Psychedelic blue and green posters, blurt sayings of "pot" and "luv". A huge empty white scroll awai ur innermost Freudian slips. Mixed lounge cushions beckon your bod; all as the night arrives for t} Rian maid's and夜间 to let their hair down. Yes, this was the scene, last Sabbath night, as the phomore class sponsored 'the "Third World" in the Minnie Mixed Lounge. Resembling a coffee house, in a new Greenwich tradition, the "Third World" offered a place to meet friends, partake of refreshments joy entertainment and more generally, to offer an atmosphere for a genuine M.C. harmonning. The cove nge of $7.50 did not weaken the curiosity nor the turnout, for at the weak time of 9:00 P.M., the inverted lounge was just about packed. In short, the execution of the event was well done and the dience reaction well-received.

As a participant at this gayle affair this writer would like to make a few comments. I feel that the portunity for a "coffee house" at Marian is a strong one and one that should be pursued further. Such a "coffee house", sponsored at various intervals, would offer an excellent change of pace type of enter iment and recreation, offering opportunities for discussion, group singing, etc. Such entertainment oul be clean though, and should provide an area for student originality and talent, while still not cluding worthy off campus entertainment. I also feel that college "coffee house" should not be too merical or too superficial; seventy-five cents is too commercial and such ditties as "This is rijana country" and "pot" are too superficial. And for the "oldsters" some tables and chairs wouldn't a bad idea. Briefly, I see a college "coffee house" as a place to let down one's outside fronts and reate, each in his own little subjective way.

The Sophs have hit upon a new and find idea and here's hoping that they or some other interested can carry it through.

ENGLISH NEWS - PART II

Dear Marian Students,

Three basic policy declarations passed at the NSA Convention will be coming back to Marian for referendum. These areas include drugs, the draft, and Black Power.

Briefly, the legislation on drugs called for an end to government prohibition of marijauana smoking on private premises. NSA went on the record as recommending that local, state and federal governments stop all punitive and criminal approaches to the use of cannabis, a mind-altering, non-addictive drug on private premises. It was felt that these governments should re-examine their laws on hallucinogenic drugs in light of current scientific research; treat narcotic addiction as a serious health problem; and reinforce present regulations on narcotic traffic as a serious criminal threat to the welfare of the American Society.

Lengthy debates resolved that the present draft system should be abolished. The legis-

Finally, and this is the most controversial part, Black Power is the "unification of all black peoples in America for their liberation by any means necessary." GOT A MINUTE TO THINK?

Today we shall turn our attention to the interesting subject of the effects and ramifications of the war in Vietnam on the student body of our own M.C. Our interest in this area may be heightened by the somewhat discomforting fact that certain of our numbers may soon be requested to exchange cap and gown for helmet, ren and pencil for M-16.

Not that it matters much, of course, the service of one's country accounts for only several years of one's life. But on certain days on this serene campus setting, when the sun filters through the golden leaves and the waterfall is particularly quiet on Crooked Creek, it becomes vaguely difficult to imagine oneself actually wanting to blow a slant-eyed human being's brains out, or actually laying face down in mud with one's belly slit open.

On campus a person is so distantly removed from what he reads in the papers that he thinks and sneaks of the war in terms of "national honor," "fight for freedom," and "domino theory." It is only rarely between mixers and parties that one gets an opportunity to discuss the war in terms of how many limbs one could lose and yet survive, or how many friends one could see die and yet maintain one's sanity.

Not that it matters much, of course, for the fact is that many of us at M.C. may never need to worry about the service. With that college diploma one can feel fairly confident of getting a desk job or becoming an officer. But the thought may strike one when stuffed into a room in Doyle Hall with thirteen other guys at five in the morning, talking and laughing about everything under the sun, that maybe two years from now, one of them, or for that matter oneself may be thrown into the situation when he will have to "defend freedom," "make the world safe for democracy," or "kill a Commie for Christ."

SETTING THINGS STRAIGHT

Q. Why is a faculty residence hall being built and not a badly needed library?
A. Firstly, just because there is a great need for a library, does not necessarily follow that a faculty residence is of a lesser need. Next year's expansion of the nurse's training program will make necessary for the nuns to move out of Clare Hall. The women's residence hall will then be able to accommodate sixty more residents.

Secondly, the funds allocated for the faculty residence come directly from the community at Olden, they are not extracted from our tuition. It is a private concern, the Sisters of Saint Frances, are financing the new faculty residence, and not the students.

Thirdly, the library has not yet been begun for the reason that we do not yet have enough funds which would allow us to safely begin construction. It is hoped that our new board of trustees will be wise in seeking new sources of funds.

Q. Why is there no separate men's and women's lounges, anymore?
A. Because Marian is a rapidly expanding school, it has become necessary that our minor "luxuries" way to that expansion. The Psychology department was in need of laboratory space, so the men's age had to be reduced to a memory. Now, if the women's lounge were allowed to remain as such, a conflict might occur as to why the women's lounge was allowed to remain and the men's lounge was not.

In the interest of peaceful coexistence, the women's lounge, too, was eliminated.
