Franciscan Delivers Baccalaureate; Bel Canto, Orchestra Pay Tribute

Baccalaureate exercises will be held on Wednesday evening, May 31. The chapel service will open with the Gregorian Vexil Creator. The Reverend Ralph Ohlmann, O. F. M., professor of history at Marian College, will give the baccalaureate sermon. During Benediction, which will follow the address, the Bel Canto will singing the O Salutaris and the Tantum Ergo by Kurtz, and Singenberg's Exsultate. After Benediction, the graduates and their guests will hear Senior Art Exhibit Features Prize-Winning Studies

An exhibit representing the college art study of Lucia Toffolo, senior and 1944 graduate, opened Sunday afternoon, May 28, and will extend through Commencement day, June 1. The exhibit will be located in the art studio and surrounding halls, and on the balcony.

The major divisions of the exhibit are oil and water-color painting, fashion illustration and figure drawing. Leading subjects include: Portrait-Life Drawing; Fashion I; Fashion II; Figure Drawing. Included in the exhibit are three compositions which have won first prizes in state-wide contests. Lucia won first prize in composition entitled "The Rose," in the 1944 Tri-State Art Exhibit. The Tri-State Art Exhibit was held in the college division of the Ninth Annual State Exhibition of Catholic School Art, sponsored by the Indiana Catholic Patrons Association, this May. Mary Janet Lewis, 47, won first prize in water-color of a landscape entitled "The Valley of the Swans." Eileen Santarossa, played Gounod's Ave Verum and John Kenrick's Elvies' Dance. Instrumental soloists, featuring organ, horn, piano, and violin solos, were: Marian Madson, Jeannette Silvan, Marian Wilcox, and Dorothy Gillman.

Musicale Opens Commencement With Song Classics

The annual spring musicale was held May 28. The Glee Choruses of Forty-Four members, sang a variety of songs from various eras. The string section of the orchestra will play the melodies from Beethoven's Symphony No. 5 and his Sexts. Opus 21, No. 3. The string ensemble, composed of Mary Ellen Gingrich, Eileen Santarossa, and Marian Guenter, sang Friml's The Reverend John J. Doyle, Ph.D., pastor of the College for help in understanding their world. It is our hope that these graduates may not cease to look to the College in their search for help in understanding their world. It is our hope that these graduates will be an inspiration to others, and that they will continue to strive for excellence in all they do.

Year-End Doings - Formal and Informal

Adios, O Madre Mia

Faithfully you have watched over our collegian life. Now must we leave you. Our prayer, in lighting this candle at your shrine, is like that of the Spanish cavalier; Goodbye, Queen of Heaven. . . Never forget me. . . . My heart is all yours. . . Give me your blessing and bless Marian for me.

On Your Mark!

On the first rapturous day of June, as on New Year’s Eve, many became possessed by the spirit of striving just a little harder and longer. While you’re straining at the post, eager to feel the turf pounding under your gallop, you look around and see the Shafts of the war-stamp booth in the theater lobby or in your favorite department stores. If you’re working this summer, you will be able to afford larger investments than your school-year allowances permitted. Volunteer your services to your county drive chairman as secretary or solicitor.

Getting your application blanks filled is an excellent way to do your patriotic duty and to boost Marian’s bond record.

Frosh Entertain

Marianites viewed the world through the proverbial “rose-colored glasses” Friday, May 19, when the freshman class enacted its version of an ideal college life. The play was an original presentation, “dreamed-up” by the arrangements committee, Mary McNally, chairman. Rita Mahon, Dorothy Klee, Eleanor Curtis, Rosemary Oldenburg, Mary D. Schwortz, Margaret Braun, Mary Ellen Fox, Patty Hogan, Richel Matthews, Margie Mellen, and Genevieve White.

Volunteers Active

(Continued from Page 1) The staff assistants’ corps, said that of the twenty-one girls who completed the course, fourteen are working on the blood donor project and seven are working in the Home Registry Bureau. A total of 374 volunteered hours of work have been completed by Marian students.

Co-chairmen of the blood donor project, Dorothy Margaret Cocks, reported thirteen more recent donors and another ten for the near future.

Mary Janet Innis, chairman of the production committee, reported that one hundred and ten articles have been edited by the faculty members and staff. Arrangements are being made whereby students may continue the production work during the summer.

Just Doodling

Dear, dear, how I long for a certain something, a contentedness, a warm feeling in the atmosphere around me—nothing to distain the school couldn’t figure out just what this was due to. Now I know. It’s because every graduate’s left a bit of her heart.

You don’t have to be a senior to be sad on graduation day; you keep being sad that some day too you will be leaving, and you look around you at the everyday things—no appreciatively.

I am dumb with longing, And I am dumb with longing, And loveliness incarnate

MISSION BULLETIN

Summer clubs will be organized again this year to carry on the missionary work of the school year.

The C.S.M.U. takes this opportunity to thank students and staff for the whole-hearted cooperation given to the mission projects of this school year. To the joy that has already come to each zealous worker as a result of helping the needy, we add a prayer for the special blessing of the Divine Missionary. Bertha Neff, president.
