NEWS

Reagan Administration — Praising visiting South Korean president Chun Doo hwan as a man committed to freedom, Ronald Reagan reassured Chun that “the United States has no plans to withdraw U.S. ground combat forces from the Korean peninsula.”

In a communique signed by Reagan and Chun, the leaders agreed that the United States will sell “appropriate weapons systems and defense industry technology necessary for enhancing Korea's capabilities to deter aggression.”

A State Department official said that Reagan did not raise the question of Human Rights abuses in South Korea which was the source of strained relations during the Carter Administration.

In other activities this week, the Office of Budget and Management has proposed cuts in the budgeting of government synthetic fuels programs. This includes the elimination of five large projects in which the government would have funded research as well as constructing facilities. The cut also involves the reduction in the financial support of the new Synthetic Fuels Corporation by about one third or $5.3 billion. The proposal outlines that the “government would aid in demonstration but not subsidize building significant capacity.”

In his first press conference, Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger responded to questions concerning Reagan Administration policies, advocating enlargement of United States involvement in the Middle East. Weinberger stated that the Administration would assist Saudi Arabia in improving its defense systems by selling equipment to increase the range and efficiency of the American F-15s already in Saudi possession. Weinberger said that if Israel were to request to have American troops stationed in Israeli territory, he would examine it “very sympathetically.” Weinberger is also sympathetic to the production of the neutron bomb which is capable of killing human beings without the destruction of buildings and other artificial structures.

Reagan intends to eliminate a $675 million urban aid program geared toward revitalizing downtown business in large cities. The funds have already been appropriated for this year through Carter, and it will have to go through Congress before the program can be abolished.

Senate Democratic leaders have told Reagan that he will not have their support in a bid to raise the Federal debt ceiling by $50 billion. Reagan called the increase “dis- tasteful but necessary.” The New York Times remarked on the “Democrat’s determination to make the Republicans, who campaigned as budget-cutters, take the lead in increasing the debt now that they hold the White House and the majority in the Senate.”

Choose a sensible man to a responsible place rather than a man versed in the particular art which is to be taught, inasmuch as a method of acquiring truth is better than the truth it has already ascertained. Let your disciple liberalize the mind of a boy rather than teach him sciences, that he may have means more than results.

The Indian will give his bow for the knife with which it was made.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson—

The world is my country,
All mankind are my brethren,
And to do good is my religion.

—Thomas Paine—
What? Apathy stirring its ugly head around here at good ol', rah-rah Marvin U? Impossible I say! It may be another emotion [or lack of] disguised as Apathy. Again I rant! I rave! Apathy? Here at Marian? The very idea sends chuckles racing through my veins. Impossible! How could anyone with an ounce of grey matter be in the least bit apathetic to the sight of 10 Neanderthals lumbering up and down a wooden floor, scampering after a small, leather-coated ball which is hurled through a metal hoop and which, though thrown repeatedly, refuses to stay within the hoop and returns to the floor only to be thrown through again. Egad! What miscreant would dare say that this isn't the finest entertainment available? But, there is a point to be made for those miscreants who do not, see the game of basketball, or the watching of it, as being necessary in the pursuit of a degree. A few people [there may be more] are more interested in study and good grades [although I will admit that the cheerleaders are worth studying] than attending a ball game [the poor misguided fools]. Who knows? If, per chance, the school would offer a class in "Creative Jock-Watching" C.J.W. 101—then maybe there would be more fans at the games.

But what the hell? It's not worth the trouble to bother with.

TO ALL STUDENTS

A reminder that there is an open student meeting with the North Central Association Committee on February 10th at 2:30pm in Marian Hall, Room 251. Everyone is welcome!

KNIGHTLY NEWS

The men's basketball team dropped their record to 15-8 after Wednesday's loss to Wabash 77-64. The leading scorer was Brian "Barney" Feldman with 13. Also in the double figures were Brian Avery with 12, and Phil Savari and Dale Wernke with 10 each. The team plays up at Bethel tomorrow at 2:00.

I would like to extend my appreciation for the fan support we had at the game Wednesday night. I hope there will be continued support for the last few home games and playoff games. There will be a pep band from Ritter High School at next Wednesday's game against Franklin.

FACULTY', STAFF AND STUDENTS

Please, if you are able to give make an effort to do so. There will be signups but they will not follow as strict as schedule as they did in the Fall.

Thank you,

The longest journey is the journey inwards.
Of him who has chosen his destiny,
Who has started upon his quest
For the source of his being
(Is there a source?).
He is still with you,
But without relation,
Isolated in your feeling
Like one condemned to death
Or one whom imminent farewell
Prematurely dictates
To the loneliness which is the final lot of all.

AH, THE SHARP EDGE OF SATIRE

I was pleased to read the letter about apathy at athletic events by this strange, nebulous “Tree” person. It is about time someone joked hyperbolic fun at the over-emphasis on athletics in an academic institution. I think the finest statement was about happy hour, especially when it is common knowledge that the major frequencers of sleezy bars are well over 6'4” and wear canvas shoes (even in the winter).

Thank you for giving us someone to laugh at,

“Big Rock Candy Mountain”

ON APATHY

Apathy—try disgust at the behavior of certain members of Marian’s athletic community who believe like animals and suffer no penalties because of the intercession of St. Grimes. If it weren’t for jocks then R.A.’s at Doyle would be obsolete. Why should one applaud for egocentric children that have disciplinary problems? They would not be permitted to behave the way they do if they were working or in the armed forces, where self-discipline is acquired or programmed. Most of these people are the cheaters, failers or non-attenders in classes. How low have our SAT standards sunk? How much more can students of real academic fields take? What the hell is going on here?

CONFUSED! by an Enterprising Businessman

The other day, whilst wandering through the halls of Marian, I found myself standing outside the open door of the bookstore and, though I do not make it a habit of listening uninvitedly on other’s conversations, I heard something that roused my curiosity. A student had asked the clerk (person behind the counter) for change for a dollar bill, to which the clerk answered he couldn’t give. Instead, he directed the student to the Business Office.

Of course I had to follow because the student was slightly irritated to say the least (pissed-off to say the most). Anyway, while the student received her change from the Business Office, she asked why the bookstore clerk hadn’t given it to her. The answer was because the clerk was too busy.

Doing what? Picking his nose? Scratching his rear? Seeking truth in a mountain?

Perhaps I’ll start my own business, charging $1.10 for $1.00.
