10-13-1971

The Phoenix, Vol.XXXVI, No.4, (October 13, 1971)

Marian University - Indianapolis

Follow this and additional works at: http://mushare.marian.edu/phnx

Recommended Citation
http://mushare.marian.edu/phnx/273

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Campus Newspaper Collection at MUShare. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Phoenix by an authorized administrator of MUShare. For more information, please contact emandity@marian.edu.
PHIL HELLNER
Guidance and Counseling Services at Marian this year have a new director, Mr. Phil Hellner. A native of Dearborn, Michigan, Hellner received a B.A. in English from Sacred Heart College in 1956. He spent two years in the Army, stationed in Germany, before returning to the University of Michigan from 1962-1966 studying Guidance and Counseling Psychology. He attended Sacred Heart College in 1956. He then attended Indiana State, receiving his M.A. in Counseling and Psychology.

Counseling from the University of Detroit in 1961. He attended the University of Michigan from 1962-1966 studying Guidance and Counseling Psychology. He then attended Indiana State, receiving his M.A. in Counseling and Psychology.

He is interested in reciprocal learning while here at Marian while he wants to help others, he also feels that he can learn something from his experiences here at Marian. He is “impressed with the students I’ve had occasion to meet” and “quite comfortable with the faculty”.

Besides his duties as counselor, Hellner also assumes the role as part-time teacher in the Education Department. His office is located in the SAC building.

At Marian, for his first year of teaching is Mr. Robert Placek, a native of Terre Haute, Indiana. A January, 1970 graduate of Indiana State University with his Master’s Degree in Accounting, Mr. Placek spent a year and a half with a certified public accounting firm in Indianapolis before finally going into teaching. He has four classes this semester: two of basic accounting, one of managerial accounting, and one of advanced accounting.

Mr. Placek, his wife, Rosalie, and his daughter, Stephanie, live at the Cloverleaf Apartments, approximately fifteen minutes away from the campus. He finds the school beautiful and a lot quieter than I.S.U., and the students’ very impressive.

Mr. Lynn E. Morell will have his hands full as he begins his first year as a faculty member of Marian.

Marian College

VOLUME 36 NUMBER 4
MARIAN COLLEGE
OCTOBER 13, 1971

ED SCHILLING
Marian to Hear Neff

The Democratic candidate for mayor for the city of Indianapolis, John F. Neff, will be here at Marian College on Tuesday, October 19, 12:15-1:15 p.m., in the Library Auditorium.

A 1959 graduate of De Pauw University, Neff attended Indiana University Law School from which he graduated with a Doctor of Jurisprudence Degree in 1962. He was admitted to the Bar the same year, and shortly after, became an Indianapolis Democratic Precinct committeeman and later served for several years as Democratic Ward Chairman in the tenth ward.

In 1964, at the age of 26, Mr. Neff was elected into the House of Representatives where he served as a ranking member of the Cities and Towns Committee and as a member of the Judiciary Committee, the Insurance Committee and Legislative Procedure Committee, simultaneously serving as Assistant City Attorney for the city to which he was appointed in 1965. He was named County Attorney for Marion County in 1968 and has served in several city boards including the Metropolitan Development Commission, of which he was president until his resignation in February of this year.

Mr. Neff is opposed by the incumbent Republican candidate, Richard Lugar, and has spoken against the Uni-Gov as a failure. He believes that “it was forced down the throats of the people of Marion County without permitting them a voice in the matter.” He also feels that unemployment in Indianapolis is “uncontrollable” and it is up to the Mayor’s office to “improve job opportunities for all our citizens.”

In these and other issues, Neff believes that “the human qualities... not the number of buildings and streets, make a city not only good but great.”

ROBERT PLACEK
Robert Placek, a native of Terre Haute, Indiana, is currently the head of the Marian Knights varsity basketball program. He is a graduate of Marian College and has been there since 1970. Placek has been with Marian since 1970. He received his Master's Degree in Accounting from Indiana State University in 1966.

He is known for his intense coaching style and his ability to develop young players into successful athletes. Placek is a former member of the Indiana State basketball team and has been coaching at Marian College for over 30 years. He has led the Marian Knights to many successful seasons and has been recognized for his contributions to the sport of basketball.

The Marian Knights are a member of the Horizon League and compete in Division I of the NCAA. They have won numerous conference championships and have been recognized for their athletic achievements.

LYNN MORELL

NEW IN ADMISSIONS

A new staff has been introduced to the Admission Office at Marian College this year. Gary Yoder, the new director of admissions, is replacing Robert Faust, who is attending graduate school at Purdue University.

Two new assistant directors also were selected, Pat McKinney, a graduate of Marian College and an English major, joined the staff in August. He grew up in Shelbyville, Indiana, where he and his new wife, now reside. At attending Marian College he played basketball for the Marian Knights basketball team.

MARK RUTLEDGE
Mark Rutledge, a graduate of Indiana State, is another director in the admissions office this fall. As a speech major in undergradu­ate work and an English major, the joined the staff in August. He grew up in Shelby­ville, Indiana, where he and his new wife, now reside. At attending Marian College he played basketball for the Marian Knights basketball team.

Mark Rutledge, a graduate of Indiana State, is another director in the admissions office this fall. As a speech major in undergraduate work and an M.S. in Student Personnel, he received degrees from ISU.

Rutledge last Saturday for an extended trip to the East Coast to recruit students for Marian College.

PATT MCKINNEY

REFINISHED GYM

Marian sports will take on a new appearance this year with a newly refurbished Clare Hall gymnasium floor. Maintenance men have been laboring diligently for over a week, attempting to re­pair the foot-worn floor.

Now that they have finished it, it is up to the students to main­tain it. Students are reminded that street shoes are allowed only on the outer edge of the floor, and that gym shoes are to be worn in the playing area.

MARK RUTLEDGE
Mark Rutledge, a graduate of Marian College and an English major, joined the staff in August. He grew up in Shelbyville, Indiana, where he and his new wife, now reside. At attending Marian College he played basketball for the Marian Knights basketball team.
Anger for S.S.

Search, discuss, evaluate, and voice was my plea last week to the student body. I was hoping that the students would somehow see the present pressures limiting the housing policy. During the past week I saw little reaction to the issue. If there were any activities, they involved those individuals who were concerned before my last editorial. Student Board still has taken a passive stand. Its special Housing Policy Committee still does not exist. I take this position because we were encouraged to be ready to answer questions from their constituencies might have, but no questions actually are asked. In the last few days I have been wondering what can be the cause of this apparent apathy.

It could be that the issue was not clear enough to the students. They still would be confused by the question. Allow me to present a brief summary of what is involved, i.e., Student Service's power policy, the Housing Policy, and the play. It is that simple. A few weeks ago Student Services started a campaign against 'illegal' off-campus housed students. The campaign has proved somewhat successful. I believe that the students consulted with their policy and filed for exceptions to the policy. For some the verdict handed down meant that they would have to leave the dorm; for others, they would be withdrawn from the residence hall. I feel that it is my duty to reveal this, for the student body has the right to know. Allow me to present a brief summary of what is involved, i.e., Student Service's power policy, the Housing Policy, and the play. It is that simple. A few weeks ago Student Services started a campaign against 'illegal' off-campus housed students. The campaign has proved somewhat successful. I believe that the students consulted with their policy and filed for exceptions to the policy. For some the verdict handed down meant that they would have to leave the dorm; for others, they would be withdrawn from the residence hall. I feel that it is my duty to reveal this, for the student body has the right to know.

Dear Editors:
The age of analysis makes it inevitable that sooner or later analyze practically every situation. The following analysis of the activities of the Student Services is by no means the first, the last, nor the most complete. It is left to the reader to determine the validity of that which follows below.

I would like to make a comparison between the formation of the S.S. and the Rationale of the Government of East Germany. From the precedence set by the government of East German government was faced with two problems, (1) reconstruction of a war-torn country, i.e., economic development and (2) reconstruction of its government. These decisions were made by its victorious occupier Russia, political development. For many reasons (some political; some, economic; and some ethical) many of the peoples of East Germany chose not to accept the conditions forced upon them by the government. Unable to initiate change in the institution, they chose to perpetuate it. Refusing to give up in West Germany seeking freedom from what they considered oppression. This put the government in a very precarious situation. It could not let people continue to leave the country. Thus, it was forced to fight its war against itself. It is also interesting that it is not the interests of the country itself but to help solve the problems. Also in order to ease their own job of education along the Communist lines and to keep possible agitation from entering the country, they functioned a law that forces students and workers to take up the people, tight restrictions were placed on travel into the country. All of this was done in the name of production of the institution (it should be noted that all institutions engage in this sort of thing to one degree or another, some are just more blatant).

The Office of Student Services of Marian College is by nature faced with carrying out the directions of the institution handed down from above. The Office of Student Services is not responsible for the success or failure of the students. Perplexed with the chain of command and concerned or should I be truthful and say angry, I have talked with administrators and listened to faculty. I have evaluated all of these and more can sit back longer. As an individual, do publicly express my contempt for the Office of Student Services and in particular Alfred Brames, his advice is sought on exceptions to and permission of the policy. Do not misunderstand this position!

The following analysis of the activities of the Student Services is by no means the first, the last, nor the most complete. It is left to the reader to determine the validity of that which follows below.

I would like to make a comparison between the formation of the S.S. and the Rationale of the Government of East Germany. From the precedence set by the government of East German government was faced with two problems, (1) reconstruction of a war-torn country, i.e., economic development and (2) reconstruction of its government. These decisions were made by its victorious occupier Russia, political development. For many reasons (some political; some, economic; and some ethical) many of the peoples of East Germany chose not to accept the conditions forced upon them by the government. Unable to initiate change in the institution, they chose to perpetuate it. Refusing to give up in West Germany seeking freedom from what they considered oppression. This put the government in a very precarious situation. It could not let people continue to leave the country. Thus, it was forced to fight its war against itself. It is also interesting that it is not the interests of the country itself but to help solve the problems. Also in order to ease their own job of education along the Communist lines and to keep possible agitation from entering the country, they functioned a law that forces students and workers to take up the people, tight restrictions were placed on travel into the country. All of this was done in the name of production of the institution (it should be noted that all institutions engage in this sort of thing to one degree or another, some are just more blatant).

The Office of Student Services of Marian College is by nature faced with carrying out the directions of the institution handed down from above. The Office of Student Services is not responsible for the success or failure of the students. Perplexed with the chain of command and concerned or should I be truthful and say angry, I have talked with administrators and listened to faculty. I have evaluated all of these and more can sit back longer. As an individual, do publicly express my contempt for the Office of Student Services and in particular Alfred Brames, his advice is sought on exceptions to and permission of the policy. Do not misunderstand this position!

The annual Social Council concert has been set for December 8 with entertainment provided by the programs that follow below. The Student Council Agency sponsors Lighthouse, who now have a number three spot on the chart, and another one is "A Fine Morning." Following the Lighthouse's two one-hour shows is the warm-up band performing for the 30-minute programs. Tickets for this concert will be $3.50 with a.I.D. and $5.50 for off campus people. Two, in order to keep the campus running smoothly, i.e., nothing controversial, everything will be eliminated in the organization and political development. For many reasons (some political; some, economic; and some ethical) many of the peoples of East Germany chose not to accept the conditions forced upon them by the government. Unable to initiate change in the institution, they chose to perpetuate it. Refusing to give up in West Germany seeking freedom from what they considered oppression. This put the government in a very precarious situation. It could not let people continue to leave the country. Thus, it was forced to fight its war against itself. It is also interesting that it is not the interests of the country itself but to help solve the problems. Also in order to ease their own job of education along the Communist lines and to keep possible agitation from entering the country, they functioned a law that forces students and workers to take up the people, tight restrictions were placed on travel into the country. All of this was done in the name of production of the institution (it should be noted that all institutions engage in this sort of thing to one degree or another, some are just more blatant).

The annual Social Council concert has been set for December 8 with entertainment provided by the programs that follow below. The Student Council Agency sponsors Lighthouse, who now have a number three spot on the chart, and another one is "A Fine Morning." Following the Lighthouse's two one-hour shows is the warm-up band performing for the 30-minute programs. Tickets for this concert will be $3.50 with a.I.D. and $5.50 for off campus people.
Gabriel Moran, controversial religious educator, expressed a hope for a Church that is "not a band-aid version of what we have today, but a Church transformed," as an address at Marian College last Wednesday evening. In dealing with his topic: "Church, Source, Setting, or Obligation to Education? Moran characterized the Church as both real and ideal. "Education is the link between the real and ideal," he stated, "but religious education has been swallowed up by the real." Moran feels that the success the Church has experienced with religious education has blinded its eyes to the future. "The Church can be a source and setting for education," Moran said, "but if it is not the source or the setting, then it is an obstacle to the ideal Church.

Marian cited education, community, and religion in society as sources for religious education, but indicated that the concept in these three areas is "the Church, church, the Church" according to the educator, domesticalizes the potential of these areas by establishing boundaries between each area with an institution and in turn making that institution permanent and unchanging. Moran says that society resists change. "Religion is identified with family." Our schools are controlled by men, run by women for children. The community is dominated by the mother-child aspect of the family and the Church also is run by men for women.

The Fordham University professor admonished the Church for reproducing the women and child identification. Likewise, he said "The Church is channeling religious drives into conformity of the status quo."

Religious education as Moran sees it should have two qualities, an absence of the pyramid structure of hierarchy and an absence of secrecy. His objection to hierarchical bureaucracy centered around his concept of roles. "This structure moves toward elimination of human perfection. Identification with roles leads to a bureaucracy efficient to a point," Moran stated.

The ideal church in Moran's thinking is one "where we play lots of roles, wear lots of masks. There would be many bishops, both men and women who ought to play the role." In the future, Moran envisions "popes and bishops who speak for themselves without identifying with a role but speaking for us with passion."

Moran knocked down secrecy in the ideal church. "The more communication the better," he stated. "The fault of the church," he went on, "is its failure to develop a means of communication."

As a plan for the future, Moran said he was in favor of mixed leaderships. "I'm in favor of desegregating every organization." I'd like to see women on the board of directors of General Motors, the Senate and the Supreme Court."

In closing he called for all Christians to be "liberal and devout". He defined liberal as "one engaged in action which is liberating and freeing-in search of peace, justice and love." "Who is devout, loves acts of religious tradition."

"To everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under heaven..." These are the opening words to a chapter in the Old Testament which well describes the beauty and complexity of life itself. Time occupies our thoughts, words and actions in the world of today. Through the element of time and through our purpose in life, we accomplish a goal, making our life worth the blood, sweat and tears we put into it. Sister Stephanie Spicuzza, a Dominican nun from Prairie du Sac, Wisconsin is here on the Marian College campus spending her time learning skills in silk screening and at the same time gathering knowledge of philosophy and theology to take back to her small monastery in Wisconsin.

Sister Stephanie, a cloistered nun, is now as a student on campus this year. Formerly she attended La Crosse University in La Crosse, Wisconsin majoring in Physical Education. For some time this past summer she visited the Benedict priory in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Sister enjoys all kinds of sports. Many of her past summers have been spent skin-diving, life-guarding and water-skiding, for the lives near a lake which provides her with the opportunity of these sports. She recently added another hobby to her list, the guitar, for which she is now taking lessons. Sister Stephanie is where the action is, which is in the gym.

The Cistercian Order of which she belongs has only one such monastery in the United States, near Prairie du Sac in Wisconsin. Here the sisters "serve the Lord with joy" while praying the Divine Office, meditating, reading and studying, raising vegetables, performing domestic tasks such as cooking, cleaning, sewing and making altar breads. At their small monastery they bake the traditional wafer, and distribute the new style and whole-wheat breads.

The Cistercian sisters do not teach but spend time in prayer which is offered in the name of the Church. Through prayer the sisters grow in the understanding and meaning of their faith.

The community of Prairie du Sac has women from New York, South Dakota, Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota and Wisconsin who carry on the tradition of an order that originated in France. These women together pray and petition, and through them others benefit even though they (the sisters) are not out among the people. "Joy is the echo of God's life in us," is Sister Stephanie's favorite saying. Perhaps this idea reflects her innumerable thoughts about the present time. Now she says she enjoys the Marian College campus because she finds the classes rewarding and the people are so friendly.

"Cast-Offs and Curios" is the theme this year for the annual rummage sale sponsored by Indianapolis Chapter of the Marian College Alumni Association scheduled for Saturday, October 16, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the college's intramural gym. In addition to rummage donated by alumni and interested people, graduates also will be selling handcrafted articles including crayon dripings, candles, paintings and Christmas decorations.

Funds from the annual event are contributed to the Indianapolis chapter's scholarship fund and also are used for sponsorship of several college projects.

Graduates will pick-up donated articles from persons wishing to contribute to the sale. Arrangements may be made by calling 357-6097, or items may be deposited at the intramural gym on Thursday and Friday, October 14 and 15.

Comin'

October 22, 23, 24

All The Way Home

Mug Rack

3117 W. 30th St.

Menu Includes: Pizza, Stromboli,

Ground Steak, Beer, Wine, and now, STEAK.

924-6211

Free Delivery

Happy Hour 4-6 Daily
Football Frantics

The intramural football season reached the mid-way point Sunday as cold, windy football type weather invaded the campus. But the weather didn’t dampen the enthusiasm and a fine crowd turned out to witness some exciting team and individual performances. Here is the recap.

VICE LORDS 27
MOTHER TRUCKERS 0

In game number one of Sunday’s play, the Lords ran over the Mother Truckers by a score of 27-0. The game started like it would be a runaway as quarterback Jay Farrell went 55 yards on a keeper play to open the scoring. Dave Jongleaux ran the extra point, and shut out the high scoring Truckers. Evident by the Lords 20 second half points.

Davie Jongleaux ran the extra point to open the scoring. Steve Beckley led the punchless Truckers offense.

WILD BUNCH 20
NDUGOS 0

The Wild Bunch scored their second consecutive victory in an impressive way as they rolled over the Ndugos by a 20-0 count. Kenny Tyrell fired a perfect 28 yard scoring strike to Jerry Whalen to account for the first score and the Bunch was off and running. The conversion attempt failed but it mattered little as Tyrell thrilled the partisan crowd with an evade 35 yard scoring jaunt to up the score to 12-0. Mark Reynolds tackled on the extra point and it was 13-0 at intermission.

The Bunch came back as strong as ever in the second half and added six more points to their lead as Tyrell found Whalen in the end zone from 5 yards out. Reynolds again converted for the final tally of the shortened game, called off with still 13 minutes to play.

The Bunch defense, which also has held opponents to zero points, looked as strong as ever and next week’s game with the Vice Lords should be a titanic defensive struggle.

Calvin Mitchell led the Ndugo pass rush.

WAR 25
YUK FOUS 8

The surprising Yuk Fous, after leading 8-7 at half time, fell before an aggressive and determined War team by a score of 25-8.

Greg Rodick caught Jim Fisher in the end zone for a score to give the Yuk Fous a 2-0 lead. Quarterback Kenny Aust upped the margin to 8-0 when he didn’t a 7 yard run.

But Fisher hit Randy Stahrley with a short scoring pass and ran for the extra point himself to make the score 8-7 at half.

After intermission, it was all War as Bill Eckman and Stahrley hauled in scoring passes from Tim Ellis and Dan Branigan with still 8 minutes to play. The Bunch defense failed but it mattered little as Ed Klein turned in a good performance for the losing Yuk Fous.

IMFT 18
NADS 8

The Intramural Football Team scored a stunning upset as they won their first regular season game in 3 years by defeating the Nads by a score of 18-8.

However, the victory proved to be a costly one for the IMFT, as by winning they ruined all hopes of returning to the cellar bowl for the second consecutive year.

The first play proved to be an omen of things to come as the IMFT’s Steve Buffington caught a pass from quarterback Tim Ellis and ran 60 yards to score. Later in the half Ellinger hit Vince Ryan with a pass and the quarterback ran by Larry Merkii, scrambled 50 yards to paydirt to make the score 12-0 at half.

After intermission Hugh Stenmiller scored a safety to make it 12-2 and Terry Werner hauled in a strike from Dan Lempi to close the gap to 12-8. But the IMFT scored on another Ellinger to Ryan bomb covering 60 yards on the final play of the game to make the final score 18-8. Bill Schollen showed a lot of potential in his season debut, as Dave Starks anchored the IMFT defense.

Up the Middle Impressives

Although the opening of baseball season is still months away, the Knights already have a jump on other teams.

The reason for this is the recently conducted fall practice which ended last week, even though two weeks doesn’t seem like much time, it gave new head coach Lynn Morrell a chance to evaluate his veteran and rookie personnel.

Evidently, he was pleased with what he saw. “We have a lot of potential and looked real strong up the middle,” stated coach Morrell, and bring strong up the middle is the sign of a good team. I must admit that I underestimated the players before I’d seen them perform,” he confessed, “but during the past few weeks they’ve shown me a lot and I’m really impressed. Marian is noted for a high caliber of baseball and I think we’ll continue in this tradition.”

W.A.A. ELECTS OFFICERS

Marian’s Women’s Athletic Association held its election of officers at the monthly meeting Monday October 4, 1971.

Jeanne Grace was re-elected president, Ginie Barbeauld was chosen secretary, and Ingrid Augoples is treasurer.

A large number of members were present, and Miss Grace commented on the overwhelming response to intramural volleyball. She also reminded the women that the varsity volleyball team will soon be formed, with tryouts on October 18, at 7:00 p.m.