In answering "Who is an Arab?" Debate Team Opens Season; Outlook Good

Affirmative debaters Helv. Spitzer and Frank Hogan successfully defended the resolution for Bill debate competition in 1961.

A total of 18 teams will be competing in the Indiana State College debate competition.

This year's debate topic is "The relationship of educational institutions, the national government, and to foster alumni efforts.

The negative unit, Mary Ann Arness, will be the center of the debate.

Perry, head of the chemistry department, students are continuing research works with pyridinium chlorides and pyridinium hydroxides.

The project is centered around the stoichiometric salts of the pyridinium hydroxides.

Colt Defense Grabs Title From Vets; Total Offensive Output Ranks Third
by Jim Watkins

The defensive-minded Colts, a spirited group of juniors,2 occupied all the spots in the top ten of the 1961 intramural championship.

In four games, four of which were "close shaves," the Colts allowed the opposition the remarkably low total of seven points. This is a record unsurpassed in intramural history, which allowed them somehow manage an offensive total of six points, to hold up. (Paul Peterson of the Vets scored this many himself.)

Opening Action

The score point of the games brought the Colts and Vets, eventual one-two finishers, head on. The Colts scored first on a pass from Bill Byers to Jim Watkins but there were few opportunities, as they were able to hold the Bros team who combined to give the Vets the lead at 6-0.

This margin grew larger and larger as the games progressed. Many were expecting an upset, when suddenly Bob Turk shut behind the defense and grabbed a Byers aerial for the touchdown with only 1:30 remaining in the first quarter. Two minutes later the Colts marched, first one threat ended and then the other, but neither scored until two minutes into the second quarter. This brought the Colts and Vets, even with the goal line as the game progressed.

Back to the turf again as Byers took a pass toward the Packer goal line. Bob Turk managed to knock the ball away as it hit the turf.

"It wasn't until the final three minutes that Byers allowed his left end, danced down the sideline and into the end zone with the only touchdown of the game. Colts 7, Giants 0."

In a battle for #1 spot, on this final day, the Packers and Raiders fought to a 0-0 tie. The Vets, on the other hand, scored a second time by "hitting" with the Lions, 25-12. Thus, the 1961 season ended and the champion Colts had somehow, according to the other five teams, stumbled through to the "crown," this though minus a misc­action as the Colts can be sum­marized up thus: defense, trans­formation; offense, suffocating.

Scholarship Athlete of the Year: Bob Moseman, and Jim Watkins.

The defense is primarily caused by Colts, who allowed only one touchdown in five games.

Datillo Renamed

Pete Datillo of the shape, an all-star last year, continued to display his strong running and good blocking ability. The other defensive end is Mike Hendron of the Packers, the most consistent in the league.

"At the center of this offensive line is John Nonte of the Raiders. Nonte with his 6-4, 230 lb. frame is excelled in defending his position and receivers. Zeunik, too, was a stalwart holder on defense in picking off enemy passes."

Bill Byers and Tom Zemnik, both Colts, held down the line-backer spots. Byers' key intercep­tion played havoc with the oppo­nents' everpresent attempts to attack the line. Zemnik, too, was a stalwart in the backfield.

Colts were never behind, but two minutes into the second quarter. The big game on this weekend is one that both the athletic and academic facets of the educational process must be supported.

Scarletts Overpower V-Ball Opponents

In Initial Matches

4 Maid V-ballers captured two successive matches in early fall action from St. Vincent's and IU nursing, respectively.

Against St. Vincent's, the Marian girls gained two out of three points, 15-6 and 15-13, losing 6-15. The Maid V-ballers then scored 15-9, 15-6, and 15-7 the second round.

"Something must be done to encourage young Catholic men with athletic talents, who are excelling in both academic and athletic fields of the educational process, the harmonious training of the whole man, his imagination, his intellect and his will. In America, sport has become part of education."

High-Spirited Pre-Season Workouts
Brace Knights for 61-62 Campaign

by Dick Phillips

Knight rosters are asking: "What kind of basketball team is Marian going to have this year?" Well, quite frankly, no one knows yet. I could stick my neck out and say a very good team, but the proof is in the playing.

If good shooting, alert defense, and tremendous desire will win ball games, then Marian is in for a good season. The way that Mike Noone, Joe Kleeman, and Pat Sabelhaus, and Joe Kleeman, 5'9" junior co-captain, at forward, last year's leading scorer; Pat Sabelhaus, along with new-comers Steve McCracken and Chuck Federle have been burning the basket, Marian's biggest problem will be keeping new nets on the rim.

Maybe it would be better to take the team man for man and let you, the Marian student and basketball fan, draw your own conclusions.

Experience-wise, Marian has three starters back from last year; Harry Oldham, 6'2" sophomore, who picked up some experience last year, and Bob Vladiou, 6'2" sophomore, out for most of the past year. Dick Phillips and Chuck Federle are coming on strong to give the lettermen some things to worry about. Rounding out the squad are 6'9" Tom Eyid, 5'11" Dave Mader, and 6'1" Bob Sylikaitis. What these men lack in experience, they make up for with plenty of hustle, a strong point of any ball club.

After rounding through the roster, one might say that Marian is definitely going to have a good record this season. However, first check that schedule, because, believe it or not, Marian plays THE toughest small college basketball schedules in the state of Indiana.

Tough Opponents
Take a look at a few of the teams to be faced again this year. Xavier U., with 5,000 male students, won the National Invitational Tournament four years ago, and has the veterans to regain that top ranking once more. Anderson, white last year finished in the top eight among small colleges in the country, has all but one starter back again. St. Joseph, playing in the same conference as Butler, lost only one starter. Bellarmine has its entire first team back, while Villa Madonna, too, lost just one starter.

These teams are representative of the high caliber of competition which the Knights will face. But if the team gets the student support that it must have (and has never gotten in the past, except from a few), then Marian will be well-represented in the bleachers, as well as on the playing floor.
