistaken notion of the outside world will tell us that, if we do not want to meet the threat.

As we glance at each day's headlines, we read of the serious crisis existing in the world today. The world today is OUR world and its problems likewise are very much OUR problems. If there is a time to meet responsibilities, it certainly is in the first of this New Year.

A minimum amount of contact with the outside world will tell us that in recent months President Kennedy has mobilized the money, man and power of our country to meet the threat. It certainly is due mainly to our mistaken notion of the outside world will tell us that, if we do not want to meet the threat.