The weekend is here and we only need to hang on 3 more class days until mid-term break. Before we can head home to recover from the past 8 weeks we need to struggle through our mid-term exams. To help prepare us for our tests, we must practice that nasty 5 letter word "STUDY".

Deep in the south side of the campus lies a building some students have never been to, and others worship. This place, which we should all patronize, is known as the LIBRARY. Lately I have been spending a lot of time there and during my breaks I have been observing the behavior of the people who go to the "Brar".

As you walk in the huge museum, the front door squeaks and alerts everyone that someone new is there, thus causing 100 pair of eyes to focus in on you which immediately embarrasses you. On the first floor is usually the people reading the paper inquiring about sports scores or sidewalk sales. I don't like to study there because just when I get engrossed in my books, I hear pages rattling and get the urge to read the "funnies" or "Dear Abby". Up on the second floor is the social area for students. The freshmen usually congregate there as well as upperclassmen who don't study! I'm always distracted when I study there because I am always distracted when I study there because I can't hear myself think over all of the giggles, whispers, and cackles! Occasionally when I have a lot to read I plant myself on a couch but often catch myself dozing off into dreamland. The 3rd floor to me is the best place to study because that is usually where the study warts go. The only problem is after climbing 97 stairs to get there I usually need oxygen to revive myself!!

Overall the library is a very quiet place so before walking in, you should be prepared with the proper "library equipment". Never wear shoes without rubber soles or you will sound like a galloping Klydesdale looking for a stall. Always come with sharpened pencils because the electric sharpener sounds like Mt. St. Helens has erupted in the basement and no matter how hard you try, you cannot discreetly use that noisy gadget! Most importantly, never sit by a gorgeous girl/boy because you will find yourself staring at him/her and writing on the desk instead of the paper!!

Despite the adjustments you must make being at the library, it is by far the best place to study. In fact, I'm headed over there right now--I'll be on the 2nd floor wearing noisy shoes, sharpening my pencils and drooling over the med student sitting across from me.

P.S. HAVE A GOOD BREAK!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

"Believe It Or Not"--a day just for US! A retreat is being prepared by students for Saturday, October 24. It is a chance to get away from the books and spend time relaxing, reflecting, and renewing ourselves in our relationships with God, self, and others. The retreat is being held in the Brown House (30th & Cold Springs Road), from 9:00 a.m. and ending with Mass (of the Sunday) in the evening. Open to all. Cost is $10.00 for those on 20 meal plan, and $4.00 for others. Registration forms are in your mail boxes or on radiators in Marian Hall first floor. For more info, contact Paul Butz, Mary Clouse, Bonnie Cylley, Dan Remley, Christy Saxton, Chris Tuell, or Sr. Sue. Sponsored by Campus Ministry.

The Fioretti is still accepting entries. Pencil or pen artwork, poems, essays and short stories are all needed. Entries can be placed in the box at switchboard, or given to Katrina (rm. 237), Jeannie (rm. 235) or Lynn (rm. 203). The deadline is October 23. So--get those pens busy! Show Marian your talent.

T.A.G. NOTES
This past week was probably terrible for all of you. Clare Hall residents living near the kitchen. Well, all of those hunger pains proved worthy, as everyone saw the final results at TAG's bake sale held on Wednesday. We made $45.50!! Thanks go to all of you for having such marvelous appetites (are you still alive, Paul?)! We hope to have a repeat performance soon.

There will not be a meeting on Wednesday thanks to the mid-term break!

Please check the main bulletin board in Marian Hall EVERYDAY for important announcements!!

OCTOBER 11-17 National Vocation Awareness Week-----

This week is a time especially set aside for reflection about the vocation to which God is calling each person. In your reflection, consider also the possibility of serving God as a priest, sister or religious brother. Weekends at Oldenburg, Nov. 6-8, and 26-28 are being offered for young women who are considering the possibility of being a Franciscan Sister. For more information contact Sr. Sue in Campus Ministry, or write Sr. Mary Ann Stoffregen, Oldenburg, IN 47036.
FINANCIAL AID NEWS

On Monday, October 12th, the students who are to receive National direct Student Loans (NDSL) and Basic Grant (BEOG) monies should report to the Business Office to sign papers and checks. We would like to take care of these papers as soon as possible.
