Dear Carbon:

It seems apparent that legality serves no purpose here at Marvin. The answer is and will always be "no." I am referring to Marian's absurd policy that a student cannot live off campus until they are the ripe old age of 22. The cut off date for this is September 30th, and I understand I miss the date by 32 days. This deadline makes it virtually impossible for anyone to keep their sanity by moving off campus.

I followed all the proceedings concerning the hassle for off campus housing. I worked on the personal essay second semester this year, and it took me three weeks for the five page essay. It took student services two weeks to reject it. Ann Buchanan, our novice resident director, has decided that it is better for me to solve any personal problems I have by staying on campus. As for Dean Brames, he graciously and (as usual) eloquently told me that my personal reasons were insufficient. How could he say this without knowing me is beyond me? When I left his office the first time, I felt like a walking $.

After hearing the hassle one female student was given (this student was referred to by the Dean as "her" and although he did have the decency not to mention her name), I decided to do things fairly and refile for off campus housing again for next year. Of course, they can't make an exception. In my most recent interview with Dean Brames, he gave me hope for next year (a new thing for student services). He told me that if I was going to summer school, new conditions existed. More money would be coming into the school from me.

This time I had to wait patiently for them to find the application that Dean Brames misplaced, but the answer for me was still "no." I, therefore, decided there must be someone that I can appeal the decision to. Even the government has a system of checks and balances. I made an appointment to see the President on April 21 at 8:00 a.m. Dr. Guzzetta's office was on the 19th to inform me that there was no need to come in. Dr. G. decided to uphold the Bull's decision. Dean Brames was allowed to present his case, but a student was not.

The whole situation is absurd, especially when a \textit{student} is nearing the age of 22. All I can say is that Dean Brames and his partner Ann Buchanan can sure dish out the shit. If I move off campus, several things can happen. I could be put on conduct probation. The ultimate weapon is expulsion (excuse me, Dean Brames prefers the word "forced withdrawal"). That's too bad, especially for a senior.

I would like to close with a parallel between Dean Brames and General Custard. As Custard lead his men to their stand and the Indians begin to surround them, Custard very calmly (I might add the word eloquently) said, "But you can't reverse a Custard decision." You know what happened to Custard and his men. What will happen to Marian?

Dear Friends:
The war in Indochina must end. Already the number of people killed, American and Vietnamese, soldiers and civilians, has surpassed Nixon's slow withdrawal and "Vietnamization" program will assure the death of many more. Forty eight per cent of all government expenditures goes to current military expenditures. America's resources are being drained away into the war while needed domestic programs go without funds. Even so, Nixon has stated that as American troops withdraw, military aid to the Saigon government must be increased. The war is destroying the resources of Vietnam. Large areas of formulas have been ruined by chemical defoliants. The tonnage of bombs dropped on Vietnam exceeds that of World War I, World War II, and the Korean War combined. 5,000,000 people have been made refugees by American bombing. The American people are frustrated and disillusioned with a purposeless war. The Vietnamese have a growing sense of desperation over a war which threatens their lives and their livelihood. Vietnamese and Americans must join and demand an end to the war.

There are many levels of activity open to every individual to do their part. First, sign the Peoples Peace Treaty and make your own peace with Vietnam. (A signing table can be found in the Perc today.) Write your Senators, Congressmen, Nixon, and Agnew and tell them about your opposition to the war. Take part in anti-war activities in the city and around the nation:

April 24: Nonviolent march and rally in Washington D.C. (Contact Marty Kelty or Marigrace Platt for information, if you want to go contact them early today for transportation, info., etc.) Leafleting around Indianapolis, meet at Hayer Chapel at 448 W. Norwood at 11:00 (Contact Ed McCord for transportation, info., etc.)

April 26: Movies in the Library Aud. at 7:00 p.m. "Vietnam and Beyond" - Former CBS correspondent David Schoenbrun attacks Vietnamization as a continuation and extension of the war into Laos and Cambodia and tells how President Nixon can get us out. "And Time Is Running Out!" - presents Peoples Peace Treaty and stresses the urgency of the peace movement here and in Vietnam. Free, everyone welcome.

May 1 - 5: May actions: beginning with rallies and lobbying ending in non-violent civil disobedience. Choose your own type and extent of non-violent action. Transportation available, contact Ed. McCord.

May 5: Peace Fair at Military Park here in Indianapolis. Rally, picinc, music, guerilla theatre, transportation available.

May 25-28: Activities, yet to be planned, around Nato conference here in Indianapolis. Peace, Ed McCord

WRESTLING CONT.

If you want your blood to gush forth like the Nile River at the flooding season, have chills run up and down your spine like taking a cold shower in the Arctic, and test your "anti-fright" power, then get out of your grave and go to Spook Spectaculars on April 23, 1971, at Marian Hall at 10:30 p.m. This gruesome activity is sponsored by the Banshee Booster Club and will only cost you $75c. On, a word of warning...... please do not come alone or under the influence of alcohol. After the movies have ended and you are walking to wherever you may happen to be going, your imagination may run wild and you may see or meet someone or something that may want to be in your company. This is all right if it is not real, BUT, WHAT IF IT ISN'T Don't say that I didn't warn you.

LETTERS TO THE EDITORS - 1 more

Dear Editors:

There is a very reliable rumor to the effect that the Problem Committee, which was established by the Faculty Council... or Student Services... or, well, whomever wants the credit, has been dissolved. If in fact this rumor is true I believe that Marian has reached a milestone in student to student, student to faculty and student to administration relationships, because this committee which was set up to review and analyze the difficulties encountered by students found that: 1.) there are no negative vibrations being given off from our community here; 2.) there have been no real problems submitted to them; and 3.) hence, there is nothing for them to do. What I simply want to say is that I think we've reached our peak here in the Marian College community in that this campus which was once torn by racial polarity, faculty dissention, and administrative incompetence has finally matured and grown up. (REALLY??)

REVOLUTION - THE SOLUTION

Revolution
Revolution
Is there really a solution?

They're still fighting
Still not righting the wrongs
What will it take
To make the break
To get your ass off your head and your hands
To use your head and your hands
And start again

Revolution
Revolution
Is there really a solution?

He's got to die
We've got to try to make it so
If he persists
We can't exist much longer
It must be now Doesn't really matter how
As long as we succeed
