11-4-1968

The Carbon (November 4, 1968)

Marian University - Indianapolis

Follow this and additional works at: http://mushare.marian.edu/crbn

Recommended Citation
http://mushare.marian.edu/crbn/820

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Campus Newspaper Collection at MUShare. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Carbon by an authorized administrator of MUShare. For more information, please contact emandity@marian.edu.
NO JOK(E)

As the big day on the political scene rolls tomorrow, the climax of over a year of campaigning, speech making and smoke-filled discussing, many voters are questioning whether even to go to the polls—after all, the choice is near, it might be raining or the fish might be biting. Well, no b.s. from here about get out and vote. In fact, stay home unless you intend to vote reasonably. The CARBON has pulled out a straight ticket lever, not voting for Italians, voting only for low names, etc. If you are going to vote you should have a valid reason for nulling down each one of those levers, for each one of those levers represents the fate of an individual, qualified or not, sincere or power-hungry but nevertheless working hard for election. Vote reasonably. Vote sincere.

For U.S. Senator:

For U.S. Senator, I will go non-enthusiastically with Bayh because I am enthusiastically against Ruckelshaus. Bayh has definitely ruled some bad ones but, in the same vein, his political career has many bright spots. He is increasingly talking more and more against the war, although politically, and he did vote in favor of the minority plank at Chicago. I'll take Rock for Governor over Whitcomb, mainly favoring the democratic administration in Indiana as well as I feel, the better qualified Rock. Between Hill and Jacobs for U.S. Representative to (our) eleventh district—no hesitation—Jacobs all the way. Hill sneaks like a potential American Independent Party candidate at times and when cut on the spot comes up with some poor answers to some very important questions. Jacobs has two terms of experience, a sharp political mind, tempered with a very pragmatic insight. The impression he made on campus, when he was here, was striking. Jacobs all the way.

These are all the candidates I can reasonably sneak on. Others to note our own M.C. graduates running for the state legislature, Republican Dave Allison and Democrat John Day; Democrat Thomas J. Murphy, part-time M.C. teacher, and Republican John N. Ryan, both vying for State Senate positions and Democrat John J. Dillon, Board of Trustees member, attempting re-election as attorney general.

Here it is. Go to it tomorrow.

For Presidential Electors:

Republican—Nixon and Agnew
Democrat—Humphrey and Muskie
Wallace—Wallace and S. Marvin Griffin(sic)
Prohibition—E. Harold Munn, Sr., and Rolland E. Fisher
Socialist-Worker—Fred Halstead and Paul Boutelle

For U.S. Senator:

Republican—William Ruckelshaus
Democrat—Birch Bayh
Prohibition—L. Earl Malcom

The Candidates (on the Indiana ballot)

U.S. Senator (cont.)

Socialist-Worker—Ralph Levitt

For Governor:

Republican—Edgar D. Whitcomb
Democrat—Robert Rock
Prohibition—Kelvin E. Hawk

For Lieutenant-Governor:

Republican—Richard E. Folz
Democrat—James W. Beaty
Prohibition—James G. Harkless

(cont. pg. 2 column 1)
Tricky Dick and a Look at the Economy

The most powerful control that any government has over a society is control over the economic system. It is for this reason that it is of utmost importance to examine the economic politics of one Richard M. Nixon.

Under a Nixon Administration Americans can anticipate lower taxes with more unemployment and less power for unions to protect the rights of the workers.

Nixon is in favor of a tax cut and a reduction in government spending in order to curb inflation. Certainly, Mr. Nixon is aware of the fact that a low rate of inflation is accompanied by a high unemployment rate. In 1954, '55 and '59 the Republican administration managed to keep the inflation rate at a respectable 1.9% but unemployment averaged 5.7% for Nixon calls for slowing down the price rise and at the same time states that he will find jobs for the unemployed and encourage businessmen to train the unemployed. Who is Mr. Nixon trying to kid? When the unemployment rate is above 4% there are plenty of men willing and able to work--those that need training won't have a chance to do anything but riot for another four years.

Under Nixon the Labor Department will appear to be the Business Department. The Nixon administration will mouth platitudes concerning the need for people to help themselves, but at the same time work to cut law strikes by underpaid state employees. It is ironic that a dresser like Nixon can accomplish his dream and then remove the necessary tools which the laborer needs to help himself. If this is what the American people want then Nixon is indeed the one.

The Candidates (cont. from pg. 1)

For Secretary of State:
Republican-William N. Salin
Democrat-Stephen W. Crider
Prohibition-Glen Deckard

For Auditor of State:
Rep.-Trudy Slaby Etherton
Dem.-Betty Shoek
Prohib.-A. Terry Crall

For Treasurer of State:
Rep.-John K. Snyder
Dem.-Eugene M. Briner
Prohib.-A.J. Youmans

For Attorney General:
Rep.-Theodore L. Sendak
Dem.-John J. Dillon

For Superintendent of Public Instruction:
Rep.-Richard D. Wells
Dem.-Hearle R. Donica
Prohib.-Martha Shelley

For Reporter of the Supreme and Appellate Courts:
Rep.-Marion Wertzler
Dem.-Helen Corey
Prohib.-W. Kendrick Griffin

For Judge of the Supreme Court First District:
Rep.-Norman F. Arterburn
Dem.-Addison M. Beavers
Re.-Richard M. Givan
Dem.-Thomas J. Faulconer

For Judge of the Appellate Court First District(2):
Rep.-Joe W. Lowdermilk, Jonathan J. Robertson
Dem.-Patrick D. Sullivan, Harry L. Zerbe

Political Arena '68

Once upon a time there was a big forum and a lot of people had the right to come (seeing as they had dispensed with poll tax in some areas); but the fact is not enough came. Why? Well, because they might be called aesthetic--at least that's what Joe College would call them. And then again the choice at the big ol' voting forum didn't interest everyone--though no one could deny there was diversity.

There were some who was ashamed of his running mate refused to debate, lived in past "glory" and rallied the conservatives to his side; there was a Southern type with a quaint drawl and frankness that sometimes even shook his pisto-packin' general running mate and then there was another gentleman whose legisliative career was dimmed by his often nominal task of Vice-President and who wanted to debate his opponents so badly it cut right into his ever-lovin' Minnesota heart.

But some people stopped with this list and wouldn't vote 'cause none of these men suited them. Fact was that there were all sorts of categories from Peace candidates to Socialist-Workers Party to Communists to Prohibitionists, why even to Dick Gregory and to... (even write-ins in some fair states).

But you see some people didn't look hard enough for their candidates and they weren't happy with the results but since they didn't vote at all they could have no complaints. But then again maybe they were too busy to go to the democratic forum and assert their rights--but I wonder what they were so busy about...

Letters to the Editor

Students of Marian College:
In a free society there is free expression of opinion. Our country is the last great stronghold of this freedom. As a college in our society we should epitomize and respect this basic freedom of expression.

Indeed, it is hard for me to believe that in an institution such as ours where this freedom should be at its greatest, that it is, in actuality, abused by some so that it is non-existent for others. I am speaking about the fact that many campaign posters, both for our own freshman elections and for the upcoming National elections, and posters for social events have been stolen, destroyed, or defaced.

I would ask everyone here at Marian to become open-minded enough to allow others the chance to express themselves.

Sincerely,
Paul Kazmierzak

The Candidates (cont.)

For Judge of the Appellate Court Third District:
Rep.-Geo. B. Hoffman, Jr., Allen Sharp (2)
Dem.-Frederick T. Work, Alan E. Yergin

For Representative in Congress 11th District:
Rep.-W.W. Hill Jr.
Dem.-Andrew Jacobs, Jr.

For a list of the remaining candidates please consult the sample ballot hanging on the Perc wall.