Twice within recent memory, the Student Association has attempted to enliven the campus with first-rate, name entertainment. First, we had the Lettermen in concert and then the Happenings. Shortly after the Letterman's performance at M.C., their music began to appear on the charts again, and the Happenings have gone on to fame and fortune as well. Even though these events all but plunged the Student Board into a pit of financial disaster, they contributed greatly to the success and prestige of the groups.

THE FACULTY CARBON PROPOSES that this worthwhile project of assisting needy performers be continued. We suggest it at this time because new Student Board officers have just been elected and the ideas that get to them first are likely to make the greatest impression.

Next year would be an ideal time to initiate this project on an annual basis, and this for two reasons: 1) The coming school year promises to be a lean one in the line of activities. The most we can look forward to in '68-'69 are twelve Doyle Hall films, six Fine Film Series films, five theatre productions, four recitals, two concerts, Parents' Day, Homecoming, a Program of Distinction, President Guzzetta's inauguration, the usual basketball and baseball games mixers, parties, and twenty-eight evenings of Marian lectures. Surely, the time is ripe to think of initiating some activity on campus; 2) A new performer has just appeared on the show business horizon who promises to make it big. But he needs our help. This young man is a trend-setter. His singing style and personality are such that you young artists everywhere are bound to be influenced by him if only he can get a proper start. He has appeared occasionally in concert and on T.V., but the financial and moral encouragement he would gain from an appearance at M.C. would do a great deal to insure his success. Of course, I am referring to Tiny Tim. Our research staff has discovered that he will appear in concert for $5,000.00. How about it, board members! Show us you have a heart.

WANT TO JOIN A GREAT SOCIETY?

Four years ago a small elite group of film buffs (names on request) asked the fatal question: Will Marian College students attend six films on campus each year? In view of the decline of celluloid which has engulfed the campus in the past year, that was a timid question. But, timid or daring, the question was the beginning of the First Fine Film Series. During these four years of bringing quality films to campus, the Film Committee (sometimes known as the English Department) also sponsored a workshop, cooperated with the founders of the CTS Series, planned the now diminishing coffee hours and found new uses for these films as class related projects. Now it seems time to create (continued page 3)
Coach Vilis Donis' metters broke the ice for their initial victory of the season as they downed Villa Madonna last Sunday with a 7-0 whitewash. For the Knights, Dan Eha continued his winning ways by downing his man while Joe Lustig, Steve Stafford, Rich Keush and Joe Mellen scored victories in their singles matches also. Marian's doubles teams were also victorious as the Eha-Lustig and Stafford-Keush combos polished off their V.M. counterparts.

Last Friday the shoe was on the other foot (oh, did I say that?) Well, Butler tacked a 7-0 whitewash on the Marianites at Butler. Dan Eha and Rich Keush extended their men to two sets before bowing out.

Last Tuesday Indiana Central's netmen dropped Marian's racket-swingers by a 5-2 count on the Marian courts. Joe Mellen was the only Marian singles winner as he beat his man 6-2,3-6,6-3 while the Stafford-Keush doubles combo took a forfeit victory over the #2 I.C. team.

Saturday the netters trek to the Bluegrass State to restet Villa Madonna and then travel to Rose Poly on Tuesday. Wednesday Butler's racketeers give the Marianites another chance but the home courts will favor M.C. (Right guys!!)

Baseball
Coach John Harkins' diamondmen finished the week past with an even season mark of 7-7. Manchester invaded the lake-side diamond Tuesday evening and emerged a 10-7 victor. Larry Brodnick continued his torrid pace at the plate as he cracked 3 singles and 3 home runs in 3 matches this past week.

Manchester invaded the lake-side diamond Tuesday evening and emerged a 10-7 victor. Larry Brodnick continued his torrid pace at the plate as he cracked 3 singles and 3 home runs in 3 matches this past week.

Tom Knoll went on a hit-inning and had 3 singles in 3 official appearances. Larry Hornbach and Lou Federle collected two singles and Chris Burkhardt crashed the fence for his lone hit. Aaron Goldsmith absorbed the loss in relief as Manchester outhit the Knights 15-11.

Marian and Franklin split a doubleheader on Wednesday as Franklin took the first one 5-4 with M.C. coming back to take the second by a 10-2 count. In the first tilt, Franklin picked up their 5 runs in the second inning and held off a late M.C. rally to walk off with the verdict. Kelvin Wilhelm lashed 3 singles, Larry Brodnick showed heretofore unknown muscle as he lashed a home run, Tom Knoll crashed a long triple and Chris Burkhardt banged a two-bagger. Larry Hornbach stroked a single for the only other Marian hit.

In the second game the Knights went on a hitting spree as Larry Brodnick and Larry Hornbach continued their fine hitting - Brod stroking 2 singles and Horry lashing a triple and single Dave Robbins also stroked a triple and single while winning pitcher Jack Adams and Chris Burkhardt crashed a triple each. Steve Taylor had a fine day at the plate as he lashed a double and 2 singles.

Saturday the Knights tangle with Anderson at Anderson and then have a return tilt with Villa Madonna at V.M. on Sunday. Wednesday finds Marian hoisting I.C.'s Greyhounds at Riverside under the lights.

The stimulus for the writing of this essay comes from the awful view of the front lawn and other related vandalism. As anyone can see, the green has been horribly ripped. To what purpose? A sewer. How? Just. Of course, no one would deny that it is fitting for such obscene pieces of rolled concrete be put beneath ground, as I think dogs similarly bury bones, at least partially for aesthetic reasons. The sewer was indispensable. More's the pity. From the size of the maw and the damage already done to the trees, the injury may be irreparable. In any case, the scar will not heal this summer.

Much more serious than the sewer trench, because permanent, are other matters. I refer to the buildings which have been razed by the college. We must distinguish here. The Allison building, the Stokely mansion, the Park School buildings were simply inherited. While neither the Allison nor Stokely places could be considered even good architecture, being more remembered for money outlay than taste, they were well built with lavish attention to detail and have their own personalities. The Park Buildings being both ugly and decrepit, in time will be razed. The college had no responsibility for them.

That dodge cannot apply to the remainder: the Administration Building, the two dormitories, and the new faculty residence, the latter now the Smoke mansion, the Park School buildings being both ugly and decrepit, in time will be razed. The college had no responsibility for them.

If criticism must have a constructive purpose, let it be this: Let the college build no more ugly buildings. In a day when blight is heedlessly scattered; it is especially important that the college, the natural defender of human values, not participate. Rather, let the college dedicate itself to a higher standard than heretofore.

GETTING THINGS ALL MIXED UP

Q. What is the principle by which the Sakitumi works?
A. Basically, it is built upon the unifying operation of Brighten’s law: “All objects with smooth discs affixed to floating chassis, roll.” The Sakitumi engineers were ingenious in applying a second simple principle of mechanics: “Petrol ignited produces heat, light and speed” to the concept of the Sakitumi, thus producing the fastest machine the Speedway has seen. Shanks a. will probably get the pole position.

--Arthur J. Schultz

Q. Why did I win the television set?
A. For two reasons: 1) for faithful performance as a researcher in esoteric and abstruse facts buried in the secret and mysterious bibliographical indices of medieval manuscripts and ancient, dusty tomes; and 2) for putting a question mark at the end of every statement of recorded history and ferreting out the obvious answer, I was awarded a book tube. Also, I bought a chance.

-- Dennis Kucer

Q. To what do you attribute the neat, fashionable, clean and dignified appearance of the students in the cafeteria?
A. There is no doubt about it; the discretion of students has dictated these improvements. Personally, I think bare feet enhance the intellectual atmosphere and beauty of campus. Feet are prettier than shoes. The infinite variety of cut-offs and raggedy shorts unquestionably attest to the students’ being more original and creative than sports clothes designers. Of course, you realize that some students aren’t shaving or using soap in protest against the B&O Soap Company’s policy of manufacturing buckles for Marine uniforms. All in all, I would say the dignity of campus has been heightened by these changes.

-- Tom Turner

Q. Why does grass grow up?
A. As seems perfectly obvious to grass blades, all living things grow up. With the exception of some which grow down. Some other things grow to the side; others grow to the side, left. It all depends on your point of view.

-- A.G. Blade

Q. Why don’t the students teach the classes at Marian College?
A. Students rarely show up for classes, so it was thought best to have the instructors do the lectures.

-- Sister Mary Karen

Q. What are deans good for anyway?
A. Not much.

-- Miss Diver

NOTE: “Getting Things All Mixed Up” will appear as a regular feature answering questions from people over 30 and under 30. The main purpose of the column will be to add to the confusion on campus and to scramble up comments and facts lest they become too clear and well-known. The column can be useful only so long as your cooperation and interest sustains the meaningful dialogue between this reporter, students, fence posts, faculty and brick walls. Answers which will be matched to the appropriate questions, may be tossed from the fourth floor, north wing of the new Faculty Residence. Questions, which need not be relevant, may be deposited in the large earth depository in front of the Chaplain’s Residence. This reporter hereby renounces all credibility and disclaims any responsibility for quotations made.

AYE TO JOIN A GREAT SOCIETY (CONTINUED)

come more sophisticated opportunities for campus in europics and a Film Society could fill this need. Besides continuing the film series, a new society could provide opportunities to view experimental films, sponsor study groups on history and techniques of film-making, sponsor rips to film festivals (well, we won’t make inanes next year, but we might try Chicago) and also serve as a base of operations for campus film makers. These are only suggestions; the final choice of activities would depend on the interests of the group. This society welcomes all students who are interested in films at home.

-- come to an organizational meeting, Monday, May 30 at 1:30 pm in Room 206. Tentative dates for a film series have been chosen; come and help choose the titles. If you would like to do but can’t make it Monday, leave your name on my desk.

Sports (CONTINUED)

Tuesday, the Knights dropped both ends of a triangular with Butler and I.C. Indiana Central dropped our fuffers 11½ - 6½ while Butler emerged victorious with a 10½ - 4½ verdict. Kamlanc’s 71 was the medal-winning effort of the day. Finally, on Wednesday Rose Poly and Marian sliced, hooked, and duffed to a 9-9 tie. Kamlanc again took the medal with his 73 score.

The next golf match is today with Indiana Central, there, Tuesday the Knights take on Southern Kentucky and Franklin in a triangular

Track

The only date for Coach Larry Bridges’ speedsters is the Little State meet at DePauw on Saturday. The B160 relay team will be trying to overcome the problem which has plagued them as of late. Randy Stahley will run, competing in the broad jump also. Then on Tuesday, the Knights go to Hanover for a rare dual meet.

To the Editor:

As a graduating senior, I declined to exercise my privilege to vote in this week's Student Board elections, although I was indeed urged to do so. The fact that seniors are allowed to vote for officers who will represent the student body after these seniors have graduated, is an injustice to the student body. The usual reason given for this strange procedure is that seniors should have a more comprehensive knowledge of the needs of the student body than other students and that therefore their ballots should be characterized by some degree of wisdom. This is probably true: after four years one should know more about the needs of the student body than students with lesser experience. But the fact remains that seniors are allowed to vote for candidates who will not represent them; who will represent the student body. In the event of close contest, should the senior vote prove decisive, in my opinion the candidates and the student body would be done a gross injustice. I should like to suggest that the next Student Board reevaluate and perhaps change this procedure.

To the Editor:

Having watched the field day mayhem of powder-puff football last Wednesday and having counted the injuries resulting, we wish to protest vehemently the inclusion of this particular "sport" in any future field day. Any "game" that results in sending three people to St. Vincents and in leaving many more limping has no place on our campus. The total injuries for one afternoon outweighs those incurred in a whole season of intramural football last fall.

The strangest thing is that this is a duplication of last year's sadistic "game". Our protest was not registered before field day because we had the ridiculous notion that some rules might be enforced and this might be an enjoyable sport. Instead, we saw no equipment, no rules, and no holds barred.

We have had enough. Powder-puff football included in another field day means only more injuries and a sadistic Booster Club to encourage it.

Sincerely,
