Day Students Involved?

"Day Student involvement in student government - Fact or Fantasy?," reads a poster advertising the nominations and elections of day student reps to Student Board. This quandary seems to be a valid one on our campus.

Approximately one third of the Marian College student population consists of day students. And yet the proportion of day student/resident student involvement in student government and social activity is ridiculously unproportional. Student Board this year had only one day student from a membership of fifteen, with the actual day student position having been vacant for a significant part of the year. Class organi-

Faculty Council has displayed concern for this dilemma in discussions concerning the student in relation to college government.

Student Board has also pondered the situation. Action was taken to add another day student position to the make-up of the Student Board membership. This was done to equalize non-resident representation with resident representation and in hopes that day student interest and opinion would become more prevalent in the Marian College community. Obviously this hope was not realized, because only two students nominated themselves.

A SAC Facilities Club, comprised mainly of day students, is presently organizing and working on various projects in the SAC building. This appears to be the first commuting student organization that has persisted. This club could prove to be a valuable and practical asset to Fixing the blame for the present day student/resident student "unhappiness" on any specific group is asinine now; alleviating the uncertainty and discontent that swallows the concept of the day student is the important thing. Initiative and action on the part of all facets of the Marian population is the only way to establish the "fact of the day student involvement" and quash the fantasies involved.

Voting will take place next Wednesday, April 26 from 8:30 to 4:30 p.m. in front of the MH Auditorium.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Marian College administrators, Breakfast 7:20-9:00 and Saga Food Service Director and District Manager centered around new concepts to help Lunch the college's food service better meet the needs of students living Dinner in the residence halls. Class scheduling, extra-curricular activities, off-campus work hours, have caused students to miss meals. It was believed that more students than realized have similar conflicts and that alternatives have to be provided. It was also recognized that any changes made could not cause an increase in the semester board cost, if at all possible. All of the factors and various alternatives were considered and it was agreed that extending meal hours, plus adding a continental breakfast hour could be accomplished without an increase in the board cost and greatly reduct the possibility of any students not having the opportunity of eating three meals a day.

With the introduction of new hours and services it will be necessary to establish the dining room as a closed dining room. Only those students eligible for board meals and those paying at the cafeteria entrance will be admitted. There will be no ala carte service at lunce and a set price will be charged for each

KATHY GIESTING AND AGNES BACALA

Two Marian sophomore students, Agnes Bacala and Kathy Giesting, have been appointed as co-editors for the 1972-73 Phoenix. These journalists will undergo a training period until May 1, when they will take over and edit the last two issues of this year.

Agnes Bacala, who has worked on the Phoenix staff for 2 years, is sophomore class secretary and a member of Booster Club. In high school, this English major was editor of her high school newspaper. Highly involved at Scottsburg High School, Agnes was in National Honor Society and named an Outstanding Teenager of America for service, leadership, and academics.

Kathy Giesting, who graduated from the Academy of the Immaculate Conception, also accomplished a list of high school honors. She was an assistant editor of the school newspaper and business manager of the yearbook. Valedictorian of her graduating class, Kathy, too was a member of National Honor Society; she was listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students and received the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award. Kathy has worked on the Phoenix staff this year.

Sr. Frances Bosse, faculty advisor for the Phoenix, commented about the new co-editors, "I think both Kathy and Agnes are capable persons and I look forward to working with them next year on the Phoenix."

GOLFERS TAKE 2

The Marian College linksmen, loaded with experience and under the guidance of head coach Roy Pille, started the season off on the right foot with a pair of victories over Fort Benjamin Harrison and Thomas Moore.

After shooting down the armed forces by a single stroke on Tuesday, the Marian turf crunchers upped their season mark to an impressive 2-0 when the Thomas Moore duffers were unable to field a team to face the powerful Knights.

Student athlete Mike Pacheco was medalist for the good guys as he toured the course with a blazing 76. Mike "Pretty Boy" Isben and Tom "Shank" Blank rode their hot putting to finish with 78s and surprising Joe Kuzmitz scrambled into the clubhouse with a strong 79.

Tom Ewald, of hole in one fame, came in at 84 to edge the tying Steve Hammerle and "Dazzling" Al Dorko, better known for their setting the trend in golf attire. Steve and Al coasted in at 87. Dick "Birdie" Buergler rounded out the Marian squad with a 98.

BASEBALL TEAM STREAKS TO 11-2 MARK

Rather than bore you with adjectives describing how great Coach Lynn Morrell's baseball team is, I'll get right to the facts.

The facts are very astounding. Sporting an Il-2 won loss mark, the Knights only defeats were by one run. And even more remarkable is the fact that in the stolen base department, the blue and gold are 26 for 26. This mark is indicative of the level of perfection at which Marian's big blue machine has been operating during the past few weeks. MARIAN 5

FRANKLIN 3

Marian wiped out a 1-0 deficit in the third when Norman singled, Armbrecht walked, and Rich Gaeither belted a long triple. Mike Brunette helped his own cause with a single to make it 3-1.

In the fifth inning, Jongleaux walked, stole second, went to third on Armbrecht's single, and scored on Pawlik's sacrifice fly to make it 4-1. Franklin scored twice, but the Knights plated an insurance tally on a walk to Unser, a stolen base, a fly ball, and an attempted pickoff attempt.
