Armory hosts Marian

by Ron Siebal

The 1973-74 basketball games hosted by Marian College will be played at the Hoosier Naval Armory located at 30th St. and White River, five minutes from campus. With new bleachers, the capacity will permit 1,250 people, as compared to 250 people in Marian's gym. This will allow more people to attend the games and attract top-flight opponents previously intimidated by the close surrounding walls of our "campus closet."

Many renovations and additions will be added to the new court. Brand-new baskets will be rolled onto the floor similar to those at the Purdue arena. New lights will be put in, allowing for the maximum candle power needed. Repainting and refinishing the entire house will make the crowd feel alive.

In order to accommodate more parking space, a shuttle bus will leave from Marian carrying studen\ts to and from the games free of charge. A new season ticket will be on sale for parents and friends. Anyone wishing to support the team can buy a ticket for $100.00 permitting them to 15 games of their choice. It is very important that we support our team and the school's financial and moral support will aid the school as well as the team.

Talking to Coach Schilling left nothing unpraised and only the highest esteem for the "super kids" on his ball club. He wished to thank publicly, Commander Morehead who pushed the move beyond the call of duty. Commodore Gresham gave 100% cooperation and never gave in to possible circumstances leading to a rejection of the proposal.

The team will try to make up for last year's disappointment in the new home. The hard labor that went into it, all the support-ers who never left in the times when we were down, Oct. 25 the team will begin practice there and anyone interested in watching them is admitted. The great team hopes everyone will enjoy the Armory. Much appreciation must be given to everyone involved in this change, especially Midwest National Bank for their cooperation and an overwhelming appreciation must go to Coach Schilling, who is doing so much for the school, publicly and in-basket.

Hopefully everyone will attend the games and appreciate all that has been done. Damages will determine if the team stays at this facility with a profitable year to year contract. Around on all the players will be found in a future sports addition.

Food is topic

The first meeting of the Food Service Committee was held yesterday. The purpose of the committee is to discuss food service problems and to provide Mr. Morgan the opportunity to explain any problems and limitations he is faced with as food service director.

Some may have noticed that meat is not being served at breakfast as much as last year. Mr. Morgan explained that due to meat prices, he has had to cut down on meat. Therefore he decided to cut the meat from breakfast rather than from the lunch or evening meal. Meat will be served on one day.

Woman army corps to visit

First Lieutenant (ILT) Holly Losching, Women's Army Corps Counselor for Indiana, will be on the Marian College campus Wednesday, October 3, to talk with young women about the opportunities for advanced education and good jobs in the Army, after college.

She will be at the Placement Office (location: Main Floor SAC bldg.) from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and will be available for walk in consultations or specific appointments.

The Milton College (Wis.) graduate is a 3-year WAC veteran. For the past year she has been assigned to the Army's Main Recruiting Station in Indianapolis.

The Women's Army Corps is expected to expand greatly in 1975, according to the WAC Lieutenant. It will create opportunities for interesting jobs for women with leadership capabilities.

She pointed out that all Army jobs are not for girls, except that those directly combat-related.

With the Army's new emphasis on inclusiveness, both officers and enlisted personnel are encouraged to continue studies, both on and off duty, while in service. Tuition Assistance Program, she said, will have information on how to get a direct officer commission upon graduation and on the College Junior Program, which provides assistance for students attending college.

Placement offers various services

GRADUATING THIS YEAR? PLANNING TO FIND A JOB?

It sounds easy - it may or may not be, and it usually is not - not prepared! Actually, finding a job may be too difficult, but finding a position that you consider desirable may be a long and frustrating process. Satisfying employment is seldom achieved without wise and informed planning.

What are the predictions for employment opportunities? Variable - some are optimistic; some are pessimistic. One thing is sure dashes of five job offers will vary graduate school gone.

What should you do? The first and most important piece of advice any job seeker should have is "Don't wait for the job to come to you." Go after that position you want with a thorough plan of attack, Second, "Start Now."

The Marian College Placement Office provides several services to seniors to aid them in their search for professional employment.

This article is the first of a series of help you become more aware of the services provided, opportunities, career trends, and methods of finding the position you want. Each article will be listings of openings and companies interviewing on campus. Other services include: Solicitation of job listings by sending letters to businesses, social agencies, and educational institutions.

At the September 26 meeting of the Social Council, the day was devoted to the film Farewell 451, starring Julie Christie. The story takes place in a futuristic setting, where books are strictly censored. The point is reached when they are considered subversive materials and all books are to be destroyed. The book destroyers are all called "firemen."

One of their number writes an "underground book" and several couples and other books to people who want to read them. The movie is adapted from the book of the same name by Ray Bradbury. Published in 1969, the book received high praise and Bradbury has been awarded a Nebula Award for his achievement. The movie will be shown on Wednesday, October 3, in the library auditorium. Admission charge is 25c.
At the Sunday night meeting of the Student Association Board a proposal was made known concerning student representation to the Board of Trustees. The rationale of the proposal is based on the June 1972 United States Congress' higher education bill. This bill included a statement which reflected “that the governing boards of institutions of higher education give consideration to student participation on such boards.” Various colleges and universities throughout the country have initiated such changes in constitutional policy, and this proposal encourages Marian to establish such changes also.

Not only have administrators and faculty sought to make Marian a meaningful institution of higher learning, but also students. A student representative to the Board of Trustees would provide for meaningful communication. “Students have a unique perspective as students which they sought to make Marian a meaningful institution would help to utilize the communication of students to a maximum. Students should have a voice in policy-making matters within the Marian community since students are directly affected.

A question asked in the proposal was whether the student voice is adequately heard. A student's argument may be ineffectively heard without regular representation. Placing a student on the Board of Trustees would ideally enhance the functioning of the Board to benefit the Marian community. An important point stressed through the proposal was that “students not only work within the Board procedures, but also should be functioning part of it.”

This proposal can be a good thing if passed, but the main problem seems to be electing a qualified person. A student to sit on the Board of Trustees would definitely have to be a well respected student both by fellow students and administrators. It is a great responsibility for one student to make decisions concerning the whole student community. The proposal suggested that only the officers of the Executive Board of the Student Association be nominated for such a position. At this point I would like to elaborate on two thoughts.

First, is the most competent person to represent the student body an officer of the Student Association? Granted it is necessary for a student to be familiar and experienced with Board procedures, but maybe a non-Board officer is equally qualified. But seeing how it is best to incorporate this proposal quickly it is wise to waste time putting the nomination open to the student body. When probably an officer will be elected anyway. But hopefully the former could be initiated in the near future.

Secondly, can one student represent an entire body? Is it my belief that one cannot. I would hopefully like to see several students sit on the Board. The other representatives to the Board are the only representatives of their colleagues, but then they are not representing such a large group of people. I'm not very optimistic about several students to sit on the Board, so I would be grateful to get one student first, then hope for more later.

This subject will be discussed further at the Student Association meeting Sunday night. I encourage all students who have any views concerning this proposal to attend.
Futurististic play to be presented

Thursday at 3 p.m. the Heron Art School dramatic group will present in the auditorium, a 45-minute futurist play entitled Chicago Abyss.

The play was written by Ray Bradbury of science fiction fame and is based on a prediction of what might happen in the future after a nuclear holocaust. Bradbury has long been recognized as one of the leaders in the field of science fiction, but few people know that he has also written excellent plays and short stories whose emphasis is strong upon the future of man and not upon robots, spaceships, prehistoric monsters, or green men from outer space. Bradbury has contributed greatly to this shifting emphasis in the field of science fiction. This concern with the essential "humanism" of man is strongly evident in the play.

The cast includes: Tony Parte, a teacher at Attucks Day Adult School, Carlos Armitstead, elementary school teacher, Glenn Renick from the Butler Drama Department, Alan Roell, a 15-year-old student, and Pat O'Hara, Mr. O'Hara has just graduated from Butler.

Admission is free and all members of the Marian community are cordially invited to attend.

Brother Wengler

Nothing like the unexpected and the spontaneous! At least for Brother Benedict Wengler, O.S.F., who on Labor Day finalized plans to join the Sociology department. Brother Benedict was preparing to live in a prayer commune in Ann Arbor, Michigan, but instead boarded Allegheny Airlines—destination Indianapolis. Mr. Wengler, widely known as one of the leaders in the Franciscan community of teaching Brothers.

World War II proved to be an exciting time for Brother's life, for he was in the midst of Kamikaze action on the South Pacific.

Brother Wengler's formal education includes a B.A. from St. Francis, M.A. from Columbia, and Ph.D. work at Fordham. After pursuing his education, Brother Wengler taught at St. Francis College, St. Francis College and Scranton University, Catholic affiliated schools.

So far, Brother is impressed with the Marian College campus scene. He elaborated, "Marian is small enough that the students all know each other yet large enough to have more than adequate facilities."

Besides teaching Introduction to Sociology, Social Psychology, and Social Theory, Brother Wengler is developing a new "mystery" course for next semester.

As for his hobbies and activities, Brother stated, "I am training for my life guard certification, attending prayer groups on campus and at St. Meinrad's Seminary, and I jog, but only in my room!"

The main objective of my office is the student and meeting his needs," said Gary Hall, the new Academic and Vocational Advisement counselor at Marian. Mr. Hall helped to coordinate this year's Freshman Orientation Program. He instructs two classes a week in the program and feels so far it has been very promising. This is the first year that the program has been mandatory to attend and he said. "In the future I'm sure that this program will be changed to meet the needs of the students in whatever way they feel they should be!"

He went on to say, "So far the main problem encountered by the program has been to persuade the students to attend. I really feel good about being here at Marian. I'm able to meet the needs of the students and faculty. I'm aware of a higher degree of perfectionism here and it seems as though the students are above average especially to wards developing their futures."

He enjoys woodworking, reading, swimming, and tennis, but has not tried out the Marian courts yet.

Marion splits at Ball State

The Marion College baseball team traveled to Owensboro, KY last Saturday, to participate in the KY Wesleyan Fall Classic. Scheduled as a four-team tournament, it was handicapped when New Wood Institute failed to show. Turning into a three-team exhibition, the Knights had to content themselves with ISU of Evansville in the second game 1-0 after dropping the first game to New Wood Institute 5-1.

In the opener, lefty Gary Wilkerson pitched a fine game for the Knights allowing only one hit but the host team came up with a pair of unearned runs in the ninth inning. A throwing error and mental mistake proved costly for the Knights. The Knights outhit KY Wesleyan but couldn't put enough hits together to win.

The second game appeared headed the same way when after spotting ISU a run in the third, the Knights came up with 3 runs in the fifth where Jim Coch knocked in 2 runs with a Texas League single to right, taking second on the throw home. On the next pitch, fastball catcher Murray Donavan singled Coch home to give the Knights their third tally of the inning. Senior hurler Ted Ahaus held ISU in check for the rest of the way to preserve the win.

That refreshing new face in the Special Edu department belongs to Sister Marie Angele Thomas, a native from Richmond, Indiana.

A graduate of Marian, Sr. Angele Received her Masters in Special Education from St. Louis University and her Doctorate from I U. Currently, she is teaching Psychology of Exceptional Children and Introduction to Exceptional Children.

Sr. Angele, who lectured, gives in-service training to the classroom assistants at Cold Spring Education gives workshops and serves as consultant to not only teachers but legislators who are interested in helping handicapped children.

Before teaching at Marian, Sr. Angele has taught grade school, high school, and retarded children at St. Mary's in my class I found to be very friendly and open, enthusiastic and the win.

Gary Hall formation to aid students.

Before coming to Marian, Mr. Hall was a Resident Hall Director at Ball State (Muncie) and had previously did work for the child division of the Welfare Department.

This is the first time Mr. Hall has been actively involved on a small campus and he calls it an enjoyable change. He said, "I had always been at big schools before - I really feel good about being here at Marian. I'm able to know more students and faculty. I'm aware of a higher degree of perfectionism here and it seems as though the students are average especially towards developing their futures."

He enjoys woodworking, reading, swimming, and tennis, but has not tried out the Marian courts yet.

St. Thomas operative, said Sister. In her little free time, Sister enjoys the pleasures of music, art, and reading. Being a very quiet person, her nature is reflected in the song "If you make one person happy, you're the happy one!"
