WHO'S WHO HONORS FIVE

AHEAD OF THE HEADLINES

Thanksgiving Benediction, celebra ted in the college chapel, Wednesday, 9 a.m., will usher in the seasonal holiday. Classes will resume at 11 a.m. Monday.

Something to look forward to is Dr. Pedro Pinto’s address to faculty and students. Dr. Pinto, former president of the University of Quito, Reunier, is the father of Marianne Arrieux, Gloria, and Stella Pinto. His plans for activities, members will share a student Christmas program.

Faculty Participate In Science Meet

Sister Gertrude Marie, of the Marian College faculty, read a paper on "The Great Mathematics Books in the College Curriculum," at a joint meeting of the Indiana section of the American Mathematical Association, and the Mathematics section of the Indiana Academy of Science, at Butler University, November 10.

The paper was an appraisal of the educational value of the mathematics classics as bases for college mathematics study. The liberal arts outlook, characteristic of pure mathematics, was stressed.

Attending the various group meetings of the Academy were: Father Doyle, Sister M. Gonsalves, Sister Mary Jane, Sister Clarence Marie, Sister Etta Lea, Sister M. Olivia, and Sister John Joseph.

Bishop Ritter Appointed New Archdiocesan Head

Last Wednesday’s Papal announcement, establishing the archdiocese of Indianapolis, with The Most Reverend Joseph E. Ritter, D.D., as first Archbishop, is an event of historic significance.

In archdiocese, it is the climax in a series of increasing dignity and responsibilities. For the city of Indianapolis, it is a formal constitution as center of Catholicity in the state. For Indiana, it is a sort of charter of spiritual independence, an elevation into a province of the Church. In the story of the Church in the United States, it is a perfection of organization, proportioned to increased developments.

Archbishop Ritter’s life and career have been closely bound with the religious and social interests of the city. Born in New Albany, July 30, 1901, the archdiocese has had the distinction of being the first native Indian to be named Bishop of Indianapolis. He received his early education at Indiana University and then entered the seminary at the University of Notre Dame. The degree of Doctorate of Sacred Theology was conferred upon him by Pius Xl, March 14, 1922.

At St. Patrick’s church and S. S. Peter and Paul cathedral he served for six years before his consecration as Bishop of Hippus and Auxiliary Bishop of Indianapolis.

His consecration as Bishop of Indianapolis in April 24, 1944, all but coinciding with the celebration of the centennial of the diocese in May.

Meaningfully, as giving the keynote of the second centenary of the diocese’s history and, especially, of its first decade, now closed, all the following developments from the Bishop’s first pastoral letter, "We may rejoice in our glorious heritage, but we must not rest as though the task is ended. The future will itself become history," as giving the keynote of the new and future diocese, and the rededication of the entire state composed of its parishes and missions.

The Bishops of the new diocese, Lafayette in Indiana and Evansville in Indiana, will be, respectively, Monsignor Benny Joseph Gjan

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS in American Universities and Colleges will include in its 1945 edition five Marian students. They are: Dolores Martin, '46, Betty Armstrong, '45, Joan Duffin, '45, Mary Anne Gallagher, '46, and Beatrice Hynes, '45. Spells because of character, scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and potentiality for future usefulness to business and society. Only juniors, seniors, and students in advanced work are eligible.

Membership in Who's Who Among Students is an appropriate climax of a student’s career, summing up all the other honors scholastic or social, that she has attained. It was created as an incentive for students to get the best results from their college experience, as a means of compensation to students for what they have already achieved as a standard of measurement for students comparable to other recognized scholastic and service organizations and as a recommendation of successful students to the business world.

Dolores Martin, second time ranking Who's Who Among Students, is a chemistry major. She has been editor of The Phoenix, student publication for two years, and previously to that member of the editorial staff for a year. She is senior delegate to the Cin

The Most Reverend Joseph E. Ritter, D.D.,
Archbishop of Indianapolis,

We, the students of Marian College, offer sincere congratulations for the recent honor bestowed upon you by Pope Pius XII. We pledge our prayers for your success and our support of your undertakings.

Our joy in your home is a special one because you have infused the heart of Marian with the spirit you carry with you in all the things you do—this sacred mission of yours. Your interest in the C.S.M.C., your governing conviction that the C.S.M.C. is the highest form of service we can give to the Church, has a profound influence on us. We are grateful for your example.

Most particularly, as students of Marian College, we shall commemorate your call to greater service for Christ by striving, in greater measure, to live the motto of our Chancellor, "I am a soldier of Christ."

CSCM Convenes at St. John’s;
Bishop Ritter Addresses Conference

A diocesan meeting of the C.S.C.M. was held Sunday, November 12, at St. John Academy.

Besides the program of talks and general discussion, the election of new officers was held and the executive board was nominated for the coming year.

Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter, who spoke to those present encouraged growth in the number of students and the enrollment of other students. The projects of the International Federation of Catholic Alumni, and your introduction of the C.T.O. into the C.S.C.M. have brought the youth especially close to you.

Most particularly, as students of Marian College, we shall commemorate your call to greater service for Christ by striving, in greater measure, to live the motto of our Chancellor, "I am a soldier of Christ."

Sentinels Here and There...

Daily may be a privilege. Guard duty is so in national defense; it is doubly so for Marian students keeping their Rechistritude try.

They do not pace to end to end of a camp or fortress; they patrol with the Great King. Or, weapons they have no need—simple prayer and humble, loving trust secure their souls and Eia. Mised of what do they broil, these November days? Chiefly, of the King’s friends and theirs whose guard-turns have been rustily interrupted—the Holy Suffering Souls. The guards on earth are striving to speed their fellow-guards to the celestial vigil. Won’t you help them—and Eia—and yourself?

Vanishing Volumes

If you’ve noticed a few wrinkles in the librarian’s brow lately, perhaps you’re one that has to blame. It seems as though, despite earnest efforts, the correct library usage theme is still an enigma for some of us. Unconfessed culprits still continue to take books from the stacks and nonchalantly slip them back in the shelf, without the least thought of signing them out.

Reference books still disappear mysteriously from their appointed havens, and, just as mysteriously, return to the scene of the crime after a few days. Novels by Dickens are still being found mixed in with the Mark Twain collection and novels are captured by Maria Pinto’s imitation of Donnie Osmond.

But if that’s the way you feel about it, you’d be captivated by Maria Pinto’s imitation of Donnie Osmond. Get out your little black book and note these events:

Girls Request Campus Talent

The general assembly meeting, held on an informal air, the entire audience participating in an impromptu program of "Everything for Girls. Students could request anyone in the audience to set, play, number. Conductor performances were taken completely by surprise. Musicians were delighted by Ronald Lamy’s invitation of Donald Duck, they swooned to Mary McGlone, the Alumnae was conducted by Anna Roffelsen’s Brian. They were captivated by Maria Pinto’s rendition, and, just as mysteriously, return to the scene of the crime after a few days.

Books are still being taken from the stacks and nonchalantly slipped back into their appointed havens, without the least thought of signing them out.

Franciscan Friars Mark Century

Two members of the Marian faculty, the Franciscans, Father Romuald and Father Ralph, are celebrating the centenary of their province, the Province of St. John the Baptist. Founded by Tyrolese friars in 1844, the Cincinnati province has grown to include territory from Michigan to Louis­iana, and, most recently, to the missionary region of central China.

In recognition of the fiftieth year, five friends of the province, including Alumnae and their families, and the Friars themselves, gathered for Mass.

November chill hasn’t dampened campus melody, nor have November grays toned down the band. At the Marian Guild musical program, November 13, Mary Edgar was the featured speaker and Gaelic number by Miss Anne McAndrews was added to the program. At the Marian Guild assembly on December 3, the speaker is John T. Flynn.

NEW LIBRARY PROCEDURE

Book cards have been placed in all books a few of the circulating books. When you check out a book, please fill out a yellow slip in the box on the library desk. Then stamp the date due slip.

- If there is no card, charge the book to your name and fill out a yellow slip and stamp the date due slip.
- “Make the most of your college years, for you’ll never come this way again,” said Sister Mary Cephas, dean, at the November 10 assembly. “Use your educational opportunities for spiritual, mental and social growth to the fullest.”

Party Chairmen Thank Committee

Chairman's report on the Guild Autumn Card Party attributes the granting returns to the help of all the members and to the special efforts of the following on committee: the ladies, hand-made prizters, Mrs. Lillian Koontz, table priizers; Mrs. Timothy O'Neill, Mrs. H. G. Chung, Mrs. Harvey Anderson, Mrs. J. B. Wade, carders; Mrs. A. J. Springman, Mrs. Arthur McCarthy, and Mrs. F. S. Warren, rakers; Mrs. Andrew Bresnide, door priizers; Mrs. Thomas Doyle, Mrs. Rose Scherrer, home-made candies; Marian students also contributed candy. Mrs. L. J. Wendling served as general chairman.

Unit Board Elects; Two Merit Awards

A meeting of the executive board of the Marian College unit of the American National Red Cross was held on October 31, 1944. Rita Hillman, chairman of the production corps, was elected to the executive board by the unanimous vote of the board members. The executive position was formerly held by the chairman of the water safety corps, Altna Gades.

Jane Myers and Betty Armstrong are eligible to receive the student assistant's prize for having donated over 50 hours of service to the Red Cross. Janet has served 75 hours and Dean, 55 hours. To date, a total of 364 hours of service has been volunteered by Marian College students.

Three girls who completed the nutrition course on November 3 and received nutrition certificates are: Mary Louise McManus, Mary McShane, Patrice Duffin, Eileen Goughan, Jane Goughan, Joan Courtney, Norma Veiders, and Carol Kugler.

In our last issue Margaret Cocks was reported as having donated 10 pints of blood. Actually she's chucked up her 11th and is anxiously awaiting December when she will again be allowed to give. At that time she will have donated four pints each for her three brothers serving overseas. Patrice Werning with Margaret is Lillian Leland who has given blood six times.

Carnival Adds Zest To Mission Spirit

The C.S.M.C. unit sponsored a Carnival day, October 31. The cafeteria was gaily decked from head to foot with decorations. The cafeteria was gaily decked from head to foot with decorations. This time it's a roast for "Vitamin" Sinatra when he dines at the Red Cross Blood Center has Margaret Cocks under contract. Wonder who pulled the lever for "Vilamia" Sinatra when he cast his vote. You're about to get a taste of what was served at our service men's dance. The diet rage has made Marian figure-consciously, consequently, all the better to help get around at noon. One junior has lost so much weight you can't see her when she stands sideways.
