Clements & Co. Tour Never-Never Land

"Peter Pan" is a hitwise reflection on life, growth, and leadership. By James M. Barrie, Peter (Thelma Wilson) is every child who thinks lovingly as he leads Wendy (Mary Pille) and her brothers, John (Ronald Barbee) and Michael (Ken Overhulser), Bob Lane, Ed Ottensmeyer, and Phil Mahone have more free time to give to the opening of Peter Pan, directed by Bob Clements. War of the sexes? No, just Little Lost Boys Valerie Goedeker, Barbara Shaver, and Teri Dennis triumph over Captain Hook's men Kent Overhulser, Bob Lane, Ed Ottensmeyer, and Phil Mahone among the cast of "Peter Pan." The Fine Film Series of leadership is in its second year, along with the East-West Student Board.

These and many other events are scheduled for the annual Christmas concert and concert band will be featured on Mardi Gras, the annual Christmas concert and concert band will be featured on the program.

Make Love

Make love! The whole world is shouting for man to make love. Wars and riots have finally exploded loudly enough that we cannot any longer pretend ignorance. And so with religious fervor, we go about singing songs and hanging posters and writing editorials, all concerned with the need for love. We are reminded of the fact that we are born; it is impossible to ignore love. But with as many persons involved in the movement of opportunities to express love, from peace corps programs to love-ins, we look around and we still see war, prejudice, and hate, and we ask, "What more can we do?"

With all our efforts, we have failed to realize one very important fact; sex simply is love. If we can learn to become aware of the truth that is contained in the words of a simple song from a popular musical? Looking around at our society, our city, our college, ourselves we see the presence of a significant number of people who have realized this. It seems that many pass their days in a dream, waiting for something better to appear in their society or in themselves. Or maybe they have even given up hoping, stopping, waiting, and merely accept life as it presents itself. Are not both of these lines of withdrawal, escape from reality, capitulation?

What is hope, then, if it is not waiting for better times? Hope in the future, in the present, is futile and worthless if it is actually based on escape or capitulation. If our hope does not expand and grow, but instead becomes smaller and confined to the present moment, where is hope? Hope is nothing more than a dream that even when we fail to realize it, it has given us the strength to go on.

We are forced to open ourselves and be constantly concerned with the world. The world is part of us, and it is our duty to be aware of the changes that are taking place. Changes in rules must await spring rule changes. But if we can continue to communicate, to reach out to others, and to understand the needs and desires of others, we can make a difference.

And so with religious faith, we look around and we still see war, prejudice, and hate, and we ask, "What more can we do?"

The Phoenix: I would like to clear up some facts about the student gobierno in the November 17 issue of The Phoenix. I must agree that in cases of many campus clubs and The Phoenix, to try and operate like monopolistic businesses is a nearly impossible task. I must point out, though, that the Student Welfare Committee and the Academic Affairs Committee are necessary in the future because the class lists became finalized.

Our budget meeting had been delayed until November 6 because of mid-term it was postponed a week. The budget was passed November 10 and the actual allocation of the money took place the next day. Students' council was satisfied.

To the Editor:
I wish to clear up the misconception of some students, and particularly the students of St. John's, St. Regis, and St. Ignatius. It is true that members of the Student Welfare Committee were not told of the meeting until they were already in. It is not true, however, that students were not told of the meeting; they were informed of the meeting at 11:00 a.m. on August 25.

Make Believe

More than make-believe, more even than making ourselves believe in faith is faith. More than intellectual process is faith. More than a belief is faith. More than feeling the power of God in the beauty of spring is faith. Faith is nothing less than a leap into the darkness. Faith is nothing less than irrational trust. Faith is nothing less than false consciousness.

Board Defends Budget, Choices

To the Editor of the Phoenix:

Bishop Braves New World

The credibility gap: we never knew how much a part of it we were until Dec. 8, the date of auxiliary Bishop George Biskup's departure. But if we can continue to communicate, to reach out to others, and to understand the needs and desires of others, we can make a difference.

The Board had a very good reason for nominating students to the budget committee. The Board had to have a student body of people to represent the student body when it was time to make a budget. The Board had to have a student body of people to represent the student body when it was time to make a budget.

M. C. Talent Needs Scouts

It is our observation that too often students are not interested in the only talent which is any part of the student body. The only talent which is any part of the student body is the talent which is any part of the student body. It is the talent which is any part of the student body. It is the talent which is any part of the student body. It is the talent which is any part of the student body. It is the talent which is any part of the student body.

Contrary to popular opinion, however, a group of freshmen and seniors who have recently been involved with the M.C. Talent Nights have expressed themselves in the affirmative. "We believe that the M.C. Talent Nights have been a success," said one of the seniors. "We believe that the M.C. Talent Nights have been a success," said one of the seniors.

This Board does want the students at Marian to become aware and involved. It is engaged to succeed (p. 3).

Editor's comment:
Concerning Writing this editorial, I discussed both situation and editorial. The M.C. Talent committee and committees and we wrote to represent their views as well as the views of the student body. Knights Hang On as Going Gets Rough

Those students who have followed Marian College’s basketball this year now have more reason than ever to believe in their team, for the team has performed outstandingly on several occasions. If there are any people who have not yet attended a Marian basketball game, you’re missing an amazing display of accurate field goal shooting. Marian’s overall average field goal performance is .542, and was even higher until the team hit a couple of cold spots. Five members of our team are shooting above .500 mark; Bob Hericks, .553 — Jon Bittelmeyer, .544 — Larry Bradnik, .503 — Jean Ancelet, .327 — and Tim Berger at an even .560.

Randy Stahley and Tim Berger have come from the bench quite often this year to spark Marian and have contributed greatly to Marian’s success. John Hendricks has done an outstanding job so far in the rebounding department. He leads the team with an average of 9 rebounds per game and is followed closely by senior Joe Bittelmeyer with an average of 7.

Some of the students this year have commented on several occasions that Marian’s team isn’t what it was last year. It must be taken into account, however, that Marian, under Coach Reynolds, has picked up a tougher schedule this year to make up for the confusion often this year to spark Marian and have contributed greatly to Marian’s success. John Hendricks has done an outstanding job so far in the rebounding department. He leads the team with an average of 9 rebounds per game and is followed closely by senior Joe Bittelmeyer with an average of 7.

Last year at this time the team then went on to defeat our opponents by 19 points, but turnovers led to an eventual loss, and it must be remembered that the team was no better.

Again this year, Larry Bradnik leads the team in points per game with an average of 18.7. John Hendricks follows Larry with an average of 10.2. Jean Ancelet and Randy Stahley have .91 average while Larry Schmals has scored an average of 9.0 points per game. In total offense the Marian Knights have an average of 79.2 per game while their opponents have been limited to 77.3 points per game.

The next game to be played is in Reynold’s Fieldhouse. This game will be on January 7 when Marian takes on St. Thomas Aquinas College from Michigan. There will also be games on December 28 and 29 at the Indiana Central Classic in Indianapolis.

Big Ten, Terrible Tom Fight - Battle For Title In Playoff

Regular grid area was concluded with games of Dec. 2, but a tie for the top position necessitates a playoff game Sunday, Dec. 17. The final standings show the Big Ten and Terrible Tom finishing with 8-4 records.

On Nov. 19, the Big Ten maintained their winning ways and defeated the W.C.C.F. 8-1. Terrible Tom remained in contention by a 6-0 win over the junior Knights. The Terrible Tom's defense was strong, holding the senior Knights to 12-7.

A strong defensive effort by Terrible Tom was the key to winning, but it was the team’s ability to hold their opponents to less than 10 points that turned the game around. Terrible Tom’s defense was key to their victory.

The final game of the season clinched the tie for the Big Ten and Terrible Tom. Terrible Tom defeated the Lost Souls 18-6 and Big Ten defeated Manah Mixers 14-6.

The Intramural Team slipped past the Freshmen Knights 6-0 and Gray Power dropped over W.C.C.F. 24-6.

The playoff game this Sunday will pit a three year senior team against a faster sophomore more squad. Quarterback of Terrible Tom, Bill Commons, has been hampered by a leg injury, but indications are that the team will stick to the ground game utilizing their weight advantage in blocking. The Big Ten will display a more balanced attack. Both teams are strong defensively, exhibiting hard pass rushes and quick pursuit.

These two teams will be playing for the top position as their final chance this Sunday, Dec. 17.

Final Standings

W.L. Terrible Tom 8-4, Big Ten 8-4 Intramural Team 3-4 Lost Souls 5-4 Manah Mixers 5-4 Brains 4-4 Grey Power 4-5 Freshfrogs 6-0 W.C.C.F. 0-6.
