I had a meeting to save your nickels and dimes for tonight at your favorite professor.

We homecoming was not a week of flawless planning. Due to misunderstandings brought about by new administrators and faculty members, conflicts arose, none of which could not be overcome.

To insure an even better Homecoming next year, we would like your feedback on the week. Those aspects you liked and would like to be repeated and those that you feel should be dropped. Any ideas for new activities are also welcome.

Thanks,
Booster Club Officers
Colleen, Mary, Pam, and Karen

TO THE STUDENTS:

Last Saturday night's 1978 Homecoming Dance was the last happy and very successful event of an enthusiastic Homecoming Week. The excellent organization by the Booster Club and the enthusiasm of you students brought us alive again. Let's keep up the good work, the loyal spirit and the positive thinking.

Congratulations to all especially to the Booster Club and the Senior Class.

Sister Helen

TO THE STUDENTS:

We would like to thank those students who attended the meetings held for Academic Affairs. There were the expected problems and complaints expressed by various students. However it was encouraging to hear that there are some departments which are remaining strong. We would like to remind the students that we are acting on some problems now but please be patient in getting assistance. Also, those students who still have problems or comments (good comments are welcomed too!) concerning academics, please feel free to contact one of us.

This another way in which we students can voice our opinions, and work towards a better Marian College.

Thanks again,

A CRIPPLER IN OUR MIDST: YOU CAN HELP!

The student body of Marian College has been asked to make a contribution, if possible, to the United Cerebral Palsy Fund to help them fight this crippling disease.

At the end of December, this organization will sponsor a telethon similar to the Jerry Lewis telethon. The program will include film coverage of some of the events that backers such as Marian have held to raise money for the fund.

In the spirit of this struggle against Cerebral Palsy, the Marian College Student Association will hold the second annual "Alleviate the Blues" festival on Dec. 3 (Sunday) in the Intramural Gym. Along with a steak dinner provided by ARRA, the festival will include a euchre tournament, a free-throw contest, and for $1.25 you may throw a sponge full of whipped cream at your favorite professor.

I am asking each of you students and friends to save your nickels and dimes for Dec. 3 and participate in the fun. Then give yourself a pat on the back, because you have done your part towards the fight against "the crippler".

Thanks, any questions, call me at 559

STUDENT AFFAIRS: WELCOMES DAVE ROBERTS

David K. Roberts was born and raised in Chicago. Lived and studied in Wisconsin, and worked in Alaska before coming to Marian. He graduated in 1970 from the University of Wisconsin with a BA in Political Science and History. Dave did his Masters studies at same yet in a different field - Student Personnel. Asked how he became interested in student affairs he said that he was working in the Placement Office when he was a student which gave him plenty of opportunities to turn to that line.

Dave was working as the Director of Placement at Sheldon Jackson College in Alaska. How do you like working at Marian? "Basically, it is similar type of work, the difference being that Sheldon Jackson was a two year college." There are more responsibilities here and the work is more challenging.

What do you think of the Administration? "I think it has a very concerned attitude towards the students. I am given a lot of lee-way and I enjoy it as it gives me the chance to develop the kind of program I would like to see." Are you planning any changes? "Right now I am trying to develop the office for efficiency and service. Merle Tebbe had laid a good foundation and I hope to build on that foundation to broaden the program. I want to concentrate on career planning for the Freshman and Sophomores." So, how is it going right now? "The work is heavy. We started late and did not get here until October and we were unable to bring in employers immediately."

How do you find the job market for Marian S students? "I think it depends upon the area they are majoring in. I think the prospects are better now than what it had been for college graduates. A lot of it has to do with general initiative and how far a candidate is willing to venture. One of the keys to gaining employment is remaining geographically flexible. I have felt that most Marian students intend to remain in Indiana. This limits their opportunities." Now, regarding the recruiters coming on campus, does it depend on the name of the college or....? It depends on the number of graduates. They generally prefer larger institutions but we use a lot of P.R. to make them aware of the quality of our graduates. It is important for students to interview with the recruiters as this will bring them back in future years. "What do you think of student response? "I think it is quite good. I had a meeting with the seniors the other day and there was a good turnout."

You are the Assistant Dean of Student Services. "That is correct." And you work directly with Dean Woodman? "Yes." What are your responsibilities? "My concentration is with career counseling and placement, Freshman orientation, and the Counseling Education Programs." Do you also work with Admissions? When the Placement Office is capable and successfully place our graduates with little difficulty a good impression may be made about the college.

Dave Roberts is married and has a fifteen month old son. His wife is employed with a dentist's office in town. Dave is an active man and ambitious. When asked whether he had any future goals he replied "I would like to be a Dean."

Good Luck with your present career Dave, and all the best for the future. We're glad you joined us at Marian!

OF WISE OWLS AND HUMAN MISCHIEF

For more than twenty-five centuries, the venerable owl has been a symbol of human wisdom. These sentient creatures, along with other species, have become symbols of the greatest of human virtues. But too often, these same species have become the target of the most insipid human mischief. Ignorance and economic self-interest have produced deep-seated attitudes about human relationships with nonhuman species. Our society has erected strong emotional, philosophical and legal barriers that reserve ethical considerations primarily for itself.

These barriers are beginning to dissolve. New technology provides alternatives to the exploitation of animals for food, materials, scientific research and the perverted sense of sport. Because of this, FRIENDS OF ANIMALS believes that there is a great need to review the dominant system of human values and thins and encourage a broader acceptance of extending ethical consideration to nonhuman species. Thus, with a grant from Regina Bauer Frankenberg, FRIENDS OF ANIMALS sponsors an annual essay competition and offers prizes in the aggregate amount of $8,000 annually for the most compelling essays written in the form of testimony to the Congress in support of a legislative proposal defending the extension of rights to all animal species.

This year, we are focusing on the question: "Why should the Congress end funding of research and education programs that involve the use of animals, and divert these funds to alternative methods?"

Our concern here is that "scientific" experimentation on animals is, without doubt, one of the most common causes of cruelty to animals in the United States today. Each year, millions of animals are forced into a laboratory to be cut apart, injected with toxic chemicals, subjected to the most diabolical machinations of modern science and left mutilated and dead.

The pain suffered by these animals is staggering. Indeed, most of these biomedical experiments are so painful that they would be declared illegal if the biomedical industry did not have special legal exemption from legislation that prevents cruelty to animals. In many cases, the atrocity of these experiments is much more severe than those performed by the infamous doctors of Nazi Germany.

FRIENDS OF ANIMALS has taken a lead in trying to bring a halt to this savagery. We have recently opened a broad-based campaign to investigate animal experiment projects. More than 400 highly qualified professionals and other experts in biological science have volunteered to study individual experimental programs that involve animals. They are now digging into the fabric of a multi-billion dollar industry supported by tax money—that is taking an alarming toll of animal life.

FRIENDS OF ANIMALS suspects that the injury will reveal that a substantial amount of these experiments use senseless cruelties with no appreciable biological benefit. Indeed, we suspect that most are actually "pork barrel"

TO THE MASSES:
Be proud of yourselves! The Regional Blood Center just informed me that Marian College is only 18 units short of our 1978 goal which is 160 units. The best we've ever done!! We still have to make our goal though, those of you who were ineligible at the Blood Draw, go off on your own and donate a pint of your blood to help others. Those of you who gave at the Blood Draw will be able to give again Dec. 19. If you are interested contact me and we'll arrange a group time when a Blood Center is open Mon. thru Fri. from 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Sat. 8-2. Thanks for your support.

TO THE EDITORS:

Your written coverage of the Men's Intramural Championship Football Game was commendable. However, I did not realize that the Intramural News was only to glorify one aspect of Intramural Sports. You completely overlooked the fact that only an hour before the "Big Game" between LAGNAF and I AETA THL, the women also played a championship game. If you were under the impression that this game was merely a pre-game activity or warm up scrimmage before the guys' big game you were either blatantly misled or terribly misinformed. There were spectators, officials, commentary and even an introduction of the players at that game too.

I realize that Young Kurt was a substitute reporter, but wasn't it his responsibility in writing a column to highlight all of the sports news not just a play-by-play report of one segment? If nothing else he could have at least reported the scores of that game.

I hope you understand that I am writing this only in your best interests. We wouldn't want people to think you're biased, now would we?

Evelyn White

EDITORS NOTE:

Young Kurt was asked by the CARBON editors to cover the Men's game in Keith's absence.

We regret that coverage of the Women's Championship Football Game was omitted. Due to the fact that the Women's reporter was unable to report the event at the last minute and we were therefore unable to get an on-the-spot report of the game. Please accept our apologies.

projects, designed to provide a handsome income for people who have no ethical understanding of biology—the science of life itself.

The FRIENDS OF ANIMALS essay competition is part of this inquiry. Through it, we are trying to encourage American students to start developing a new ethic for life and the life sciences. We are trying to fill in that monstrous void in which "science" can destroy life in the name of life itself.

Official rules and entry blanks for the essay competition are available in the office of Student Services, Marian Hall or you may obtain them by writing to us: The Regina Bauer Frankenberg Essay Committee, Attn: James Mason, Vice President. Friends of Animals, Inc., 11 West 60th Street, New York, N.Y. 10023.

The best essay will win a first prize of $2,000, there will be three awards of second prize at $1,000, each, and six awards of third prize at $500 each.

Deadline for entries is April 30, 1979. It must be at most 5,000 words, the work of students with at least 6 hours, and striving for an academic degree.
