"LET'S

OF HERE"

THE VIEWS OF THIS PUBLICATION ARE THOSE OF THE INDIVIDUAL WRITERS
AND DO NOT NECESSARILY REFLECT THOSE OF MARIAN COLLEGE
DEAR COLONEL PILLE,

(This is Col. Pille's last semester here at Marian.)

(sob) We're going to miss you. It's with heavy heart and light fingers we type this message to you.

Col. Pille has been a boulder at Marian College community since 1966. In 1977 he made this a rather literal statement when he played St. Francis in the Fall Variety Show. He has served the College as Professor of Business for many years, has coached the Golf team for nine years, and was Dean of Students from 1968 to 1970.

Col. Pille has two daughters, Mary and Judith, who graduated from Marian and several grandchildren he's very proud of. In addition to academic concerns, he has shown the students many times, the joys and satisfactions which can be attained by loving and being loved. We're going to miss you dearly, but wish you even more happiness than you deserve!

Love,

Robert & Katie

P.S. We thought we'd let you in on what people really say behind your back.

"he's one cool guy, interested in everyone & very interesting guy to know"

"I love Col. Pille" - (ed. Note - this was quoted by the 127 women on campus we polled)

"SLICK" "KIDDO"

"Just super, works well in any area, works well with everyone he meets, a tremendous person to know. It's hard to say all the wonderful things he's done."

"great person"

"It depends on what I get in his class"

"he's a motivator"

"He's a great guy- he's great"

"He's pretty accurate when it comes to throwing baseballs in class"

"There are no words to describe him."

"He's been like my father here at Marian."

"He's terrific."

"He's the first man who ever valued my opinion."

"I'd like to hug him"

"Even when I'd lost all confidence in myself I could count on The Col. to reassure me that 'your alright kid, you've got a lot going for you', I'll never forget him."

People are like stained glass windows; they sparkle and shine when the sun is out, but when the darkness sets in, their true beauty is revealed only if there is a light from within. - Elizabeth Kubler-Ross

****************************
As we enter into these days just before Christmas, let's take time to reflect on all that is waiting within us, ready to be born anew. "Advent is the Waiting Room for love and it expresses the restless longing of the human heart to break through any barriers of fear and to come home to love. It is the discovery that God comes into our lives through the trust and sharing of other people. Advent is literally 'coming towards'. It is the season of getting out and coming home. It is a search for God that leads us back to the usual places where we travel, the faces and eyes of those who meet us along the way. Advent is the coming of God into the everydayness of our lives. It is the discovery that God continues to take flesh in the lives of people who share their laughter and their tears. It is a season for people who understand that the most cherished gift is the gift of themselves. Jesus gave to each of us the most cherished gift, the gift of himself. There are times in our lives that we need to wait for the Lord to be at home in our hearts. We need to wait for Him to come into our lives. And after we have experienced a period of waiting, we begin to realize and know that the Lord continues to take flesh in our lives. We become more and more aware of His love for us, and continue to live on in that love. We are sustained, enriched, and fed daily as He calls us to remain in His love."

The Campus Ministry wishes you a peaceful time of waiting, and a Blessed Christmas!

HOORAY FOR IRELAND

On Thursday night, December 27, The Irish Performing Arts Society will present a concert of traditional Irish music in the basement auditorium of the Meridian Street United Methodist Church at 5500 N. Meridian St. The program will include performances by folklorists Larry McCullough and Miles Krassen on traditional instruments such as fiddle, bagpipes, flute, and tin whistle. There will also be a demonstration of traditional Irish dancing, as well as popular Irish and Irish-American ballad-singing by local performer Pat Grant.

The concert at 7:30 will be preceded by a folk music workshop beginning at 6:00, conducted by Dr. McCullough. Both the concert and the workshop are free, although a $2.00 donation at the door is encouraged.

For those who might be interested and are going to be around at the time, here's an opportunity to hear some authentic Irish music. Mr. Krassen has written several books on both Appalachian music and Irish fiddling. Dr. McCullough was runner-up in the all-Ireland tin whistle competition in 1975, and also plays several other instruments including the uillean pipes. These bagpipes are a unique instrument used in traditional dance music, they are not the same kind you see in marching bands on St. Patrick's Day.

If you're interested in music in general, folkmusic in particular, or if you're Irish; come and hear. Hooray for Ireland!

For Information; call 251-1342.

CHINGA LINGA LING.......

Once again its that time of the year that brings cheer among all who are near and dear. The air is fair and the feeling of share and care is everywhere.

The Marian Choir put us in the Christmas mood last Friday, sprinkling the air with that memorable Mozart music. It indeed radiated the Christmas spirit loud and clear in sweet voices.

In another week, an eventful semester would come to an end and most of us would be gone to enjoy a Christmas vacation. Before that, there is always the hurdle.—Finals. If we do well the holidays would be brighter.—Wish you all, all the best.

Katie, the co-editor of the Carbon will be leaving us and the College, at the end of the semester. We thank Katie for the semester job well done and wish her the best in a new atmosphere. We wish continued success to the remainder of the staff next semester. It's indeed true that the Carbon is given a face lift and is more popular now. Lets keep it that way.

We wish each and every Marianite a very merry Christmas and a bright 1980!

Take it easy and drive carefully.

—Neel.

P.S. We wish the December Graduates continued Success. (Especially Don and Maxine)

TRAFFIC COMMITTEE MEETING

The last meeting of the Traffic Appeals Committee for this semester will be Tuesday December 18, at 11:30 a.m. in the faculty lounge (first floor Marian Hall).

Students wishing to appeal a ticket may file an appeal at Student Services office. Parking tickets must be appealed within ten days of receipt to be considered by the committee. (ed. note- Dean Woodman told me this is sometimes stretched, so if your ticket is 11 days old, it's still worth a try!)
