EDITORIAL

Spiro Agnew's abrupt resignation from the vice-presidency once again raises serious doubts concerning the integrity of the Nixon Administration and American politics in general. In recent months, Agnew had been under fire for possible tax evasions and for receiving "kicks-backs" while Governor of Maryland. Agnew's immediate reaction was to call these accusations "damned lies". Next, someone in the Justice Department was supposedly leaking false information in an effort to ruin Agnew's political career. In the face of this, Agnew maintained his innocence and refused to resign, even if indicted. Wednesday, Agnew pleaded no contest, received a three year probation and was fined $10,000. Subsequently, the vice-president resigned.

How much has the administration learned from the Watergate scandal? Initial response to a possible scandal was, in both instances, met with open denial of any wrongdoing. Investigators were lashed out at for supposedly leaking false information. Following this, came a quiet period of no open attacks but still, no admission of guilt. Now, it is common knowledge where the blame lies.

What kind of democracy exists in America when one vice-presidential candidate steps down before a tremendous amount of pressure and humiliation because he once suffered from mental illness (periods of depression). At the same time, a man who had the real "skeleton in his
At the American locked Americans must cease to vote according to political elected president? Americans who parked in the no parking areas who contested a candidate's past accomplishments, his ideology and his reputation of integrity. In conclusion, was the "Messier of two evils" really elected president? ODS

FROM THE MASSES:

I want to express a complaint about the people who parked in the no parking zones and undesignated parking areas. Parking in such areas could result in a dented fender. Also I want to thank the person who locked me out of the Clare Hall west back door at 6:40 Monday night. Isn't that door supposed to be locked at 7pm? Cathy Mattingly

3) Athletic Committee- At the first meeting, the major item for discussion concerned the Naval Armory's approval for the use of their facilities for Marian basketball games.

4) Program Committee- The committee chairman announced the following:

1. Wendolyn Brooks will be on campus Tues.-Feb. 12, 1974.
2. Pia Sebastaini will be on campus and in concert Thurs.-Nov. 29, 1973.

Old Business

The recommended plan for the suggested changes in the Gen. Ed. Program was distributed to the members of the Council and a discussion of the plan took place. Additional discussion would take place at the next meeting. The meeting was adjourned.

Second Session-Sept. 20, 1973

The Gen. Ed. plan was discussed further at the beginning of the meeting. A roll call vote was called to accept the revised Gen. Ed. program. The motion passed 19-4.

The discontinuation of the double A grades in the Honors Program was brought up by Sr. Adele. It was decided that the double A be dropped and in its replacement, an A plus be given for exceptional work for which no additional grade point be attached.

 STUDENT BOARD

Agenda for October 14, 1973- 7:30 in the Social Council Room:

Old Business:
1) Money Motion for Adding Machine for Student Board.
2) $40.00 loan to yearbook
3) Financial Committee of Marian College Vets Assoc.

New Business:

Minutes from the October 7, 1973 meeting:

Clare Hall started the committee reports by stating that Little Sis Weekend will be held October 19, 20 and 21st. Joe Kroner, the new frosh representative to the board, introduced himself. Jay announced that there is a balance of $4,698.25 free for use.

Vice-President Mike Foley, reported that at the Publicity Board Meeting, it was decided that meetings will be held every other Thursday. Also, the editors of the Phoenix agreed to have the paper come out on Wednesday instead of Tuesday.

President Marigrace Platt announced that the College Council Constitution will be submitted to Faculty Council before the November meeting. Also, she reported that the MOSA constitution should be ready to be submitted to the Board of Trustees before the December meeting. Dean O'Grady will meet with the Executive Board to talk about possible revisions.

Old Business

The first order of old business concerned the Constitution for the Assoc. of Collegiate Vets of Marian College. Discussion was held on the constitution and a few revisions were adopted. Mike Foley moved that the Constitution be accepted as amended with the exception of the Financial Clause. The motion passed 13-0-0.

The next order of business concerned the Proposal for a Student Board Representative to the Board of Trustees. It was agreed that the proposal be re-worked.

New Business

Jay Farrall moved that the board allocate itself $50,000 for an adding machine. This was seconded and agreed be consent. Since it was a money motion, it was tabled for a week. Jay also moved that the board loan the Yearbook $40,000 for misc. expenses. This was seconded and being a money motion, was tabled for a week.

There really is much to remember and cherish in memories. Some have even accused me of "living in the past". Nevertheless, return with me, once again, to those days of yesterday when the Reds were still capable of winning pennants and the Cubs were still capable, I remember them both, but most of all, I remember Hobbit.

You know, Hobbit was quite a baseball player himself. He was never much of a hitter, but his fielding was pathetic. He was the only third baseman I know who played on the outfield grass all the time. Intramura Softball made Hobbit go from nothing to a total void. Because of his unpredictable arm, they had to move the backstop from behind home to behind first. He was quite a hustler though. He used to be the first in line for dinner after the game. He used to live for batting in clutch situations because we would have someone pinch-hit for him and he could go watch Dick Van Dyke.

The most comical of his baseball experiences occurred in a practice game. We were winning 3-2 in the bottom of the ninth. The first batter for the other team had reached base on a single and it looked like we were going to have to bring in a reliever for Purcell. Hobbit thought we should take Purcell out so we let Purcell stay in the game. The next batter hit a single and the score was tied. Thus ended the great Hobbit story.

THE MEN

After the third week of play, there still remains two undefeated teams, the Bad Joses and the Vice Lords. The Bad Joses routed the Dirty Dozen Sunday, 33-7. Ken Aust looked as good as ever, throwing three T.D. passes and running one in himself. The Vice Lords kept pace by defeating the Stoned Rangers 25-6 in a hard fought contest. This sets the stage for the showdown this Sunday between the Joses and the Lords. T.V. coverage of this game will be blacked out in the local area, and those who can’t make it to the game will have to listen to the contest on radio.

In other games the Degenerates slaughtered the Playboys 47-0. It was the first easy victory for the Degenerates but then look who they played. In the remaining games the Bruins defended the Nutcrackers 18-0 indicating the freshman men team is even worse than was previously believed.

Wednesday night battle saw the Stoned Rangers overcoming the Dirty Dozen by the surprising score of 26-0. This loss was a definite blow to the Dozen’s playoff hopes.

STANDINGS:

Vice Lords 4-0-0
Bad Joses 3-0-0
Bruins 2-1-0
Degenerates 2-1-1
Stoned Rangers 1-2-1
Dirty Dozen 1-3-0
Nutcrackers 1-3-0
Playboys 0-4-0

Sundays Games - favored teams listed first
12:30 - Dirty Dozen vs Playboys
1:30 - Stoned Rangers vs Bruins
2:30 - Degenerates vs Nutcrackers
3:30 - Bad Joses vs Vice Lords

shot to center. Dan Brenigan grabbed it on one hop and fired it into Hobbit at third. It was a perfect strike; right on the bag. Hobbit stuck his glove up, but it was too late. The ball was already on it’s way to his forehead. When it hit, it sounded like an aluminum bat meeting a wall. Hobbit was knocked down, the ball got loose, and we ended up losing. It wasn’t really a loss though because we all had learned something. No wonder Hobbit couldn’t lift 40 lbs, he couldn’t even lift his mitt to catch the ball.

THE WOMEN

"The Waguri Special" keeps rolling along demolishing their opponents and collecting wins in every encounter as they TRY to maintain their number one position in Women’s Intramural Volleyball. The question is: Are they undefeatable? This year shows defeat is in the air, as they barely slid past the Frosh team, The Cool Goulas, this past Monday. The Dimrods were their challengers on Wednesday as the Waguri tasted defeat in one game but stayed on top of it to take the other two. Will A.V.I.S., Stickettes, or Schuck’s Garden (most probable) be able to conquer Waguri? The next few weeks will be the deciding factor.

Among the other action on Monday night, the Snatches, as usual, defeated their opponents Main’s Troubles. Other teams held their own as the Dimrods overcome the Wild, Wild West. Stickettes (minus ace Harbor) defeated the Amishas and the Valley of the Dolls out volleyed Hot Square as the Hysteria kept the Wacky Women laughing all the way to defeat.

A.V.I.S., under the leadership of Gegan may just live up to their name, as Monday night Agnes powerful "set-ups" to Bauer and Yunks (Happy Birthday Yunks! ) almost led the Watergate Women to victory. Monday night did not put an end to the tension that A.V.I.S. should be feeling as the Cool Goulas gave them a hard fought battle- (hang in there Gutzwiler) Will A.V.I.S. remain victorious or only Victorious In Spirit?

Schucks Garden, still holding their own under Schuick’s undescirable spikes, remained undefeated after two weeks of play. Monday nights victory over the Ball Bumpers proved to be "no Contest." The Watergate Women and Schuck’s Garden’s game on Wednesday (minus one ref.) was an interesting situation, as Schuckie kept her crew together.

As Wednesday night rolled around Gershmeovers team (Amazons) was still looking for a victory as usual they failed to find it from the Wild, Wild West. The Stickettes or not the Stickettes - that is the question. Whether the team is composed of Eder, Harbor, and Ulbalor or MackMillen, Monnot and Whalen - the fact remains they are still undefeated by overcoming Hot Square in a powerful bout.

The Snatches, as usual, led by M.G.P.’s whistle and Aready’s routines, defeated Volley of the Dolls. The Hysteria once again was victorious over Main’s Troubles as the Wacky Women found a victory over the Ball Bumpers. Finishing it off for the evening; this is Main, Little Wan and Starkie signing off and heading for home! (Satisfied TA?)
