The

CARBON

Subscriptions to the Yearbook will not be accepted after today. No Yearbooks will be sold in the fall. Unless you have a subscription, you will not get an annual. This is not an idle threat to promote sales. Those working on the staff of the annual have planned it this way in order to be sure they have money when they need it. Remember, we can't put a book out with good wishes. It takes a lot of that long green stuff!

The staff realizes, however, that you all may not have the $2.50 down payment with you today and you may have no way of getting it before the day is over. You can make special arrangements to have a subscription held for you until Friday. See Alice Bonvillain, Marilyn Beck, Gene Hungate or any member of the Business Staff. Also, there will be a Yearbook meeting today, at 3:30 p.m. in the Physics Lab.

Call to Arms!!!

This is a good time to show whether or not you're interested in the activities of the school. Every class is meeting Friday to elect the finalists for Sweetheart's Ball King and Queen. YOU are entitled to vote, so there should be a tremendous turn-out. Here is a list of the candidates in each class.

	King	Queen
Seniors:	Larry Kyle Dan McCarthy	Peg Darnell Sue Eckstein
Juniors:	Ronnie Bennett Don DeHart	Sara Stroud Mary Ann Wolf
Sophomores:	Bill Murphy Packy Cunningham	Nancy Zore Sally Coughlin
Freshmen:	Jim Schott Dave Gaven	Judy Larson Kay Warren

Orchids to our basketball team. They've earned themselves and the school some good publicity and are holding a 6-6 record we're justly proud of. Did you feel the pat on the back Marian's cheering section received from the local papers? To all of you who have turned the eyes of the press on the school because of your school spirit - to the team and their cheering section - nice going.

Get set for the College Retreat. No one - but no one - is excused unless he has already made a private one. Non Catholics are cordially invited.

R TO THE EDITOR ...

Two volumes of a $300 set of AMERICANA ENCYCLOPEDIA have been missing from our Library for several weeks. They cannot be replaced singly. The Library has to buy another whole set. Word is that every effort is going to be made to find the books and discipline the culprit.

Have you heard of the big blood drive? This is a call to all of Marian's healthy generous students to come to the relief of hospitalized veterans and the poor in hospitals, by donating a pint of blood. Donors must be 18 yr. old and weigh 110 lbs. If not 21 yr. old, parent's permission is necessary. Please sign now for the big drive to take place on campus, in Biology.dept. or give your name to:

Dave McGlinchy Sue Shumate
Connie Wolf Mary A. St. Clair
M. Evelyn Carter

Call for permission blanks in Biology Dept.

Last Sunday's Intramural games were among the best this season. The Lakers are out front with a 4-1 lead.

The Pistons knew that all was lost Sunday when Johnson and Brady finally came forward to score. How can the Lakers lose with such material?

THE JAPANESE HOLIDAY DANCE will be sponsored by the CSMC next Friday night. Report to the Lounge at 8:30 with your kimono and Oriental fan. Proceeds from this dance are to go for the Japanese Bible-Translation.

The issue of the CARBON, dated Dec. 17, strove, in part, to condone or at least justify the attack made by the previous issue; however, I believe that the "justification" only caused the dispute to be put in a less serious light. Every intelligent student realizes that the CARBON is the voice of the student and as such is worthwhile. He recognizes the fact that controversial items will necessarily be brought up once in a while and the CARBON serves a vital role in expressing the view of the intelligent student.

Everyone likes a good, and I repeat, a good fight, but the one expressed in the CARBON, though it stimulated controversy, did not have the basis of a good fight. Anyone with an ounce of sense would know that the attack presented was entirely without foundation and did not deserve the worthy reply it received. Since it stopped said games, etc. but did any good come from this? If it takes an ill-founded argument like the one presented to cause intellectual stimulation, it just goes to show what a sorry state we students of Marian College are in. I agree that school spirit is sadly lacking here among some students, but no "argument" such as that expressed is going to jerk these students from their apathy.

If the leaders keep stressing class-consciousness, I'm afraid that the higher goal of school spirit is going to be sacrificed for a momentary and petty satisfaction of seeing one's class beat the rest.

In conclusion, I don't think that the CARBON should back up one inch for the attack, weak as it was. I'm for some good arguments that will break up card games.
