CAMP MARIAN'S
TELEPHONE SYSTEM EXPLAINED

What do you know about your telephone and the telephone system of Marian College? Well, if you are typical of most students, you know that if you want to talk to someone across campus and you are not going to walk over to their room, you will pick up the telephone and dial their extension number. Simple? Sure! But, stop to think what would happen if your telephone system did not work! Marian College has 12 trunk lines serving the Campus. Of these only 10 are actually in service to Marian students and Administrative personnel. The telephone system was actually new on June 25, 1984, and it was recently upgraded on August 22, 1985. The reason? The original system had a few flaws in it. After talking with Richard Rosenfeld, I believe that the present telephone system is better than the original one installed in 1984. Of the 344 telephones issued, approximately 170 were issued to students. Additionally, approximately 70 private phones were brought from home by students or the phones were bought by the students. Telephones issued by Mr. Rosenfeld are either wall mounted or desk phones, and the usual wall mounting position in Clare Hall is between two doors. Really exciting, huh? Any desk telephones in Clare Hall which are connected to wall mounts are not college property, and the phone cords on these phones might pose a hazard to students and visiting friends in that people might trip over the telephone cord and do bodily injury to themselves. Also, most private telephones are pulse tone, most long distance systems require touch tone phones to operate their system.

QUEUING! What's that you might ask? Let's compare it to a business that has a switchboard operator. You are in an office and you want to make an outgoing call. You dial your switchboard operator and ask her/him for an outside line. You are told that all outside lines are busy at the present time, but the switchboard person will call you back when a line opens up. Basically this is the same thing QUEUING does. When you want to make a call off campus, you pick up the receiver, put your ear to the earpiece of the receiver, and with your index finger or a pen/pencil dial 9. You hear a beep..beep..beep., in the receiver. QUEUING is telling you that all outside lines are busy. I will call you back when I have an available line for you to use. (You do not have to dial 9 again.)

Ring..ring..ring,, QUEUING is calling you back to tell you a line is free. You may now place your call. You dial the number, if the other party is home and decides to answer their telephone, you now can talk to that person.

Does the system work? Must be! Over Labor Day weekend, an excess of 9200 outgoing calls were placed. Over the weekend of September 13, that is from Friday at 4:30 p.m. until Monday morning at 8:00 a.m., 2938 outgoing telephone calls were made, with minimal waiting on QUEUING. QUEUING went into effect this past February. The IBM Computer in Mr. Rosenfeld's office keeps track of all outgoing telephone calls made. However, it does NOT record the content of your conversation!

(Cont. on page 2)
S.A.T. RISE AGAIN

New York, NY (CPS) -- This year's college freshmen pushed the average Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) score up faster than any year since 1963, the College Board announced.

While board officials, who oversee the administering of the test nationwide, attribute the increases to more scholarly high school students and harder high school courses, some critics think it's because more students are taking SAT coaching classes.

Whatever the reasons, the average verbal test score was 431, up from 426 last year. The average math score was 475, an increase from 471 a year ago.

1985 is the fourth consecutive year in which at least one of these scores went up," says George H. Hanford, president of the College Board.

All ethnic groups and both men and women recorded higher average scores, Hanford points out. "All of these trends would seem to indicate that there is more positive attitude toward academic pursuits in our high schools and that many efforts at the local, state and national levels over the past decade to improve the education of college-bound students have begun to bear fruit," Hanford asserts.

He adds more high school students have been taking honors courses in recent years.

While the trend is encouraging, Hanford says "it is also clear that we have no grounds for being complacent about the state of education in this country. We still have a long way to go."

Hanford adds the approximately one million college freshmen who took the SAT make up only 37 percent of the students in high school class of 1985.

Others don't credit school reform for the increases, however. Average scores rose primarily because more students are taking SAT tutoring courses, claims Allan Nairn, co-author of a 1980 critique of the test.

"Some people benefit from the coaching privilege," he says, implying students who can afford to take coaching courses have an advantage over those who can't.

Various studies, all of them disputed by the College Board and the Educational Testing Service (ETS), which actually writes the SATs and computes the scores, assert preparatory courses can improve students' scores by as much as 100 points.

As a result, "coaching is a growing industry," says David White, who has written two books about how to take college admissions tests.

"At the moment, I'm going through the Graduate Record Exam with a student," White said during a phone interview, "and we are getting the right answers without even reading the passages."

White says coaching courses teach students how to recognize patterns to questions, thus enhancing their chances of choosing the correct answers.

Thanks to the Truth In Testing Act, passed in 1980, ETS has to make old standardized tests available to those who request them.

"That helps coaching," notes David Owen, author of "None Of The Above," another critic of the SAT.

But Hanford disputes the coaching industry's claims.

"In the states where there has been a lot of coaching, the increases in scores have been smaller," he claims.

Hanford himself is more upset by the declining numbers of black students taking the SAT. "In 1985, 8.9 percent of our test-takers were black, compared to 9.1 percent in 1984.

"It is certainly reassuring to see that blacks are scoring higher on the SAT, but it is disheartening to realize that fewer of them appear to be considering going to college," Hanford says.

(Cont. from page 1)
You are still protected from illegal wiretapping procedures by the Supreme Court.

For those enterprising students who wish to take the college phone with you when you leave, don't do it! You will be assessed a fee of $55.00 for that phone. (We are talking about college property.) And I suppose until that charge is paid, you will not get your diploma or a transcript of your grades forwarded. So, you will lose!

B.J.
Winter sports at Camp Marian will begin Saturday afternoon when the ice skating rinks on the first floor of Marian Hall will be completed. The skating hours will be from 12:36 p.m. to 4:57 p.m. on weekends. Col. Ryan’s office will be supplying hot cocoa and doughnuts. Skates can be rented from Sister Margareta for 43 cents an hour. Dean Woodman will be spinning the tunes from his all time favorite top 40’s hits collection which includes “Moon River,” “The Tennessee Waltz,” and “Rock Around the Clock.”

So everybody get in gear, collect your longjohns, hats and mittens and head on over to the Camp Marian Ice Palace. The opening day crowd is expected to be well over 10 so get there early!

Being the inquisitive reporters that we are, we questioned Ron Schmoll about the life expectancy of the ice. He said not to worry, the ice will be around for aheck of a long time because the heat will not be turned on until well after New Year’s.

We were relieved to hear this because Clare Hail was worried about their ice sculpture contest, since several of the contestants were storing their sculptures in their rooms and the heat would have turned their sculptures into puddles.

Next week Doyle Hall will be unveiling its new sauna and whirlpool in an old storage closet in the basement. We questioned the developers of this project and asked them how they could maintain such high temperatures. They said not to worry, due to the way our heat is set up, we could have heat in July if we wanted it.

Being the sharp-minded reporters that we are, we concluded that Fr. Leopold’s Natural Science class is wrong. The equator does not run across Africa, but through Doyle Hall and the poles are not the coldest places on the earth. Clare Hail is! (Sorry Fr. Leo)

D.E.A.R.

---

When is a Salad Like a Dessert?

...when it’s served at a Salad Bar.

Most salad bar patrons believe they are going to get a well balanced, low calorie meal.

Salad Fixings’ Calorie Content:

- Celery, 1 sm. stalk: 3 calories
- Cucumbers, 3 slices: 4 calories
- Carrots, 10 strips: 8 calories
- Dill Pickle Slices, 1/2 c.: 8 calories
- Mushrooms, raw, 1/2 c.: 10 calories
- Green Pepper, 1 med.: 13 calories
- Tomato, Cherry, 4: 14 calories
- Lettuce, Iceberg, 1/4 head: 15 calories
- Cauliflower, 1/2 c.: 15 calories
- Artichoke Hearts, 5-6: 20 calories
- Broccoli, 1/2 c.: 22 calories
- Strawberries, 1/2 c.: 26 calories
- Orange Sections, 1/2 c.: 35 calories
- Beets, 1/2 c.: 35 calories
- Pineapple, fresh, 1/2 c.: 37 calories
- Bacon bits, 1 Tbsp.: 50 calories

---

Cheese, Parmesan, grated, 3 Tbsp.: 75 calories
Green Goddess, Wishbone, 1 Tbsp.: 70 calories
Italian, Wishbone, 1 Tbsp.: 80 calories
Bleu Cheese, Wishbone, 1 Tbsp.: 74 calories
Mayonnaise, Hellmann’s, 1 Tbsp.: 99 calories
Garbanzo, Kidney Beans, 1/2 c.: 85 calories
Cheese, Amer., 1 oz.: 100 calories
Cheese, Swiss, 1 oz.: 104 calories
Croutons, 1 oz.: 110 calories
Ham, 3 oz.: 170 calories
Tuna, 3 oz.: 170 calories

Salad Dressing Calorie Content:

- Russian, Wishbone, 1 Tbsp.: 54 calories
- French, Wishbone, 1 Tbsp.: 59 calories
- Oil and Vinegar, Kraft, 1 Tbsp.: 45 calories
- Thousand Island, Wishbone, 1 Tbsp.: 70 calories

---

"It’s a research project. I’m trying to find out which desserts my thighs are immune to."

College Press Service

"Oh sure, I just love midterms. In fact, they’re my favorite pastime outside of watching soap operas and eating refined sugar."

College Press Service
PHONE CONVERSATION

(The following may or may not be a true story, but the names have not been changed to protect the guilty.)

WARNING: This article may contain subliminal backward messages.

The preceding phone conversation is between Tipper Gore, wife of Sen. Albert Gore and Susan Baker, wife of Treasury Secretary James Baker. They have both recently started the Parents Music Resource Center and they are concerned about the effects of rock lyrics from such obscene performers as Prince, Madonna, and Motley Crue are having on their youngsters. Susan had just heard about the night stalker at Marian College and she decided to call Tipper. The following is an excerpt from that phone conversation:

Susan: "Oh yes, Tipper, I'm sure of it. That stalker at Marian College was a normal person before he heard that horrid AC/DC song coming from one of those boys' rooms at Doyle!"

Tipper: "You mean he heard AC/DC's song Night Prowler and he just went bonkers?"

Susan: "Of course! I mean, with lyrics like: "and you won't feel the steel/Until its hanging out your back"...that song could turn anyone insane."

Tipper: "Excuse me, Susan, but Heather's singing "Material Girl" again and I have to wash her mouth out with soap. (Pause) There, that fixed her! I can't stand that tramp Madonna."

Susan: "I know what you mean. Why don't you let me talk to her, Tipper? I'll make her see the light. I totally got my boys to stop listening to that Motley Crue trash. Now they listen to good, wholesome country music."

Tipper: "Hold on a second Suzie, Raspberry Beret just came on the radio. I have to change it."

Susan: "I think that is such a filthy song! Those lyrics are terrible! "If it was warm, She wouldn't wear much more!"...Disgusting!"

Tipper: "Of course it is! You know that whenever it gets warm, children who are listening to that will start getting out of their clothes, being influenced by that scum Prince! Now, what else about that Marian Stalker?"

Susan: "Yes, I think we should...."

Tipper: "Hold on a minute. Heather's listening to Van Halen on her radio. I'll have to break it...."

NOTE: Tipper Gore and Susan Baker were eventually killed by the Marian Stalker when they tried to drive him back with crucifixes. They were both canonized as saints. The Marian Stalker was apprehended and is now serving a life sentence in prison.

P.W.
MAGAZINE HIGHLIGHTS
TOP MBA PROGRAMS

Students who want information on Master of Business Administration degree programs can find out about 56 good ones in the September 1985 issue of Business Week's Guide to Careers. Copies are available at The Career Placement and Planning Office, located in the basement of Marian Hall.

An 8 page information section, "USA/MBA," includes about 60 words on each leading national program. According to BMGC publisher, Chris Frey, the graduate schools supply the information and sponsor the section.

Each of the participating MBA Schools also offers to send its latest information package about its program to prospective students, who can get it through the magazine or direct from the schools.

Just a short reminder. There will be NO Carbon next Friday, October 18, 1985, due to midterm recess.

Women's Cross Country ran their last meet Tuesday, October 8, at Butler. At the start these girls look like a scene from "Chariots of Fire".

Oooo! Aren't they cute! Contestants in the Tootsie Beauty. (Far from right to left) Mike Markley, Kenny Schafer, Mark Wisman, Stan Lay. Stan Lay was the overall winner and Kenny Schafer won the best legs contest.

WOW! Look at that! Is that really Mark DeHart under all of that?

Kenny Allison does his impression of a Pointer Sister.
Congress May Tie Aid to "C" Average

Washington, D.C. (CPS) -- College students may have to maintain a "C" average in the future in order to get federal financial aid.

The grade requirement is just one change in the aid system Congress is now debating as it tries to pass the Higher Education Reauthorization Act of 1985.

The grade measure, proposed by senators Don Nickles (R-Ok) and Clairborne Pell (D-R.I.), has been proposed unsuccessfully before.

But chances for its passage may be good this time, sources say, because legislators are looking for relatively painless ways to cut the federal budget and because of recent publicity about bad students who get financial aid.

Currently, students only must be in good standing and make "satisfactory academic progress" toward a degree to receive federal aid.

"Unfortunately," Nickles said during a hearing earlier this month, "there have been problems with this open-ended definition."

"Because of this open-ended opportunity for abuse, I believe we need to have a more specific standard," Nickles originally advanced his idea after a 1981 audit found nearly 20 percent of the students who got aid had less than a "C" average. Ten percent had a cumulative GPA under 1.5.

Congress also is debating a bill to let graduate students, who generally face higher education costs than undergrads, borrow more federally-guaranteed loan money and pay it back over a longer period of time.

The reauthorization process, which effectively sets federal higher education policies for the ensuing of five years, usually triggers a slew of proposals that never become law.

But if federal loan programs are to be changed, the changes will first emerge during these congressional review sessions.

The grading bill would put aid recipients whose grades fall below 2.0 on probation for a term.

If the student doesn't improve by the end of the probation period, he or she will be denied federal aid.

Administrators would be empowered, however, to extend the probation period for hardship cases, such as extended illness.

The new break for graduate students who want a Guaranteed Student Loan (GSL) program came up during a House subcommittee hearing.

Georgetown University law school dean John Kramer, speaking for a coalition of law school associations, said grad students needed the break.

"Over time, middle class students in particular are just not going to be able to afford a graduate education," Kramer warns.

Moreover, unless debt repayment policies are changed, many graduate students will feel obligated to take high-paying jobs after they get their degree, instead of going into teaching or community service work, Kramer predicts.

Kramer's plan would let graduate students borrow more than they currently can, and, if they borrow more than $15,000, repay it over 10 to 20 years.

Extended repayment periods currently are made at the discretion of the lending agency.

In part because the plan calls for graduate students to pay the interest on the loans beginning with the 10th year after graduation, Kramer calculated that the changes will save the government between $200 and $500 million a year.

Students would assume the cost, but Kramer thinks they ultimately should be making enough to keep the payments from being too much of a burden.

Current law allows the administration to adjust loan limits, but Kramer says recent law school requests for adjustments have been rejected.

Although Kramer's proposals were only for graduate students, he says they could be just as easily applied to all students.

In fact, the American Council of Education, the most prominent higher education lobbying group, wants to increase loan limits to $3,000 from $2,500 for freshmen, and sophomores, and to $8,000 from $5,000 for graduate students.

As yet, Reagan administration officials have not commented publicly on either the grade requirement or the graduate student differential proposals.

Education Secretary William Bennett is expected to unveil his own proposals for the reauthorization of higher education laws later this year.

-- The Alumni Phon-a-thon: All clubs and classes need to see Bob Oakes to choose a date to work. It is for three consecutive weeks, Monday - Thursday. We need at least 10 people for each date. There will be a reward for the club or class with the most money taken in one day. Free pizza is also provided!!!

We're very proud of our Alumni support... why not just recently, one of our boosted contributed $1000 funding for our university...
FOR YOUR INFORMATION

CHEERLEADING

Cheerleading tryouts have been postponed until Monday, October 14. Anyone interested please get a hold of Kim Carrico at Ext. 499, or Katie Stanifer at Ext. 129. We really need more girls, and we’re willing to help you get ready.

THE FIORETTI NEEDS YOU!

WANTED: Contributions to the Fioretti, Marian’s literary magazine. Essays, short stories or dramas (maximum length: 6-8 pp. double-spaced, poetry and ink drawings (5” x 5” or 5” x 8”) by students or faculty would be appreciated. Materials may be submitted to the switchboard. Deadline for submission is October 25.

For further details contact:
Sr. Stella English Dept.
Terence Hanley 561-5574
Julia Hilez ext. 190

THANKS

The following students assisted as volunteers with Hospitality at the recent Indiana Association for the Education of Young Children State Fall Conference. Their participation was coordinated by Mrs. Rosanne Pirtle.

Jill Bakker
Judy Carlisle
Monica Durmin
Cheryl Kolar
Patty Koors
Jeanne Obergfell
Michele Petch
Audrey Taylor

The conference was held at IPUI on October 4 and 5. The keynote speakers were Clare Cherry, author of text used in ED 220, Early Childhood Guidance and Thomas Moore, known for his records and materials in music for young children. Many thanks to these students for their help and professionalism and for their positive representation of Marian College’s Education Department.

FINANCIAL AID

Attention freshmen and sophomores! Please check outside the Financial Aid. If your name appears on the list hanging on the wall, please stop in the office and see Sr. Rosemarie Butler.

Also, there are still a few Juniors and Seniors who need to stop in the office. Please check these lists for your name. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

PROFESSOR UNDEAD

Northwestern Prof. George Blankstein last week got official notice from the Social Security Administration that he is no longer dead.

Blankstein, 68, had been protesting for eight months -- and had twice visited Social Security offices -- that Medicare bureaucrats had wrongly pronounced him dead when they refused to pay his doctor bill.

SENIORS....

Sign up for Senior Pictures will be held October 21-25. Pictures will be taken October 26 - November 8. There will be a $6.00 sitting fee plus a $2.00 fee to have a color senior section in the yearbook. Anyone who does not want Senior pictures taken, but would like to have a picture in the yearbook may turn a picture, along with the $6.00 color fee, in to Cathy Watt or Laura Murphy by December 20.

FLEA MARKET

Clare Halls beginning at 12:00 p.m. this afternoon. Prices begin at 25¢ and go as high as 60¢ or $2.50. Come and see what catches your eye. Plenty of items for dorm rooms as well as households. Great bargains on all merchandise!

The International Club will have a Flea Market today in the breezeway between Marian and

BOOMER CLUB

Homecoming is just around the corner and the Booster Club needs your help! We need a theme for the Homecoming Dance and the dress-up days for Homecoming Week. If your theme and dress-up days are picked, you will go to the dance for free. Please submit entries by October 21 to any Booster Club officer: President, Janet Kuehr ext. 143; Vice President, Julie Mathias ext. 119; Secretary, Ann Rhodes ext. 107; Treasurer, Stacy O’Connor ext. 119.

The winner will be notified by October 23.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB NEWS

Sunday, October 13 at 7:00 p.m. in the Marian Hall Auditorium there will be a performance of Mexican dancers performed by 11 local Mexican-American artists. The program will last thirty to forty minutes and there will be no admission price.

International Films

The International Films that will be shown this week on Tuesday, October 15 in the Library Auditorium are:

At 11:30 a.m. Christmas Around the World -- Enjoy the holiday carols of Austria, sung by a folk group; an old-fashioned German Christmas with its fairs and foods; Sweden’s lovely children’s procession on St. Lucia day; the simple charms of a French provincial Christmas and a typical American Christmas full of warmth and good cheer. In English, one hour.

At 7:30 p.m. Carmen -- A modern dance company rehearses a flamenco-ballet version of the Bizet opera, and the principal performers commence living out its scenario in the reality of their own daily lives. Passionate and pulsating and beautifully danced. 99 min.
PARK IN FIRE Lanes AND BE Towed
Automobiles parked illegally in fire lanes, will be towed off-campus, and can be claimed at the following address at a cost of $15.00. Also, all outstanding parking tickets must be paid before automobile may be claimed:
Orders of Fire Marshal, Vester's Marathon Station, 38th & Cold Spring Road.

WANTED
A very energetic individual, fraternity, sorority or a campus organization to act as our rep. for our annual Spring Break trips to Ft. Lauderdale and Daytona Beach--Earn commissions and/or free trip. Call or write Coastal Tours P.O. Box 1258 Lisle, IL 60532 or 1-800-545-5479.

WANTED
Wanted...2 student workers for Wednesday from 11:00 am - 1:00 pm in the Cafe. If interested, contact the ARA Office.

WILL DO TYPING! Term papers, legals, resumes. $1.00 per page double spaced or $1.75 per page single spaced.

Joni McClure, 896-5466.
Call anytime.

Academy Of Hair Design
Family Hair Care Center
266-9013
2150 Lafayette Road
Service by students is strictly supervised.

$1.00 OFF style with I.D., also $1.00 OFF style with coupon.
TOTAL $2.00 OFF (regularly $5.95). Includes condition treatment, shampoo, cut and blow dry.

$5.00 OFF perms -- In the Main Room for only $19.95 regularly or in the Advance Room for $24.95 regularly. Includes shampoo, condition treatment, cut and blow dry.

the Mug Rack
Sandwiches
Drinks
PIZZA
STUDENTS UNDER 21 ARE WELCOME!
MARIAN COLLEGE NIGHT IS EVERY THURSDAY

ITZA PIZZA
Featuring
Hand-Thrown Pizza
Tostada Pizzas
And
Authentic Grecian Gyros

Regular Tostada
10 inch 3.50 3.90
12 inch 3.95 4.25
14 inch 4.90 5.35
16 inch 5.70 6.10
All Tostada Pizzas are topped with refried beans, nacho cheese sauce, seasoned ground beef, and tangy cheddar cheese.

Authentic Grecian Gyros with Special Sauce $2.00

Pizza Hours
Mon-Thurs 8:00-11:00 p.m.
Sun 8:00-12:00 a.m.
PHONE 929-0358
WE DELIVER

WRITERS' BLOCK
Send $2 for catalog of over 16,000 topics to assist your writing efforts and help you defeat Writers' Block. For more info., call TOLL-FREE 1-800-621-5745. Authors’ Research, Rm. 600-n, 407 S. Dearborn, Chicago, IL 60605.

I.D. style TOTAL
$1.00 OFF style with coupon, also $1.00 OFF style with coupon. TOTAL $2.00 OFF (regularly $5.95). Includes condition treatment, shampoo, cut and blow dry. Coupon Expires October 25, 1985.