CARBON EDITORIAL

Perhaps some of you have heard that I am not planning to return to Marian College next semester. It's true! That means the CARBON, your favorite Friday news sheet will need a new co-editor for next semester! The CARBON can't exist without your support and contributions. The CARBON staff needs more well-written editorials; also, your art work, announcements, applauds and hisses, and confidentials are encouraged. One of our biggest problems in the past few years has been finding good typists who are willing to devote a few hours of their time each week to type the CARBON. This extra help would free up the editors time to enable them to investigate and write more news stories, editorials, and student interest items. Just think of the satisfaction you will get knowing that you can type on a complicated machine like the Composer!!

A definite need exists for more faculty and staff input to the CARBON, especially in the form of editorials and department news. These faculty/staff contributions are necessary if the CARBON is to function as a bridge for communication between faculty/staff and students.

One last thing, I have really enjoyed working on the CARBON this semester. It's been challenging, but also a lot of fun. (And I really don't stay up THAT late, M.H.!!)

I want to wish Danine and all the CARBON staff good luck! - I'll miss you!!!

Karen Davis

P.S. Contact Danine Bettice if you're interested in being co-editor!!

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT AT MARIAN COLLEGE

Christmas is a special time when some people reach out to others to extend to them the care and concern that God Our Father showed to us when He sent His son Jesus to live among us at that first Christmas. Recently as Marian there have been a number of people who are to be congratulated for doing just that - taking time to care about others. Among them are Deb Durkin, Mary Moll, and Alice Mattingly, who accepted the challenge of running the Cerebral Palsy Carnival last Sunday, and all those who sponsored booths: Student Board, the Dorm Boards, Manasa, Booster, Business and Home Ec clubs and the Campus Ministry, and Mike Bauer, Phil Kern and Roger Dall for "services rendered." Others who are showing real "Christmas spirit" are those who are helping Sister Mary Rose and Sister Barbara Ann in their project to provide food, clothes and gifts for the poor: Circle K, APO, and MCAPHER, and all of YOU who contribute the gifts and money. There is still time to spread Christmas joy this Sunday night by joining Circle K as they carol at Veteran's Hospital.

To all those mentioned above (and anyone who was accidentally overlooked), and to all of you who take time to care about the less fortunate, we say "thank you for keeping the true spirit of Christmas alive!!"

CAMPUS MINISTRY

H A L F  A S  G O O D

That is my Friend
Lying there on My bed
Holding My teddy bear
Wearing My t-shirt

That is my Friend
Over there
With closed eyes
And a well deserved snore

My Friend told me once
That she would always be there
And would always care
She told the truth, she's never lied

She said once that she was
Half as good without me
And that she needed me
SHE IS MY FRIEND

But my Friend, you're leaving me
I haven't the chance to show I care
The most I've done is Hurt you

I'm sorry, my Friend
For the bad times I've given you
I'm half as good without you
I NEED YOU

I'm too SELFISH to let you go
To leave me here ALL alone
To face the cold stares
To have no one who cares

I wish I could change time
We wouldn't be so near the end
There is so Little time left
So few precious minutes to share

I can't take being alone
You know that
But I'll stay, waiting, waiting
For your return

Remember I won't forget
I recall our dreams we've had
Separate yet together
I Love you, my Friend

I'll wait for you
You waited for me
I'll still be HERE
ONLY half as good

SEE PETER

Merry Christmas you little barnacles. Did you see "I Do, I Do?" I did it did. That was the last production of the semester, not including the cast party. Of which I'll say nothing. All I can say is, I got all my pieces off the board! Oohh well!

In case you're a remedial reader and haven't caught on, this is See Peter (or, See Kringle! - James M.)

I'm gazing into my neon light-up-in-the-dark crystal ball, with my predictions for next year:
- A major broadway musical will be performed at Marian and will be a hit.
- A children's show will be performed, with spectacular reviews. (I've already got it written!!)
- Margo will find love!
- Blair will find excitement!
- Ben will find his way back into my column.
- I will find my mind!!

The crystal has gone dark. Margo pulled the plug. Blair is resting. He was in an accident. I told him he couldn't do construction work in 5-inch stiletto heels!!

Anyway, he'll be up and around by Xmas. We're planning a simply scruptious celebration. First, we'll see the "Rocky Horror Picture Show," then a quickie (I mean a quick bite to eat.), then dance the night away. Margo, Blair, Ben (in abstinence) and I wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Toodlees, with violins and! violence....

See Peter (before, during, and after the Xmas rush! Going cheap! Cheaper by the minute!!!!)

THE MIDDLE EAST

Mohammad Hamedani

The Middle East is the region situated in southeastern Asia and northern Africa. The term “Middle East” replaces “Near East”, gaining its popularity during WW II.

The Middle East includes the following nations: Turkey (Istanbul), Turkey (Ankara), Iran (Tehran), Iraq (Bagdad), Israel (Tel Aviv - Jerusalem), Jordan (Amman), Lebanon (Beirut), Syria (Damascus), Saudi Arabia (Riyadh), Yemen (San’a), South Yemen (Aden) Oman, Qatar, Kuwait, Bahrain, Egypt, Sudan.

Because of the geographic, cultural, divergences the Middle East also includes Greece, Balkan, Cyprus, Crimen, Afghanistan, Pakistan, Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Libya, Ethiopia, Somalia.

The Land. There are six geographic regions of the Middle East include: the Nile Valley, the eastern Mediterranean, the Tigris and Euphrates Valley, The Arabian peninsula, Antolia, and the Iranian plateau. Geology. While the geology of the Middle East as a whole is both complex and sufficiently studied in detail. The most important area is the eastern wing that the great oil deposits are found.

Climate. The climate is hot located in arid zones. The People. The people of the Middle East are grouped as to four basic criteria. 1. Physical type: Mediterranean or Alpine types. 2. Language: semitic arabic, is the chief survival semitic tongue. Over 120 million persons speak arabic. Two other Semitic tongues are still used by small groups. Aramaic or Syriac is spoken by Christians and Jews. Hebrew was reintroduced as a result of Zionist settlement in the early 20th century. Despite its conquest by Arabs, Iran retained its ancient language, Persian. Persian or Persian dialects are also spoken by half of the people of Afghanistan. The rest of the people of that country speak Pushtu, a related Iranian language. A third Iranian language, Kurdish, is spoken by the Muslim Kurds. Turkish is the chief member of the Turkic family of languages. Other local tongues include Greek, Armenian, Kurdish, Laz and Mingerian. The Turks borrowed the Arabic alphabet but the government in 1928 changed to the Latin alphabet.

Religion. The Middle East is predominantly Muslim. In addition to Islam there are Jews and Christians. Middle East christian churches fall into two main categories: Eastern and Eastern Rite (Uniat) churches.

Way of Life. Man made fundamentally different ecological adjustments to the two basic geographical land types of the Middle East. Nine-tenths of the area

As part of "Students and Seniors Share Services" ("4-S"), a two year demonstration project under the auspices of the National Council on the aging (NCOA), students at Butler University, Christian Theological Seminary, Franklin College, Indiana Central University, Indiana-Purdue University at Indianapolis, Indiana Vocational Technical College, and Marian College will participate in a variety of service/learning experiences with the elderly and with agencies which serve the elderly. Students from all disciplines and major subject areas will be involved in field placements, practicums, class projects, employment and supervised volunteerism during the next two years. The local project sponsor, the Consortium for Urban Education (CUE), has received a contract for Title XX funds through the Indiana Office of Social Services and the Indiana Commission on Aging to support a day activities program for the elderly.

From among the seven local institutions, this program will employ thirty-one (31) students, seven to perform administrative functions, six to lead activities in arts and crafts, six to lead activities in humanities, six to lead activities in the performing arts and six to lead activities in physical fitness and recreation. Students will be paid $3.00 per hour for two four-hour work days per week or $24.00 per week. Tentative work schedules will be on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. An additional twenty-five (25) students are needed to volunteer to visit and engage in activities with homebound elderly for an hour and a half each week. Students must be able to commit themselves for the entire semester; and it is hoped that some will be able to continue through the summer although additional students will be recruited in the spring. The program is open to sophomores, juniors, seniors and graduate students who are full-time students and whose grade point averages are no less than a C.

The employed students will meet at least once a month with their supervisors. The administrative students will report to Gwen Galsworth, Title XX Coordinator at CUE. Activities content supervisors are Dr. Alfred Edyevean, Christian Theological Seminary, in the area of performing arts, Dr. William Detmers, Herron, in the area of arts and crafts, Dr. Erling Peterson, Indiana Central, in the humanities area, and Doreen St. Clair, Franklin, in the area of physical fitness and recreation.

Both the employed students and the volunteer students will be required to attend a series of nine two-hour Saturday morning workshop sessions throughout the semester. All students will be able to earn at least one hour of academic credit for attending these sessions and for writing a paper on the experience. Additional credit hours may also be obtained through various independent study courses on each campus.

For more information about this program, students should contact Ms. Haugh in Room 211 during the week of December 11-15 at the following times:

- Monday, December 11 9:00-10:00 a.m.
- Wednesday, December 13 9:00-11:30 a.m.
- Thursday, December 14 10:00-11:30 a.m.

I have grown in many ways this semester. Could you please send me some XX-L shirts. The kids are starting to call me the Incredible Hulk.

Your son, Greg (Smith)

Dear Dad,

The chicks are starting to chase after me again. Why, just last week 5 of them cornered me and tried to remove my clothes. Did you have this problem when you were my age?

See you at Christmas, Ronnie (Kinnaman)

Dear Mom and Dad,

Hi, how are you? I am fine. Remember my boyfriend, Tom? He just BREAKS me up! Tell you about it when I get home.

DEAR SANTA,

I just found your very kind note with your generous gift of 48 bundles, each containing 15 pennies, for the smaller children on our list. Surely you will make 48 little ones and their mothers very happy for your thoughtfulness. God will bless you.
