A few months ago I wrote an article which dealt with the Human Justice Commission. The Commission is a county-wide action organization working primarily for the interests of poor people, working people, and senior citizens. At a summer meeting, the HJC voted unanimously to support the Farah Boycott. This boycott is directed against the largest pants manufacturer in the world, the Farah Manufacturing Company.

Since May 3rd of last year, over 3,000 members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union have been on strike against Farah for two major reasons. First, the workers want the right to a collective bargaining agreement. Secondly, they want the right to a union of their choice. The vast majority of the Farah workers are Mexican-Americans and 84% of them are women. Most are paid less than $1.75 an hour.

I would like to make the point that the Farah worker's cause is an important one, that being justice for working people. Your participation in the boycott does not have to involve any time consuming job such as picketing stores which sell Farah pants. Your involvement in their cause can simply be to not buy Farah pants. Your help is needed!

FROM THE MASSES:

A Poem

The tricks have been played
The treats have been given
To everyone except Muckmillen.
Her tricks are coming from far away
To deliver a treat in his own special way.
He's sent her cards
He's sent her roses
"What could be next?"
Is the question she poses.
Muckmillen knows what she can do,
Our question is How good are you?

the greater threats today are internal.

Tommy Two-Tongue secretly slipped his ballot in the box. For not to vote the class's way was cause for banishment, but one must be caught to be punished. Dropping a cigarette butt to the floor caused the commotion needed to deftly drop his suggestion in without being noticed.

Needless to say, the election wasn't a landslide victory by any means. For given the courage to vote or not to vote, the villagers supported the latter. What chance would any have of seeing their choice take substance?
As was expected, puppets, selected by the clan, won, but all victory is short lived. The puppets' strings broke from the strain and all the tailor's mending and all the tinker's taping couldn't fix what had been done.

Tommy Two-Tongue by process of "the last shall be first"
found Maxim Maxwell, a match girl, queen of the Hoaxy Posy Flower Festival.

The regular season of the intramural football league ended Sunday with no surprises. The four playoff bound teams won their games setting the stage for next week's action. The Degenerates handled the crippled Bruins 13-0 in the open contest. The following game saw the Bad Joses swamp the Nutcrackers 47-0. It was the Nutcrackers worst exhibition in a whole season of disgusting play. The Playboys came surprisingly close to the Stoned Rangers by losing to the Vice Lords.

Next Sunday we'll see the Degenerates taking on the undefeated Bad Joses and the Stoned Rangers playing the Vice Lords in the first round of the playoffs.

Final Standings:
1) Bad Joses
2) Vice Lords
3) Degenerates
4) Stoned Rangers
5) Dirty Dozen
6) Bruins
7) Nutcrackers
8) Playboys

Sundays Games:
Bad Joses vs Degenerates
Vice Lords vs Stoned Rangers

Carbon Hisses:
- Polar bear in diapers
- Butler "Buffoons" invading "Happy Hour"
- Disappearance of the flags near Clare Hall

With only one night to report of what happened on the court (Muck), We'll make it quick - We'll make it short. This poem is the last resort.

The Snatches had a hard fought win
Over Hysterix who lost again
Bruins is yelling - what a sin
Snatches are smiling - or is it a grin

Schucks Garden won---in disgrace
It's hard to say this and have face.
The Wild Wild West put up a race
That could have cost S.G. first place.

Wazuri won another bout
So Main's Troubles begin to doubt.
Wazuri's a winner says the scout
The first place team must still watch out!

The Watergate Women - they won the game
We guess was full of fun.
Though never close to #1
The Amazons we think are done.

Ball Bumpers won again this week
Hot Sauce we guess is just unique
We'll never let the rumor leak
Of the Ball Bumpers late mistique.

The Volley of the Dolls - defeat
The Dimrods were too much to beat,
The game was close and full of heat.
But in two games it was complete.

A.V.I.S. chalked up one more
Wiped Wackey Women off the floor
There is one point we can't ignore
Top standing they just might restore.

There's one team we hate to mention
They beat Cool Ghouls with little tension
Next week should bring apprehension
Stickettes face some competition.

Since Brown County's now in view
To hell with all the rest of you.
With help from all - the credits due
The works not ours - alone - it's true.
