"WHEN THE FROST IS ON THE PUNKIN"

When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock,
And you hear the kyocuck and gobble of the struttin' turkey-cock;
And the cluckin' of the guineys, and the cluckin' of the hens,
And the rooster's hollyioyer as he tiptoes on the fence;
O, it's then the time a fuller is a-feelin' at his best,
With the risin' sun to groat him from a night of peaceful rest,
As he leaves the house, bardeded, and goes out to feed the stock.

When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock.

They's somethin' kinda' harty-like about the atmosphere
When the heat of summer's over and the coolin' fall is here—
Of course we miss the flowers, and the blossoms on the trees,
And the murble of the hummin'-birds and buzzin'-of the bees;
But the air's so appetizin'; and the landscape through the hore
Of a crisp and sunny mornin' of the airy autumn days,
Is a pictur' that no painter has the colorin' to neck—
When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock.

Recently we have had some complaints from James Whitecomb Riley because we neglected to publish one of the poems he submitted to us. At the time this work was submitted the editors pondered the question very carefully and decided that the theme winter and frost on the pumpkin was rather trite and since we were pressed with other commitments we decided to put its publication off for a while. Since Mr. Riley saw fit to take this matter to the U.N. committed on insignificant matters, we have condoned to grant his request, not be-
Let's Get This Straight

The activities of a group of students dedicated to inspiring and provoking Catholic Intellectual Thought have convinced us of the necessity of redefining the purpose of the CARBON, our goals as editors, and the means by which we achieve our purposes and goals. The CARBON has traditionally been a short newsheet with two primary goals: to publish Student Board news and to inform the students of coming events and news items not handled by the phoenix. In addition to this it has been customary for the editors to publish various editorials, essays, and witticisms of interest to the student body.

In recent times, the policy of accepting and printing student letters pertaining to the life of Marian or of general interest to the student body has become somewhat popular. Also we recently began to publicize each campus organization in order to describe them and encourage membership and activity. We feel that the means that we have employed speak for themselves.

Nonetheless, there has been criticism of the CARBON, its editors, and our policies. They say that we fail to meet a need. Some say that we need an organ with the purpose of publishing and provoking Catholic Intellectual Thought and that the CARBON fails to do this. They suggest that the CARBON should do this. Therefore the CARBON editors investigated this problem and discovered these facts:

1. That some of our past articles may have been of the nature to provoke Catholic Intellectual Thought.
2. That we have received virtually no article that either provoked or were Catholic Intellectual Thought.
3. We too are able to observe the need for said thoughts.
4. We may be able to publish articles of a Catholic intellectual nature.
5. That if the present size of the CARBON is insufficient, it is inexpensive to occasionally add a second page.

We therefore have made these resolutions:

1. We will write and publish more articles designed to provoke Catholic Intellectual Thought.
2. We will encourage more student contributions to the CARBON.
3. That if a significant number of suitable articles are submitted we will approach the proper authorities concerning the addition of a second page either on a bi-weekly, monthly or bi-monthly basis.
4. That any works of this nature should be neatly typewritten and of good grammatical quality.
5. That as in the past all manuscripts submitted become the sole property of the CARBON and are therefore subject to our censorship and editing are not to be expected to be returned to the contributor. M.H.

Meme to Student Body:

Most of you have recieved your patron ad slips for the Yearbook. Please get your patrons while at home and turn the money in to your Class President as soon as possible so that your class will receive its 10% cut. Thank you.

The Yearbook Staff

N. B. Professional ads include doctors

Thanks to Joann Farrell and Simon Stopka for typing this issue.