Former 'Plumbers' head to speak at Marian

Egil Krogh, Jr., former Under Secretary of Transportation and Head of the White House Plumbers Unit designed to "plug leaks of national security information," will appear at Marian College on Thursday, Nov. 7, at 8 p.m. in the library auditorium under the sponsorship of the Program Committee.

The subject of his talk will be “Prison: The Great Equalizer.”

Mr. Krogh was the first of those involved in the Watergate scandal to be tried and sentenced, and in June he completed his prison term at Allenwood Prison Camp in Pennsylvania. Mr. Krogh pleaded guilty to the charges against him and was given the opportunity to serve as Judge Gessell and gave evidence freely.

A native of Chicago, Mr. Krogh joined the Nixon administration in November of 1968 after receiving his law degree from the University of Washington Law School. He later served as Deputy Counsel to the President, Deputy Assistant to the President for Domestic Affairs and Assistant Director of the Domestic Council Staff.

As Executive Director on the Cabinet Committee on International Narcotics Control for four years, "Bud" Krogh worked closely with all of the federal agencies in the development and administration of government policy, programs and legislation.

The lecture is open to the student and faculty community without charge.

Business club meets

Tuesday, Oct. 29

Mr. Hank Taylor of the Indianapolis Business Development Foundation will speak to members of the Marian College Business Club on Tuesday, Oct. 29. The meeting will be held at 11:30 a.m. in Room 251 of Marian Hall.

Business Club members will be given the opportunity to serve as volunteers in the BDIF office, which assists inner-city residents to establish successful businesses.

Chuck Taylor is president of the Business Club. Other officers include: Mike Millisor, vice-president; Paula Jones, secretary; and Valerie Banton, treasurer. Business Club advisor is Col. Roy Pilie.

Homecoming festivities

outlined by Boosters

BY STACY VEREEN

It begins building up a year ahead of time, with teams vowing for revenge, coaches vowing for more power and people vowing for more fun.

A Homecoming at Marian will never be a one-week affair. The intramural teams compete annually for the title of "champs" as veteran teams plan strategy after the season. The basketball players stay in condition year-round to continue as the great team they are. The rest of the school? Supporting them all the way.

This year, the Booster Club has arranged its festivities during Homecoming Week, November 10 through 16, around a Mardi Gras theme, highlighting the basketballers' future trip to New Orleans. As always, the week's kickoff is the final game between the top two intramural football teams, yet to be decided. This year's game will be held Sunday, Nov. 10. Another main event of the day will be the 1974 Homecoming Queen at halftime.

The week will progress with a Rocking Chair Marathon to be held in the Perc, beginning Monday, Nov. 11, and ending (if they last that long!) sometime Friday, the 15th. Monday night will also be the date for the annual Monte Carlo Night in the Intramural Gym. The Monte Carlo will be set up with games and attractions, holding the Mardi Gras spirit.

On Tuesday, the 12th, the annual Clare Hall-Marian Hall Circle Little 500 will be held. Each class will participate in this race of races to see whose legs pedal faster, ride smoother and glide easier.

That evening, the Faculty vs. the Booster Club in a basketball game in the Clare Hall gym. This spectacular sports event will be surpassed only by the Knights' season opener on Saturday.

Wednesday night, the 13th, there will be a Mardi Gras Ball in the Perc, with a special Jazz Fest by the Pep Band. Thursday is the day for the freshmen debut to Marian's Homecoming. They are sponsoring a pancake eating contest in the Perc. Bars will be placed on the person whose appetite appears to be the strongest. The person or persons guessing the correct "pig" shall be awarded a prize, with the rest of the proceeds going to the Drum and Bugle Corps.

Our big day will be the 16th. Prior to the game, a big parade will proceed from the campus to the Naval Armory. Complete with police escort, the parade shall be decked out with floats, band and possibly some clowns (other than the usuals along for the fun!). The game will begin at 4 p.m. at the Armory, bringing the team into action before its thousands of screaming fans.

After everyone has calmed down later in the evening, the Homecoming Dance will be held at Holiday Inn Southeast from 9 to 12 midnight.

The Booster Club has worked very hard for this week, having committees and individuals setting times, dates and places. The campus population is sure to appreciate their efforts and have a good time at the Mardi Gras. Sure do wish it was November 9th already!
Questions 'Black Soundings' views

To Curtis Gehr, O.S.B.:
I almost cried when I read "Black Soundings" in the Phoenix of October 14th - bitterly out of anger, but mostly out of sorrow. Your article was so full of hate, and I do mean HATE, that I couldn't believe it. How can you profess to be a Christian, to espouse the teachings of Jesus, who said "Love others as I have loved you," and still write something like your article?
You wrote that you went to pray, looked up, and "there was this snow white figure staring down at me." It's too bad that all you could see was the color of the figure rather than the pain symbolized in that face and the love that was behind that pain. Yeah, Curtis, God loves you. It doesn't make a bit of difference whether you're black or white or pink or polka dots - He loves you anyway.
I will agree with you on one thing, though. You were in the wrong place at the wrong time. If you can't open your heart to other people, regardless of color, then you can't open your heart to the Lord, and trying to pray is just a waste of His time and yours.
I feel so sorry for you Curtis, because if your life wasn't anything more than Black, you're out of Luck.

-Maggie Sheehan

Thank you, folks.

To the Editors:
I would like to thank those "responsible" for the Gene Cotton concert. It shows at least that someone here has a good taste for music. I enjoyed the concert and would love to see more of that in the future. After all, it's easy to get your money's worth out of something when it's free. (How well I know it)

Also, thanks to my fellow audience for being generous to this well deserved Marian, a better group of listeners would have been hard to find, except one that was larger.

Finally, with regards to the "Apple Scraps" get together, due to the rain, the lack of attendance, and the lack of entertainment, I thought the show came off pretty damn good. Thanks Greg Rodick, and Steve Whitsitt. Dan Walker, Kevin Huston, and Kevin Horn, you guys are a pretty good "back-up band." (How's that for ego?)

-Sherman Crouch

Letters to Editors

"Occult Corner" draws criticism

To the editors:
In the September 30 issue of The Phoenix, I noticed an article called "The Occult Corner". Since readers were told that the next issue will bring us "a look at Libra," I can only assume that "The Occult Corner" will be a regular feature of The Phoenix. I hope that this isn't the case, since I, personally, question the value of such a feature.

The author states that, "On the other hand, the study of mysticism without the use of the tough-minded and elegant methods of modern science is quite a useful pastime." Perhaps this is true, but the writer's greatest tools for learning and developing his ideas are the various ways to escape the grips of this pitiless monster.

This might seem trivial to the amount lost through the "no-shows," but it is a widespread. Contrary to popular belief, Marian College has not been able to escape the grips of this pitiless monster.

Penny pinching has become quite an asset. Inflation's effects have been widespread. It may be that the value of such a feature was remarkable effective, since the article was so full of hate, and I do mean HATE, that I couldn't believe it. How can you profess to be a Christian, to espouse the teachings of Jesus, who said "Love others as I have loved you," and still write something like your article?

You wrote that you went to pray, looked up, and "there was this snow white figure staring down at me." It's too bad that all you could see was the color of the figure rather than the pain symbolized in that face and the love that was behind that pain.

I will agree with you on one thing, though. You were in the wrong place at the wrong time. If you can't open your heart to other people, regardless of color, then you can't open your heart to the Lord, and trying to pray is just a waste of His time and yours.

I feel so sorry for you, Curtis, because if your life wasn't anything more than Black, you're out of Luck.

-Maggie Sheehan

To the Editors:
I would like to thank those "responsible" for the Gene Cotton concert. It shows at least that someone here has a good taste for music. I enjoyed the concert and would love to see more of that in the future. After all, it's easy to get your money's worth out of something when it's free. (How well I know it)

Also, thanks to my fellow audience for being generous to this well deserved Marian, a better group of listeners would have been hard to find, except one that was larger.

Finally, with regards to the "Apple Scraps" get together, due to the rain, the lack of attendance, and the lack of entertainment, I thought the show came off pretty damn good. Thanks Greg Rodick, and Steve Whitsitt. Dan Walker, Kevin Huston, and Kevin Horn, you guys are a pretty good "back-up band." (How's that for ego?)

-Sherman Crouch

To the editors:
In reply to your comment on the so called article, "The Occult Corner," I would like to thank you. First of all, "The Occult Corner" is not an article, or a feature, it is a column which is written to provide information to those students involved in the study of mysticism, or those interested in other occult and related subjects. A column is not always vital to the readers of this paper, such as The Phoenix, but it provides a variance in subject matter for the paper, and creates a more cosmopolitan content.

Also, I am sorry that you misunderstood my statements within the article. It was not intended to imply that science is not necessary and effective in our duration on earth, but simply to state an opinion of science.

By the way, Dr. Adams, what is mysticism, (b) the author is unaware of the scientific method and its assumptions, or (c) both.

Not too long ago, people believed that "mental illness" was caused by demons or evil spirits in the head. "One cure" was to drill holes into the skull, thus allowing the demons or evil spirits to escape. (This cure was remarkable effective, since the afflicted, after holes were drilled into the skull, were usually not "cured" anymore - they were dead.) Looking to the stars, the signs of the Zodiac, etc., will, perhaps, lead us to the same level of understanding of human behavior as that attained by those who drilled the holes.

Disenchanted with science is understandable, but it is a feature called "The Occult Corner" an appropriate alternative.

-Randall Adams

 Columnist replies to Dr. Adams

To Randall Adams:
YOUR astrological sign? -TOC

The Author

Staff Advisor

Paul G. Fox, Director of Public Information

SEDGLEY ELECTRONICS
DOWNTOWN
Just 2 Blocks South of Washington Street
153 S. PENN. ST.
Phone 253-4261
Mon. thru Fri. 8 A.M. to 5 P.M.
Sat. 10 to 5 P.M.

IN THE BEAUTIFUL
GLENDALE MALL
6th and Keyes
Just across from Block's
Phone 253-4261
Mon. thru Fri. 8 A.M. to 5 P.M.
Sat. 10 to 5 P.M.

THE PHOENIX
Published twice-monthly by the students of Marian College, 3200 Cold Spring Road, Indianapolis, IN 46222

Co-Editors
Eilane Watson, Lynne Shewmaker

New Editor
Stacy Vereen

Sports Editor
Paul Kern

Staff Writer
Kay Ferguson

Art Director
David Allen

Compositor
Charles Peters, Joel Kurtz, Mike Murray, Larry Happer

Production Editor
Sue Fullerton, Bob Parker

Circulation
Sue Sommer, Lisa Baker

Staff Writers
Gary Asher, Patrick Deyl, A. Thomas Moore

Business Manager
Margie Giesting, Colleen Dangler

Advertising Director
Clare Stickan, Dave Record

StafL Advisor
Mary Wessel, Mike Murray

THE OCCULT CORNER

"Apple Scraps" get together, due to the rain, the lack of attendance, and the lack of entertainment, I thought the show came off pretty damn good. Thanks Greg Rodick, and Steve Whitsitt. Dan Walker, Kevin Huston, and Kevin Horn, you guys are a pretty good "back-up band." (How's that for ego?)

-Sherman Crouch

Pinching pennies

In these days of 50-cent gasoline, $15 blue jeans and 75-cent Big Mac's, penny pinching has become quite an asset. Inflation's effects have been widespread. Contrary to popular belief, Marian College has not been able to escape the grips of this pitiless monster.

Complicating rising upkeep costs is an inverse trend in the college enrollment of the past four years. The current statistics reveal 613 full-time students and 266 part-time students, totaling 869. Of these, only 404 live in the dorms, which also reduces revenue.

Perhaps the biggest blow, however, was the economic standing of Marian was the 25 percent 'no show' record of the new freshman class. Roughly $70,000 was be counted on when planning the budget since it didn't make it to 3200 Cold Spring Rd. As a result, the previous budget cuts.

As President Gatto stated at the recent Faculty Council meeting, "With regard to the financial status of the college, we are not in a situation of crisis, but no one can be careless and act on the present economic situation.

Certainly Marian is not "under water" at this point, but if current trends continue, some changes are foreseen. Among these are increasing class size compared to the state universities.

and teaching loads, and setting limits on the present "open-ended" enrollment of the past four years. The current statistics reveal 613 students and 256 part-time students, totaling 869. Of these, only 404 live in the dorms which also reduces revenue.

Widespread. Contrary to popular belief, Marian College has not been able to escape the grips of this pitiless monster.

Penny pinching has become quite an asset. Inflation's effects have been widespread. Contrary to popular belief, Marian College has not been able to escape the grips of this pitiless monster.

Looking to the stars, the signs of the Zodiac, etc., will, perhaps, lead us to the same level of understanding of human behavior as that attained by those who drilled the holes.

Disenchanted with science is understandable, but it is a feature called "The Occult Corner" an appropriate alternative.

-Randall Adams

To the editors:
In reply to your comment on the so called article, "The Occult Corner," I would like to thank you. First of all, "The Occult Corner" is not an article, or a feature, it is a column which is written to provide information to those students involved in the study of mysticism, or those interested in other occult and related subjects. A column is not always vital to the readers of this paper, such as The Phoenix, but it provides a variance in subject matter for the paper, and creates a more cosmopolitan content.

Also, I am sorry that you misunderstood my statements within the article. It was not intended to imply that science is not necessary and effective in our duration on earth, but simply to state an opinion of science.

By the way, Dr. Adams, what is
Parents weekend slated Nov. 8-10

BY BOB MELEVIN

Fund-raising and expositions will highlight this year's Parents' Weekend on November 8, 9 and 10. The Drum and Bugle Corps will sponsor an art exhibition, while the Ho, ney Weekend should help make Mom and Dad feel special. Soccer team will meet head-on the Intramural Championship Game with an expected large crowd. Finally, Marian's finest girl will be revealed to all in anticipation at the Bugle Corps' Color Guard.

Seniors to sponsor Halloween Dance

All ghosts, witches and warlocks are invited to attend the Halloween Dance to be held in the Perc Wednesday, October 30, from 6:30-11:30 p.m. Sponsored by the senior class, the dance will feature the Heavy Duty Dance Band, and will offer cut rates on Perc food. Also planned for that evening are door prizes and a best-dressed costume contest. Halloween costumes are not required for admission into the dance. Admission is 50 cents per person.

MY PRAYER

Thank you, Lord for everything! . . . For Your marvelous creation; For this world full of beauty and complexity; For our ability to love . . .

The New PERC

Halloween Party

Sponsored by Senior Class

Music by Heavy Duty Dance Band

Wednesday, October 30

8:30 to 11:30

Hours:

Monday thru Thursday 8 to 3:30 — 8 to 12

Saturday 8 to 12

Sunday 7 to 11
BY DEB MACKEL

The Marian College Booster Club, in co-ordination with the Marian Knights, will present a special pre-homecoming clinic, to be held on Wednesday, November 6, at 7:00 p.m. in the Clare Hall Gym. The purpose of the clinic is not only to give you a preview of the games, but also simply to find out who you’re going to be cheering for. Earl Brinker, last year’s captain, will make a special appearance to officially pass the ball to this year’s captain, Andy Krackowik. Speaking of Andy, the drawing for the BIG DATE will also take place at the clinic. (Get your ticket from any Booster Club member.)

The film “Walking Tall” will be shown following the clinic in the Library Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. The team needs our support both financially and vocally (at the game), so be an “athletic supporter” and make tracks over to the gym, November 6th.

The Rangers, picked as seven to one point underdogs before kickoff time, came out fast when Jerry Kretschman caught a touchdown pass from quarterback “Hop Along” Doherty; followed quickly by a Masten extra point making the score 7-0. But the Bad Joses, not to be outdone, responded with a Zidron to Bazeley T.D. Aerial, which went for a touchdown. The crowd moved to a dead silence and the only noise was that of the convent garage door starting as the Bad Joses faced a fourth and 22 miles with less than two minutes remaining. Then a huge break for the Joses... Tom Sluss is called for passing interference by ref Bob Cannon when Zidron’s pass falls short and the Joses have a first down. From there they scored a touchdown and won 18-13. But it makes the next Rangers-Joses game a must to see.

The final two games were 1) anti-climatic and 2) forfeitures as the Harvey Wallbangers, having obviously banged their heads too hard on the wall the night before, didn’t show up and the Bootstrapers, although having the spirit willing, had too little flesh and were forced to hang it up.

The Bad Joses enter the last game with their quarterback Kenny Aust returning (See Dork Award), came storming onto the field to play the hippity hops. For the better part of the first three minutes it was a good game, but after that the Joses began to assert themselves. Jeff “Eggs” Zidron scored two (count ’em), two times and the rout was on. The Hops were still somewhat close at the half, 12-8, but Steven Kretschman, “Commissioner” Schroth, and a rampaging Jerry Stockham all chipped in six points, and even though a touchdown was called down for the Hops wasn’t enough to offset the final score—35-12, Joses winning.

The Nads could lock up a playoff spot if they won against the MFIC and they went right to it with Matern making it 8-0 Nads. But the dauntless MFIC showed their guts with a Kuzmitz-to-Ketter TD strike and it was all knotted up at 6-6. When Jerry Disque added to the Nads’ score, it set up a do-or-die situation for the mighty MFIC, but alas, it was not to be, because although Haywood scored a touchdown, the extra point was no good. Final score: 3-12 Nads winning.

In the final game, the gung-ho Wallbangers forfeited to the Bernard Austin Knights, who you’re going to be cheering for. Earl Brinker, last year’s captain, will make a special appearance to officially pass the ball to this year’s captain, Andy Krackowik. Speaking of Andy, the drawing for the BIG DATE will also take place at the clinic. (Get your ticket from any Booster Club member.)

The film “Walking Tall” will be shown following the clinic in the Library Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. The team needs our support both financially and vocally (at the game), so be an “athletic supporter” and make tracks over to the gym, November 6th.