FRESHMEN John Purcell, Charles Kishman, Terrence Alford, Jay Ferrell, Bernie Button (and Padre), Kathy Chase, Jeanne Whalen, and Pat Arcady pause before delving into class work.

After a week of hand-black, sign-painting and speechmaking, the freshman class has chosen its officers. Elected into office last Friday were: President, John Purcell; Vice-president, Terrence Alford; Secretary, Kathy Chase; Treasurer, Jay Ferrell; and Social Council representatives, Bernie Dutton and Jeanne Whalen.

A lack of a 51% majority of one of the Student Board candidates resulted in a runoff election held yesterday between Charles Kishman and Patricia Arcady.

Yesterday’s election showed Patricia Arcady with a majority of the freshman votes.

A native of Cincinnati, Ohio, John Purcell graduated from Elder High School where he played football, represented his class in Student Council and served as president of the Greater Cincinnati High School Safety League.

Terrence Alford graduated from Southwest High School in Atlanta, Georgia. He was in Math Club and Drama Club and was the chairman of Black History in his school.

Kathy Chase hails from Selma, Kentucky, where she attended Woodward Co. High School. She was an active member of Future Business Leaders of America and was on the gymnastics and track teams.

An accounting major, Jay Ferrell graduated from Elmwood Park High School in Elmwood Park, Illinois. He played football and served as vice-president of his senior class.

The only ‘day hop’ officer, Bernie Dutton finished high school at Shortridge here in Indianapolis where she was a Student Council representative, Spanish Club treasurer and a member of the Theosophical Society. Bernie is majoring in history.

Majoring and minoring in math and physical education ‘interchangeably’ is Jeanne Whalen. Jeanne graduated from Penn-Township High School where she was active in many organizations. Jeanne attended the Central City High School for two consecutive years.

Another native of Cincinnati, Ohio, Pat Arcady attended Notre Dame High School where she served as president of her sophomore, junior and senior classes, was a Student Council representative and a participant of the Catholic Students Mission Crusade.

‘Celebration’ Returns

By Sherry Meyer
Staff Reporter

Celebrate! Celebration! Dance to the music! That is just what the cast of ‘Celebration’ has been doing for weeks. With late night rehearsals and even the ceremonial burning of Dionysian, the cast has embarked on a training program designed especially to meet the mood of the play.

This may sound like a strange training program, but Jack O’Hara notes that the burning of Dionysian symbolizes the return to dust that all must face.

Publicity posters around the school advertise the play, as a ritual battle between Winter and Summer.” Symbolically, the play concerns the struggle between the older generation (winter) and youth (summer).

Youth discovers that the older generation has corrupted paradise and attempts to regain what has been lost. Seasonally, the old must die so that the new may spring forth.

The cast members, both old and new, are very much at work reading a well-rehearsed production of last year’s award-winning musical. This season’s production is expected to be of better quality due to increased rehearsal time.

Auditions for ‘Celebration’ were held somewhat differently from usual production auditions. Members of the previous cast automatically received their old roles. However, due to a lack of returning students and an abundance of graduating cast members, many positions were left unfilled.

The need did not exist for long, however, as many interested freshmen saw the opportunity to become involved in the Marian College Theatre. Upper classmen too, were anxious to participate. Herb Finke will appear this year as the orphan. Steve Donahue and Ann Sperry have also realized these roles before.

Some previous cast members who no longer attend Marian College will also be seen. Dennis Weber and Kenny Rogers will make cameo appearances (continued on page 3).

Flanner House Exposes Reality

Flanner House, 333 W. 16th St., has invited Marian students to attend Work Camps any weekend between Oct. 24 and Dec. 13. Work Camp participants gain first-hand knowledge of the life and problems of the inner city, through living with, working with and helping the poor.

Work Camp schedules begin Friday afternoon with classes at inner city schools in black neighborhoods. A tour of the city and of the Police Department are followed by dinner, a movie and community speakers on welfare and housing. Twenty-one-year-old males have an opportunity to accompany police on their squad car.

Little hope

Since my first somewhat naive and optimistic editorial a scant two weeks ago, I have been rudely initiated into the real world of the "system." I have seen a bit more clearly the reason why 'Everyone looks so sad here.' Perhaps an account of some of my experiences would prove interesting (enlightening?) to those of you who have yet to deal with our President.

During my first Presidential consultation this year, I questioned Dr. Guzzetta about the rejection of our request for faculty advisor, Guzzetta stated, 'I do not remember the situation' on that particular request. Immediately thereafter, he informed me that a prime criteria in the choice of advisors is the amount of their department and committee work. He implied that this was the probable reason our request had been denied. Several days later it was suggested that we submit three more names, including that of our previous choice, I was once again naive. My condition did not deteriorate, for it was apparently real to no particular objection to our choice, and if we did have a minimal amount of committee work, he would investigate again. This time the President did remember his objection, though he refused to reveal it.) A strange memory lapse to say the least.

On our second visit, I was accompanied by an associate editor who had not yet heard Dr. Guzzetta personally explain his position. From the outset, he told him that he did wish to discuss the issue again. Yet publicly Guzzetta advocates the 'open door' policy to increase communication between students and administration.

A few minutes later, Dr. Guzzetta refused to comment on several of our questions, stating several times, 'What matters what you believe.' 'It's only that of informing others of the facts as we see them.'

That is my opinion tonight. I hope we two more weeks will have convinced me wrong.

Memo Clarifies Assignment

Dear Editors,

A memo found by Student Services after the Oct. 3 issue of the Phoenix clarifies the procedure for obtaining exotic assignments. The memo, dated May 8, 1970, and distributed to campus leaders, provided space for clarifying exotic assignments so that three names as possible advisors. The final list states, Dr. Guzzetta, in consultation with the appropriate personnel, will make the final selection of club and organization advisors.

The Faculty Handbook states that 'advisors for the classes or organizations are usually selected by the President and the Dean of Academic Affairs from a list of names submitted by the class or organization.'

This Faculty Handbook statement, which preceded the creation of the memo, seemed vague and ambiguous, making advisor appointment a matter of pure tradition. The memo creates a procedure for taking on the world—take on whatever is needed.

Sincerely,

Linda Smith

Publicity Director Raps Apathy

To the Editor:

I want to commend the Student Board on its active interest in civic affairs, as demonstrated by its concern that Marian students be free of examination immediately before and after the November general election.

I am sure there will be a large number of our students participating. We have evidence of such by student attendance at the lecture by the Urban Government, canceled yesterday due to lack of student interest. I am sure there will be no more than two even more. Sincerely yours.

An article appeared in last week's Phoenix concerning the alleged brutality on a local black family by the Indianapolis police. Because certain matters of this case are now up before the Marion County Grand Jury, it has been impossible to secure any information to represent the Police Dept.'s point of view. Attempts to continue will occur, when these proceedings are over.

Hundreds Transport Books

by Ellen Dugan

Because of a spirit of action by the Marian College Community, 75,000 books are now safely housed in the new library.
All day Thursday, Friday and Saturday a steady stream of students, staff and faculty lashed the stacks of books to the spacious building.
Sister Marie Adelaide, librarian, expressed appreciation to everyone for their participation, saying, "It was wonderful to see the hundreds and hundreds of people who used trucks, dollies and carts to bring the books over. The spirit is undilutable."

Each volunteer received a plan of the library so that traffic confusion was held to a minimum. Despite precautions for a smooth move, Sr. Marie Adelaide revealed a big problem resulting from the quick move. "We found that the books came too fast that a backlog was formed. We have a good week's work ahead of us in shelving the books. Anyone who wants to help will be welcomed with open arms," she commented. The librarian appeared confident that everything will be shipshape by October 26, the day set for the library to open.

The three-story structure located just north of the music building has a 250,000 volume capacity. According to Sister Marie Adelaide the library is "both beautiful and functional. Everywhere one can see pictures through the surrounding glass. The partitions contract sharply with our previous quarters," she went on.

One is immediately struck by the beauty of the deep purple carpet that highlights the main floor. A stately carpeted stairway leads to upper levels. Due to the ample use of glass, the campus can be viewed from all angles.

Individual study desks dot the library with promises of privacy and quiet for students.
Sister Marie Adelaide pointed out that the 60 ft. circulation desk is a marked improvement over the old 3 ft. desk. Three thousand books may be reserved on the shelves to be read.
All reference books, current periodicals, bibliography, technical processing and the circulation desk are on the first floor. Those books with A to Z numbers are located on the top floor. Four balconies also on the third floor relieve any feeling that libraries must be "stuffy" places.

In 1958, he practiced law for seven years before being elected to office in 1965.
Jacobs has been described as a man of sincerity who is young enough to understand the youth and old enough to deal with the elders. Sponsors from his downtown office characterize him as a "dove on the war in Vietnam and a hawk on crime."
Among the top issues which Jacobs has attacked is that of Federal deficit spending. In reference to Nixon's veto of the education and health appropriations bills Jacobs said, "It is quite true that Federal deficit spending has occurred during the past several years. The heavy deficit and the inflation began significantly at the time we spending 30 billion dollars a year extra to pay for the Vietnam intervention. That intervention, in my best judgment, represents the most gross governmental waste of my life time. One-fourth of all the inflation which occurred in the decade of the sixties occurred in 1969."
Jacobs feels that patriotism is not to support your country right or wrong, but to support your country when you think it is right and care enough about it to tell when (and why) you think it is wrong.

"EL OCHO, Leads Women Spikers"

by Joan Rikke

Staff Reporter
This year there are ten teams competing in women's intramural volleyball. El Ocho, the Zoo and Two West are primarily sophomore teams. The White House Elite +1 is the only senior team. The juniors are On Call, while the freshmen are well represented by Sandy's Socialiable Salooners, The Hole in One, The Father Truckers and Three West. For the first time the student mums have also entered a team but as yet they have no name. Games began Oct. 5 and results to date show that El Ocho is in first place with four wins. The White House Elite +1 and Three West are tied for second with three wins each. Sandy's Socialiable Salooners, The Zoo, Two West, The Hole in One, The Father Truckers and On Call have each won one match. The student mums who entered competition Oct. 12 have no wins. Winners are determined by the best of three games in a match. Intramural volleyball has five more scheduled games for each team. These will take place starting at 7:00 on Monday and Wednesday nights. The last night of competition is Nov. 2. After this, play offs will be scheduled if necessary to determine this year's champion team.

Miracles League One Champs

The battle of the unbeaten—which matched Herrn’s vs. a team against the Miracles, was headlined as Sunday’s top attraction in the Intramural football league.

The billing proved to be correct in an exciting contest in which the Miracles slipped by Herrn’s, 6-0.

The victory assured the Miracles of the league 1 championship.
Their unblemished record spread to 4-0 with the win,
and they’re scheduled to play
the now-defunct Frizzled Chicken team next Sunday.

Miracle quarterback Tim El-liger spearheaded the early drive that resulted in the game’s closing score play. Twice in a row he zipped in on Bruce Hudson with quick, gut-splitting passes. Then Ellinger tossed
a short one to Tom ‘one-eye’ Scalon,
who pranced and twisted
the remaining twenty-five yards to the goal line and a flush on the Miracle scoreboard.

Herrn’s vs. a Worm made their only serious challenge with just minutes remaining on the clock.
Tom Hahnow set the stage for Herrn’s only deep penetration into enemy territory with two crucial first-down passes to Stan Bilanko.

For a second, it appeared as though Herrn’s vs. a Worm was going to yank the game out as Bilanko lofted a long, fourth-down heave at a target downfield. Bohnike made a diving attempt to snatch the pigskin in the end zone, but it fluttered out of his hands, and the comeback was stymied.

In other games, the Wild Bunch splashed a trick kick that resulted in the game’s only scoring play. Twice in a passes. Then Ellinger tossed

a short one to Tom ‘one-eye’ Scalon,
