Traveling to the beat of a different drum isn’t difficult for the Marian College Drum and Bugle Corps. This group is composed of drums, bugles, and flags.

The Corps of Marian College has been busily preparing for its many performances scheduled throughout the rest of the school year. The Blue Knights, in their sixth year of operating, have prepared Marian College and surrounding areas with entertaining programs during the past year. Their big event was March 26, Sunday, at the Indianapolis State Fair Grounds where the Blue Knights performed with the Color Guard. Companies starting at 9:00am. Through sponsorship of the state university relations and services for mentally retarded children and adults in Indiana.

Each rider is required to have a coupon book, which is used to secure sponsors at a rate per mile for each mile ridden. Coupon books can be obtained at the desk in Clare Hall after Easter vacation.

Judy Schulteths, in charge of the program at Marian, feels that it is important for anyone at Marian who has a bike to get involved. ‘A training program will be in effect after Easter for all interested students,’ stated Judy. ‘To obtain sponsors, take a coupon book to all you approach, businesses, clubs and organizations. Explain to them why you will be riding and whom you will be supporting. Instructions for recording sponsors are included in the book,’ Judy commented.

Bicycles should be in good condition. They should be oiled and have tires filled a day or so before the ride. All bicycles are subject to a safety inspection. Five checkpoints along the route will provide refreshments.

Judy further commented on the fact that many children and adults will depend on the money raised by this Bike-a-thon. It is reported that mental retardation affects approximately 3% of the population. In Indiana, that is about 157,000 citizens. Judy visualized a place from Marian that all please try to participate should be completed in time for the Canada trip.

Drum & Bugle Corps members are now selling raffle tickets to defray the cost of their Canadian adventure. The chances are 25 cents a ticket, some of the prizes range from free meals to gasoline at a Zenith TV and AM-FM table radio.

Traveling to various places in the community and state, the Corps have performed well. Past performances have included the Homecoming game, a Feb. 11 trip to Shenandoah, and the Color Guard performance at the Hilton for the Indiana Power & Light Company. Their upcoming ventures include Opening Day of the 500 race, which is April 29; Parents’ Day, designated May 7; the 500 Parade on May 26; the 500 Race on May 30; and the Queen’s Ball in May is a possibility.

THE THIRD WORLD

Three members of the Marian College community, Miss Mary Haugh, Ed McDermott, and Barry Sullivan, attended a convention entitled 'The Third World and the American College in the 1970’s.' They traveled to Racine, Wisconsin where the meetings were held in the famed Frank Lloyd Wright building ‘Wingpread’ from Sunday, March 19 to Tuesday, March 21. The Johnson Foundation financed the convention and the Marian team received an honorarium through the Indiana Consortium for International Programs. One of the requirements for participation was that one of the team members write an essay on the relation of the United States to the Third World. One of the major problems of the convention was an agreement on a working definition of Third World. Opinions ranged from book concept, which includes the underdeveloped nations of the world, to inclusion of oppressed minority groups in our country. Some Women’s Lib advocates even go so far as to include women in the meaning of Third World.

The purpose of the meetings from the faculty point of view was to see how Third World materials are utilized in the class room and how they might be more effective. The students were also to assess teaching techniques and their effectiveness in relation to the ‘Third World’ on an undergraduate level and the student’s role in this area.

Marian’s student participants were impressed by various innovative presentations of Third World materials. Some of these were the use of computers in historical study, slide shows without narration wherein students later fill in the story, and comparative picture studies.

SEX AND VIOLENCE?

A CLOCKWORK ORANGE - a movie about sex and violence? Maybe, depending on how you interpret it. I saw it as a social commentary in which Stanley Kubrick portrays life in the future as absolutely violent and negative. TIME magazine calls it "... a merciless, demonic satire of a near future terrorized by pathological teenage violence.

Kubrick slams the Church, prisons, the family unit, politics, law enforcement and the thought that art and music should provide moral uplift. The accompanying social ills are portrayed through violence, sex, and nudity. Yes, an open mind is necessary to get through the restlessness of the movie and see what the underlying premise is. I don't believe that the "sensationalism" is made up, because it exists in today's society (consider the Sharon Tate murder incident), no, it is not fantasy.

Perhaps Kubrick is saying that this is the dim view of what society is going towards. Yet, in my rainbow philosophy, I am a little more optimistic with the future of humanity. Sure, violence exists, but it is not the accepted norm and I don't think it ever will be.

Furthermore even the conditioning that the "subhuman" main character, Alex, is subjected to is punishment-oriented. Anyone who knows anything about Skinner's behavioral conditioning must realize that it is unacceptable means to alter undesirable behavior. This is where A CLOCKWORK ORANGE fell short, where it became unrealistic (especially for the Psychology majors among us).

A CLOCKWORK ORANGE, in my opinion, was a picture worth seeing and pondering.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

This letter is being written to clarify the college policy concerning eligibility requirements for student office.

The current policy was formulated after much study and discussion by the members of the "Student Services Committee" - one of the Standing Committees of the Faculty Council. (This committee consists of twelve members - students, faculty and administration.) The present policy was passed by the Student Services Committee, November 11, 1970.

The Student Services Committee action was reported to the Faculty Council, December 15, 1970. The report was accepted and consequently the policy became effective.

On November 10, 1971 the Student Services Committee evaluated the policy and reaffirmed its approval of the policy. The policy, as it appears on page 26 of the STUDENT HANDBOOK, includes the following points:

"Any student may declare candidacy for office: a) after determining eligibility according to the Board, class or club rules and b) after determining fulfillment of the following criteria:

1. Full-time student status (minimum 12 hours) at Marian College.

2. Membership in the Student Association for at least one scholastic year (Freshmen excepted).

3. In good academic and social standing. Any academic or social probation causes the student to be suspended from office during the time of probation.

4. Completion of 30, 62, or 94 hours of credit by the end of the first semester during which office will be held in the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes respectively.

5. Certification will be given by the Dean of Student Services after the above criteria have been met."

This is the student's responsibility to verify his eligibility for office by (1) checking with the Dean of Academic Affairs and/or Registrar concerning his academic standing. (Good academic standing is interpreted to mean that the student is not on academic probation. This status was clearly indicated on the report card received by the student for the previous semester's work.) (2) Checking with the Dean of Student Services concerning his social standing. (Student must not be on some form of social or conduct probation.)

The current policy does not include a statement providing for exceptions. Such a statement was recommended by the standing committee and it was decided that it would not be wise to include such a statement for several reasons: (1) Such a statement might have resulted in much dissatisfaction and ill-feeling in the past. (2) It was felt that the current policy was a very liberal one and that no exceptions would be necessary. (3) Student leadership positions are very taxing in terms of time, energy, and concentrated effort and they demand good academic and social standing to enable the student to fulfill his obligations to himself and to his constituency. No policy is perfect and in the light of this year's experience it may be necessary to discuss further the policy especially the statement which reads: "Any academic or social probation causes the student to be suspended from office during the time of probation."

Sister Miriam Clare Heskamp, Chairman, Committee on Student Services

For several years students made their way across the Atlantic through A.E.S. Service to take part in the actual life of the people of these countries. The success of this project has caused such a great deal of interest and support both in America and Europe.

Every year, the program has been expanded to include many more students and jobs. Already, many students have made applied deposits for next summer jobs. American-European Student Service (on a non-profitable basis) is offering three jobs to students for Germany, Sweden, Austria, Switzerland, France, Italy and Spain. The jobs consist of forestry work, child care work (females only), farm work, hotel work (limited number available), construction work, and some other more qualified jobs requiring more specialized training.

The purpose of this program is to afford the student an opportunity to get into real living contact with the people of these countries of Europe. In return for his or her work, the student will receive his or her room and board, plus a wage. However, student should keep in mind that they will be working on the European economy and wages will naturally be scaled accordingly. The regulations, legal protection, work permits) will be strictly controlled by the labor ministries of the countries involved.

In most cases, the employers have requested especially for American students. Hence, they are particularly interested in the student and want to make the work as interesting as possible.

They are all informed of the intent of the program, and will help the student all they can in helping them get all the most from his trip to Europe.

Please write for further information and application forms to American-European Student Service, Box 34733, FL 9490 Vaduz, Liechtenstein (Europe).

Sincerely yours,
American-European Student Service - F. Marok
“Hotel Paradiso” Delights Audience

If anyone was not in attendance last week at one of the three stage performances of “Hotel Paradiso,” what can one say—only that the Easter Parade started without you.

Working with assistant director Diana Ryker, Director Sr. Francesca engineered Feydeau and Deenhill’s farce-comedy to near perfection.

Greg Rodick was simply magnificent as Boniface. Although “Hotel Paradiso” was only Greg’s second performance, he has established himself as a fine actor. Watch for this next year! Pat Arcey was strong in her portrayal as the loud, domineering Desnallier’s farce-comedy to near perfection.

“Hotel Paradiso” was only Greg’s debut? As the loud, domineering and Desnallier’s farce-comedy to near perfection. Although “Hotel Paradiso” was only Greg’s debut? As the loud, domineering and Desnallier’s farce-comedy to near perfection.

All in all, “Hotel Paradiso” was simply delightful. You see, after several days, a smile remains on my face—I was in the Easter Parade!

Outstanding Athletes

Nine Marian College athletes have been named to the 1972 Outstanding College Athletes of America, an annual awards volume published to honor America’s finest college athletes. They are: Michael Eimer (Hall of Fame), William Smith, John Springer; Steve Hammerie, Michael Paschos, Ted Ahaus, Dan Hayden, Jeanne Grace, and Michael Brunette.

Coaches and athletic directors from individual colleges and universities across the nation nominated the winning athletes on the basis of their athletic performances and contributions to community service and campus activities.

Other criteria for those selected for Outstanding College Athletes of America included strength of character, leadership and competitive spirit. "I’ll go where I’m needed most." This special plaudit is given to Carmen Saniz, a Senior and a foreign student from Bolivia, South America. She heard about Marian College from Sisters who taught at the high school she attended. Carmen knew then that she wanted to be a Psychologist, major, and felt Marian offered a good education for her.

Carmen doesn’t consider herself extremely active, but she does like to get involved. As a typist she has worked on the staff of the Phoenix for three years. "I like working while I’m going on," Carmen reasons, "and the paper is one way of doing it."

Thinking over her years in America, Carmen commented that being a foreign student has not caused any major problems. American students, too, she found "girls all have the same interests everywhere." In America, Carmen has found that there is "a more informal atmosphere among the youth." There are a lot of problems here in America such as drinking, drugs, which are not problems at home. Drinking in Bolivia is unrestricted, but no problem. Carmen enjoys both on and off the playing field, and scholarships.

Biographies of all Outstanding College Athletes of America will be included in the 1972 edition to be published in July.

people and feels she has been accepted, “I don’t regret coming to America,” she added.

Carmen Saniz had been among the first summer since coming to Marian that this foreign student returned home. Her first summer in America was spent in a summer camp for Campfire Girls and the second summer she stayed with relatives in Venezuela.

Hoping to go on and obtain her Masters Degree in Social Psychology, Carmen says she is undecided if she is going on to grammar school until she receives further news from the school. Either way, if she gets her Master Degree, Carmen Saniz plans to return to Bolivia. She feels she is needed most there, so that’s where she’ll go.

Woodruff Display

Seventy selections from the Woodner Collection, one of the most outstanding American collections of Old Master Drawings, have been opened to the public at the Indianapolis Museum of Art in the Third Floor North Gallery on March 15 and will continue through April 16.

Drawings from the major schools of the 15th to the 17th centuries by Fra Bartolomeo, Peter Breugel the Elder, Carraccio, Carracci, Cellini, Hans Hofrm, the Younger, Claude Lorrain, Parmigianino, Brueghel, Rembrandt, Tintoretto, Veronese and others are included.

Mr. Woodner is an architect and artist in addition to being a distinguished collector. He was the architect of the Central Park Zoo in New York City and also of various buildings for the New York World’s Fair (1939-1940). In addition, he designed the National Auditorium, Washington, D.C. and other buildings.

The exhibition opened at the Solomon Guggenheim Museum in New York City and will be seen only in Los Angeles following its Indianapolis tour.

Barry Sullivan participated in a group discussion on why there is a high student interest in the Third World. The general consensus of the group was that students see the problems which our own society is facing as a result of technology, and feel it is to be refreshed to delve into the study of an area in which problems are not those demanding.

The team met with the Non-West Committee here at Marian last Friday to share their experiences and to discuss the possibility of implementing into Marian’s curriculum anything they gleaned from the convention.
BLUE AND GOLD OPENS SEASON WITH VICTORIES

Coach Lynn Morrell made his college coaching debut a successful one as he skillfully directed his Marian Knight baseball squad to an impressive double-header sweep over rival Indiana Central by scores of 8-5 and 5-0.

Marian, combining strong pitching and solid hitting, then upped their record to 4-0 on Saturday as they tripped DePauw in a pair of extra inning contests 3-0 and 5-3.

Here are the highlights:

MARIAN 8 INDIANA CENTRAL 5

The Knights, eager to get the season started, jumped on a star-grounder to short and Central went for a double play. Ahaus and Ted Ahaus walked to load bases with none out. Eimer was safe on another error as Larry Unser, leading off the third, ripped a shot which scored both Norman and Pawlak and upped the lead to 3-0 in favor of the blue and gold.

Our favorites produced two more tallies in the second when they bunched doubles by pitcher Mike Brunette and Eimer, coupled with a single by Norman to make it 5-0.

Central, not giving up, battled back and closed the deficit to 5-3 going into the last inning, but the Knights plated three big insurance runs to put the game out of reach.

Pawlak walked to start the rally, was sacrificed to second by Tyrell, and after Geaither walked, scored when Pat Zapp, in relief for Brunette, lined a single to the outfield. The throw in went by the third baseman and an alert Geaither sped home for run number two of the inning. Unser then recorded his third straight hit to score Zapp and make it 8-3. Central scored twice in the last inning but it was too little too late and the Knights had game number one.

Brunette and Zapp handled the mound chores for the blue and gold, and between them they sent 9 of the opponents back to the dugouts shamedly carrying their bats.

MARIAN 5 INDIANA CENTRAL 0

Coach Morrell’s charges, sensing a twin kill their first time out, booted out to a quick 2-0 lead in the first inning when Dave Jongleaux walked and Ted Ahaus boomed a long home run far over the right center field fence. Two more runs were added in the second inning when with two outs pitcher Jim Fisher and Unser walked and then both sped home on Jongleaux’s double. The final tally was scored in the fourth when Unser singled, stole second, and rode home on Jongleaux’s single.

But the story of the game was Fisher. The hard throwing sophomore righthander mixed his blazing fast ball and sweeping curve to allow only three hits and record 11 big strikeouts.

DEPAUW 3 MARIAN 5

In a ten inning marathon, the visiting Knights erupted for three runs and then hung on to record their third consecutive victory.

John Jones ignited the winning rally when he laced a single to center with none out. Pitcher Russ Pawlak, attempting to sacrifice, laid down a bunt on which the pitcher wildly threw into center field to put men on second and third. Unser singled to load the sacks and there were still outs. Things looked bad when Eimer flied to center and Jones, attempting to score from third, was thrown out at the plate for a double play. Ahaus however, kept the rally alive with a single to once again load the bases.

Pat Zapp, showing a great knowledge of the zone, drew a walk to force in run number one. Pawlak’s single plated two more runs before the inning was halted when the right fielder pulled down Jongleaux’s drive in deep right field.

But pitching was the thing that kept the Knights in the game. Al Karason, making his first college start, showed remarkable poise as he limited the home team to only one hit over the first six innings while he fanned six. Larry Armbrecht came in and hurled a shutout seventh before being replaced by Russ Pawlak. Pawlak, also making his mound debut, hurled three perfect innings as he had the Tigers eating out of his hand.

MARIAN 5 DEPAUW 3

Chalking up victory number four in a row, the Knights had go to eight innings in this one. The Knights scored two in the first on singles by Eimer, Ahaus, and Pawlak, combined with an overthrow on an attempted steal. They added one more in the fourth when Jongleaux walked, went to second on an infield out, and scored on an Ahaus line shot. Norman followed with another single, but Pawlak flied out to end the rally.

After DePauw tied the score in the sixth on three unearned runs, Marian came storming back in inning number eight to capture the victory.

Gary Armbricht was safe on a two base error to start things off, and Geaither singled to advance pinch runner Tyrrell, being cautious so as not to be picked off again, to third. Pinch hitter Ken Aast walked to load the sacks, and after Jongleaux fanned, Eimer delivered a key sacrifice fly to score the speedy Tyrell. Ahaus then connected for his third straight hit to drive in Geaither with an insurance tally.

Ahaus, besides being the hitting star, pitched the first six innings and limited DePauw to only two safeties, Mark Simko hurling a scoreless seventh to pick up the victory and Larry Armbricht got the save as he reached back for that rare extra and retired the side in order.

TENNIS TEAM ROLLED

The Marian College tennis team took to the courts for the first time Saturday morning and were promptly thumped by the Indiana State extension school of Evansville in what was termed an "exhibition" contest. But evidently, Marian didn’t "exhibit" much as they were soundly defeated 9-0.

Competing for Marian in the singles matches were Ray Burger, Tom Bahione, Coyt Walters, Tom Shass, John Dickerson and Larry Gallas. The doubles combinations of Bahione-Burger, Walters-Gallias, and Slash-Gauger likewise went down to defeat for Ed Schilling’s crew.

Watch for a complete story on the tennis team in a later edition of the Phoenix.
