To the Marian Community:

Well, with Spring Break a thing of the past, its time to start thinking about the Care-a-thon. I'm sure a lot of people know nothing about Care-a-thon, the annual fund-raising project the proceeds of which go to the Kenny Rogers Scholarship Fund. Kenny was a Marian College student who graduated in 1970. This scholarship was begun in his name to provide an opportunity for other black, underprivileged persons to attend college.

The Care-a-thon this year is on the calendar for Wed., April 13 through Friday April 15 in the Perc. Its always a good time as well as a good cause so plan on stopping in for a few hours.

The entertainment is largely provided by faculty and students doing whatever it is that they do best. We are looking for interested persons to sing, dance, act as disc jockey, put on skits etc. So, if you'd like to help out, or if all you want is a stage to stand on while you ham it up, please contact either Mary Wilhelm (ext. 519) or Paula Dwyer (ext. 518).

See you at the Care-a-thon. Watch for further developments.

To the masses:

In view of the coming of Spring, we feel there is a need to take notice of the conditions of the campus grounds. Since Marian claims to be a park like campus, why don't we attempt to make it look like one. We suggest one day be set aside in the near future to "restore" Marian College to it's former state. On this day, we propose that classes be cancelled and students and faculty be invited and encouraged to take part in a general restoration of our surroundings. To mention a few sites of needed repair: weeding between the bricks, cleaning and/or painting the statues, raking leaves from between the bushes, collecting litter from the grounds, trimming around walls, buildings, fences and countless other tasks. We think that schoolwide participation would instill a sense of pride and belonging in all involved. Along with the noticeable improvement in the overall appearance of our campus, this would enable students and others interested to release some of their stored energy from a long, cold winter.

All candidates running for elected offices in student board, classes, or clubs/organizations need to stop by Student Services and ask for the Candidate Certification form. This form needs to be signed by the Registrar, current Student Board President, and Dean of Student Services. This ensures that criteria established in the Student Handbook (pp. 38-39) and the Constitution of the Student Association (Article IV, Section 2) are met. It is a relatively quick process and quite painless.

In the not too distant past, there was a national meeting of Liberal Arts Colleges hosted by a small school in California. The Marian contingent that attended this seminar included President Gatto, Col. Wagner, Dean Woodman, Sister Florence Marie, Fr. Coffin and one undergraduate student. The flight out and the meeting went just fine, but the group encountered some difficulty on the return trip. While flying over Illinois, the small Cessna which they were in developed engine trouble, and it became obvious they were going to have to jump. A quick evaluation of the equipment on board revealed only five chutes, and there were six passengers. Taking the initiative, President Gatto said, "Well, since I'm President of the College and so integrally involved in its operations, I feel I should take a chute." With that, he strapped one on and jumped. Col. Wagner followed this example saying, "I control the funds of the College, and without me it would soon go broke." Sister was next to jump, justifying her taking of a chute by saying, "Without me, the caf would be overcome by smokers in the non-smoking section." Dean Woodman jumped next, his last remarks being, "I deserve a chute simply because I'm the smartest man on campus." Well, that left one chute and two people. Fr. Coffin turned to the young student and said, "I've lived a full and useful life, while you have only just begun yours. You take the last chute." The student turned to Father Coffin and smilingly said, "That's O.K. Father, there are still two chutes left. The smartest man on campus just jumped with my backpack."

INTRAMURALS

SALE ON ITALIAN TIRES:

dago thru da snow,
dago thru da rain,
dago thru da sleet,
dago thru da mud,
and when they go flat,
they go WOP, WOP, WOP

Look out for cheap Polish imitations!

The students have to fight for years to change a policy around here, and then suddenly overnight, somebody changes the room lottery system. If that somebody can do it, why not us?

Carbon Applauds:

- A Carbon Finally
- Senioritis... lets get the hell out
- Olga's big decision (even if it is a mistake!!)
- Laura... for sticking to her diet
- McGuire's new toy

Carbon Hisses:

- Sister Florence Marie - students are allowed to laugh in the caf
- lack of good weather
